Stendhal and the Arts Stendhal,1973      Stendhal and the Arts. Selected & Edited by David Wakefield ,1973

Stendhal and the Arts. Selected & Edited by David Wakefield Stendhal,1973      Stendhal and the Visual Arts Jack David Johnson,1995      French Literature and the Arts ,2024-10-07      The Impact of Art on French Literature Helen Osterman Borowitz,1985 This book traces a direct line of tradition that unites the French précieux novel Romantic and Symbolist literature and Proust's novel cycle      Representing Belief Michael Paul Driskel,2010-11-01 Representing Belief provides a detailed discussion and analysis of the forms and meanings in religious art of nineteenth century France This genre usually assigned minimal importance by writers on the period turns out to occupy a central place in the cultural history of the era touching the core of the century's conflict between tradition and modernity science and faith ultramontanist and naturalism Although it was generally assumed that this kind of art was of little importance in the evolution of modern painting Driskel demonstrates that in reality it played a crucial role Many of the artists discussed are firmly installed in the present canon Delacroix Ingres Manet Gauguin while others Flandrin Orsel Gleyre Cazin were major figures in their own time though largely forgotten today Writing from an interdisciplinary perspective and employing concepts derived from structuralist and poststructuralist theory Driskel moves beyond simple formalism to restore a category of once important works to a meaningful context thereby offering others a model by which to discuss and interpret these paintings Carefully charting the genealogies of hieraticism and naturalism he demonstrates that a dramatic shift occurred in the 1860s and 1870s as naturalism gained acceptance among ultramontanists and the hieratic mode began to attract the interest of adherents to the belief system of modernism Representing Belief is the first book to situate this art in its social and historical contexts and to approach it from this point of view      Art and Monist Philosophy in Nineteenth Century France From Auteuil to Giverny Nina Athanassoglou-Kallmyer,2023-09-25 This is a study of the relation between the fine arts and philosophy in France from the aftermath of the 1789 revolution to the end of the nineteenth century when a philosophy of being called monism the concept of a unity of matter and spirit emerged and became increasingly popular among intellectuals artists and scientists Nina Athanassoglou Kallmyer traces the evolution and impact of this monist thought and its various permutations as a transformative force on certain aspects of French art and culture from Romanticism to Impressionism and as a theoretical backdrop that paved the way to as yet unexplored aspects of a modernist aesthetic Chapters concentrate on three major artists Th odore G ricault 1791 1824 Eug ne Delacroix 1798 1863 and Claude Monet 1840 1926 and their particular approach to and interpretation of this unitarian concept The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history philosophy and cultural history      Stendhal's Parallel Lives Francesco Manzini,2004 This book deals with the important and hitherto neglected relationship between the works of Stendhal and Plutarch's Parallel Lives Stendhal's readings of Plutarch are shown to inform his literary representations of Revolution and Empire Restoration and Orleanism as well as his theorizations of Romanticism In particular the Plutarchan concept of Parallel Lives is used to analyse one of the major themes of Stendhal's writing the self construction of individual identity whether auto biographical or fictional by means of the emulation as distinct from the imitation of heroic exemplars As a consequence the balance between irony and idealism often identified by critics in Stendhal's work is shown rather to be an imbalance weighted in favour of an idealism derived from Plutarchan conceptions of heroism particularly as they are represented in the Lives of Julius Caesar and Marcus Brutus

Women Art Critics in Nineteenth-Century France Wendelin Guentner, 2013-03-14 Over the past years studies have begun not only to identify the factors that impeded the full participation of women artists in French cultural life such as women's limited access to professional art education but also to bring to light the considerable artistic accomplishments of women occluded by historians for over a century A similar effort at historical revision has been under way for French women writers Works of fiction that enjoyed many editions in the nineteenth century receded from our field of vision for almost a century before being rediscovered and reissued during the last decades of the twentieth century Such efforts have resulted in scholarship that has helped revise the history of both artistic and literary expression in nineteenth century France Similarly many women in nineteenth century France had their art criticism published both in journal reviews and in book form often for decades in a number of the most influential venues of their day However it is perplexing that they remain almost totally invisible in histories of French culture Women Art Critics in Nineteenth Century France Vanishing Acts is the first sustained effort to bring these prolific and influential critics out from the shadows Although each of the chapters in this volume results from an interdisciplinary approach the fact that they are written by scholars in art history and in literature means that there will be inevitable differences in approach and methodology Thus we study the women's reception of specific artworks and aesthetic movements discuss intersections of aesthetics and politics in their essays and the literary styles and rhetorical strategies of individual critics explore the social conditions that allowed or impeded their successes and suggest reasons for their all but disappearance in the twentieth century In bringing to light for twenty first century readers the vanished writings of heretofore unrecognized or underrecognized women art critics the authors hope to contribute to the ongoing revision of women's role in cultural history The multifaceted approaches to word image studies modeled in this book and the many avenues for further research it identifies will inspire scholars in a number of disciplines to continue the work of reinscribing women in the history of cultural life

Immersion in the Visual Arts and Media, 2015-10-27 Taking an interdisciplinary approach this volume brings together contributions by distinguished experts from different disciplinary fields for a multidimensional view on immersion in the visual arts and media In the current media debate immersion has frequently been linked to the advent of digital technology and its capacity to provide vivid sensations of being placed in or surrounded by an artificial space The idea of liquidity contained in this promise to plunge into another world informs wide areas of contemporary cultural imagination referring to a myriad of phenomena that relate to experiences of uncertainty and instability of complexity and change Considering the fact however that the idea of liquid spaces appeared long before the digital creation of augmented or virtual environments the contributors to this volume trace its reemerging throughout the history of the visual arts and media By focusing on selected works of painting and architecture photography and cinema video installation and media art they explore the variability of immersive experiences according to the different media environments and interfaces that constitute the actual sites of historically shifting relations between media and users Contributors are Matthias Bauer J rg von Brincken Robin Curtis Burcu Dogramaci Thomas Elsaesser Ole W Fischer Gundolf S Freyeremuth Ursula Frohne Henry Keazor Matthias Kr ger Katja Kwastek Fabienne Liptay Karl Pr mm Martin Warnke
