Teaching History A Reader:

The Guided Reader to Teaching and Learning History Richard Harris, Katharine Burn, Mary Woolley, 2014 This title draws on extracts from the published work of some of the most influential education writers to provide insight guidance and clarity about key issues affecting secondary history teachers Aimed at trainee and newly qualified teachers including those working towards Masters level qualifications the book brings together key extracts from classic and contemporary writing and contextualises these in both theoretical and practical terms

In Search of America's Past Bruce VanSledright, 2002-04-12 Offers alternatives to conventional textbook learning for history students describing the use of in depth historical projects and investigations that result in better retention of knowledge

The Teaching of History Ernest Hartwell, 2012-10-23 This historic volume was originally offered one full century ago as a guide to history teachers of the high school and the upper grammar grades It is directly concerned with the teaching methods to be employed in the history period The author assumes the limiting conditions that surround classroom instruction of the present day he also takes for granted the teacher's sympathy with modern aims in history instruction All discussions of purpose and content are therefore subordinated to a clear presentation of the details of effective teaching technique The reader into whose hands this volume falls will be deeply interested in the ideals of teaching implied in the concrete suggestions given in the following pages for after all the value of any system of special methods rests not merely on its apparent and immediate psychological effectiveness but also on the social purposes which it is devised to serve It must be recognized at the outset that history has a social purpose However much university teaching may be interested in truth for its own sake an interest necessarily basic to the service of all other ends the teaching of the lower public schools must take into account the relevancy of historical fact to current and future problems which concern men and women engaged in the common social life
