Human Life in Motion Martin Heidegger, Francisco J. Gonzalez, 2024-03-05 Human Life in Motion presents for the first time the previously unpublished transcripts of the seminars on Aristotle Martin Heidegger gave in the 1920s These transcripts reveal much about the evolution of his thought during that time Detailed student transcripts for these seminars appear among the papers of one of Heidegger's students Helene Weiss held today in the Special Collections Department of Stanford University Analyzing and organizing hundreds of pages of these transcripts written by different students Francisco Gonzalez brilliantly reconstructs the original seminars He summarizes what Heidegger presented and claimed in each class Gonzalez also throws into relief the overarching philosophical significance of the seminars showing how the different interpretative moves or claims are connected and where they lead something which in turn requires explicating them in the context of both the Aristotelian texts discussed and Heidegger's own thought during this period Essential reading for students and scholars of Heidegger or Aristotle Human Life in Motion is a publishing event that forces a reconsideration of the thought and legacy of both philosophers

Illusions in Motion Erkki Huhtamo, 2013-02-22 Tracing the cultural material and discursive history of an early manifestation of media culture in the making Beginning in the late eighteenth century huge circular panoramas presented their audiences with resplendent representations that ranged from historic battles to exotic locations Such panoramas were immersive but static There were other panoramas that moved hundreds and probably thousands of them Their history has been largely forgotten In Illusions in Motion Erkki Huhtamo excavates this neglected early manifestation of media culture in the making The moving panorama was a long painting that unscrolled behind a window by means of a mechanical cranking system accompanied by a lecture music and sometimes sound and light effects Showmen exhibited such panoramas in venues that ranged from opera houses to church halls creating a market for mediated realities in both city and country In the first history of this phenomenon Huhtamo analyzes the moving panorama in all its complexity investigating its relationship to other media and its role in the culture of its time In his telling the panorama becomes a window for observing media in operation Huhtamo explores such topics as cultural forms that anticipated the moving panorama theatrical panoramas the diorama the panoramania of the 1850s and the career of Albert Smith the most successful showman of that era competition with magic lantern shows the final flowering of the panorama in the late nineteenth century and the panorama s afterlife as a topos traced through its evocation in literature journalism science philosophy and propaganda
