Re/Writing the Center Susan Lawrence, Terry Myers Zawacki, 2019-03-15 Re Writing the Center illuminates how core writing center pedagogies and institutional arrangements are complicated by the need to create intentional targeted support for advanced graduate writers Most writing center tutors are undergraduates whose lack of familiarity with the genres preparatory knowledge and research processes integral to graduate level writing can leave them underprepared to assist graduate students Complicating the issue is that many of the graduate students who take advantage of writing center support are international students The essays in this volume show how to navigate the divide between traditional writing center theory and practices developed to support undergraduate writers and the growing demand for writing centers to meet the needs of advanced graduate writers Contributors address core assumptions of writing center pedagogy such as the concept of peers and peer tutoring the emphasis on one to one tutorials the positioning of tutors as generalists rather than specialists and even the notion of the writing center as the primary location or center of the tutoring process Re Writing the Center offers an imaginative perspective on the benefits writing centers can offer to graduate students and on the new possibilities for inquiry and practice graduate students can inspire in the writing center
