Still Wild Larry McMurtry, 2001-06-05 Presents a collection of twenty short stories by various authors depicting life in the American West after 1950

Still Wild Larry McMurtry, 2012-04-24 Larry McMurtry the preeminent chronicler of the American West celebrates the best of contemporary Western short fiction introducing a stellar collection of twenty stories that represent in various ways the coming of age of the legendary American frontier Featuring a veritable Who's Who of the century's most distinctive writers this collection effectively departs from the standard superstars of the Western genre McMurtry has chosen a refreshing range of work that when taken as a whole depicts the evolution and maturation of Western writing over several decades The featured tales are not so concerned with the American West of history and geography as they are with the American West of the imagination one that is alternately comic gritty individual searing and complex Including authors such as Jack Kerouac Wallace Stegner Raymond Carver Annie Proulx and Diana Ossana this collection captures the real Western canon like no other

What the Rest Think of the West Laura Nader, 2015-09-08 Over the past few centuries as Western civilization has enjoyed an expansive and flexible geographic domain Westerners have observed other cultures with little interest in a return gaze In turn these other civilizations have been similarly disinclined when they have held sway Clearly though an external frame of reference outstrips introspection we cannot see ourselves as others see us Unprecedented in its scope What the Rest Think of the West provides a rich historical look through the eyes of outsiders as they survey and scrutinize the politics science technology religion family practices and gender roles of civilizations not their own The book emphasizes the broader figurative meaning of looking west in the scope of history Focusing on four civilizations Islamic Japanese Chinese and South Asian Nader has collected observations made over centuries by scholars diplomats missionaries travelers merchants and students reflecting upon their own Wests These writings derive from a range of purposes and perspectives such as the seventh century Chinese Buddhist who goes west to India the missionary from Baghdad who travels up the Volga in the tenth century and meets the Vikings and the Egyptian imam who in 1826 is sent to Paris to study the French The accounts variously express critique adoration admiration and fear and are sometimes humorous occasionally disturbing at times controversial and always enlightening With informative introductions to each of the selections Laura Nader initiates conversations about the power of representational practices
