Handbook on Politics and Society Shireen Hassim, Anna C. Korteweg, 2025-06-09 This ground breaking Handbook decentres theories of social and political arrangements originating from parochial histories of Europe and North America Connecting the politics of race class sexuality and gender it provides critical perspectives on capitalism states and political mobilisation and adopts an interdisciplinary approach to key contemporary issues in politics and society Reinventing Critical Pedagogy Cesar Augusto Rossatto, Ricky Lee Allen, Marc Pruyn, 2006-10-24 Reinventing Critical Pedagogy offers a fresh perspective on recent critical interpretations of schooling and our world at present Enduring Violence Cecilia Menjívar, 2011-04-01 Drawing on revealing in depth interviews Cecilia Menjívar investigates the role that violence plays in the lives of Ladina women in eastern Guatemala a little visited and little studied region While much has been written on the subject of political violence in Guatemala Menjívar turns to a different form of suffering the violence embedded in institutions and in everyday life so familiar and routine that it is often not recognized as such Rather than painting Guatemala or even Latin America as having a cultural propensity for normalizing and accepting violence Menjívar aims to develop an approach to examining structures of violence profound inequality exploitation and poverty and gender ideologies that position women in vulnerable situations grounded in women's experiences In this way her study provides a glimpse into the root causes of the increasing wave of femicide in Guatemala as well as in other Latin American countries and offers observations relevant for understanding violence against women around the world today A Companion to Feminist Geography Lise Nelson, Joni Seager, 2025-07-28 A Companion to Feminist Geography captures the breadth and diversity of this vibrant and substantive field Shows how feminist geography has changed the landscape of geographical inquiry and knowledge since the 1970s Explores the diverse literatures that comprise feminist geography today Showcases cutting edge research by feminist geographers Charts emerging areas of scholarship such as the body and the nation Contributions from 50 leading international scholars in the field Each chapter can be read for its own distinctive contribution Practicing Ethnography in a Globalizing World June C. Nash, 2007 In this book distinguished anthropologist June Nash demonstrates how ethnography can illuminate a wide array of global problems She describes encounters with an urban U S community undergoing de industrialization with Mandalay rice cultivators accommodating to post World War II independence through animistic practices with Mayans mobilizing for autonomy and with Andean peasants and miners confronting the International Monetary Fund. Havin worked in a great variety of cultural settings around the world. Nash challenges us to expand our anthropological horizons and to think about local problems in a global manner. Haunted Modernities Anru Lee, 2023-07-31

In 1973 twenty five young women drowned in a ferry accident on their way to work in factories in Taiwan's Kaohsiung Export Processing Zone. Their remains were recovered and interred collectively in what came to be called the Twenty five Maiden Ladies Tomb. Without a husband's ancestral hall where they would have been laid to rest, the spirits of these unmarried women were considered homeless and possibly vengeful, and so the Maiden Ladies Tomb was viewed as a place to be avoided, especially by young men traveling alone, fearful of encountering a female ghost searching for a husband. Over the years, numerous plans were made to revamp the tomb site. Finally, in 2008, at the urging of local feminist communities, the Kaohsiung City government renovated the Twenty five Maiden Ladies Tomb and renamed it the Memorial Park for Women Laborers.

Haunted Modernities interrogates the nature of shared expressions of history, sentiments, and memory as it investigates the role of these women and other female workers in the shifting public narrative during and after the Maiden Ladies Tomb renovation. By exploring the ways in which the deceased young women were perceived to haunt the living and the diverse renovations recommended, the book illuminates how women workers in Taiwan have been conceptualized in the last several decades. In their proposals to renovate the tomb, the interested parties forged specific accounts of history, transforming the collective burial site according to varying definitions of heritage as Taiwan shifted to a postindustrial economy where factory jobs were no longer the main source of employment. Their plans engaged with acts of remembering communal and individual to create new ways of understanding the present. The Twenty five Maiden Ladies Tomb as a heritage site elucidates how history and memory are not simply about the past but part of a forward looking process that emerges from the social, political, and economic needs of the present, legitimized and validated through its associations with the past. Migration Theory Caroline B. Brettell, James F. Hollifield, 2014-08-25

During the last decade, the issue of migration has increased in global prominence and has caused controversy among host countries around the world. To remedy the tendency of scholars to speak only to and from their own disciplinary perspective, this book brings together in a single volume essays dealing with central concepts and key theoretical issues in the study of international migration across the social sciences. Editors Caroline B. Brettell and James F. Hollifield have guided a thorough revision of this seminal text with valuable insights from such fields as anthropology, demography, economics, geography, history, law, political science, and sociology. Each essay focuses on key concepts, questions, and theoretical frameworks on the topic of international migration in a particular discipline, but the volume as a whole teaches readers about similarities and differences across the boundaries between one academic field and the next. How, for example, do political scientists wrestle with the question of citizenship as compared with sociologists and how different is this from the questions that anthropologists explore when they deal with ethnicity and identity Are economic theories about ethnic enclaves similar to those of sociologists What theories do historians the essentializers and demographers the modelers draw upon in their attempts to explain empirical phenomena in the study of immigration What are the units of analysis in each of the disciplines and do these shape different questions and diverse models and theories Scholars and students in migration studies will find this book a powerful theoretical guide and a text that brings them up to speed quickly on the important issues and the debates All of the social science disciplines will find that this book offers a one stop synthesis of contemporary thought on migration

Overcoming Passion for Race in Malaysia Cultural Studies David C.L. Lim, 2008-06-30 Overcoming Passion examines the passion for race in contemporary Malaysia Broadly the essays look at the disjunction between the falsity of race as a scientific category and the entrenched belief that race determines one s rightful identity They probe the ways in which individual minds and institutions of power fail or refuse to recognise and act in accordance with the knowledge that race exists only insofar as its existence is sustained by the believer s belief in it The contributors draw from a burgeoning but under examined archive of Malaysia related social texts ranging from media and technological discourse popular culture and literary production to historical writings produced originally in English Malay and Mandarin Chinese

The Anthropology of Latin America and the Caribbean Harry Sanabria, 2015-09-16 The first single authored comprehensive introduction to major contemporary research trends issues and debates on the anthropology of Latin America and the Caribbean The text provides wide and historically informed coverage of key facets of Latin American and Caribbean societies and their cultural and historical development as well as the roles of power and inequality Cymeme Howe Visiting Assistant Professor of Cornell University writes The text moves well and builds over time paying close attention to balancing both the Caribbean and Latin America as geographic regions Spanish and non Spanish speaking countries and historical and contemporary issues in the field I found the geographic breadth to be especially impressive Jeffrey W Mantz of California State University Stanislaus notes that the contents reflect the insights of an anthropologist who knows Latin America intimately and extensively
