Technologies Of Seeing Photography Cinematography And Television:

Technologies of Seeing Brian Winston,2019-07-25 This text examines the complex forces pushing and constraining technological developments in cinema It contests the view that technological advance is simply the result of scientific progress Rather the author argues that social forces control the media technology agenda at every stage Technologies of Vision Steve F Anderson,2017-10-20 An investigation of the computational turn in visual culture centered on the entangled politics and pleasures of data and images If the twentieth century was tyrannized by images then the twenty first is ruled by data In Technologies of Vision Steve Anderson argues that visual culture and the methods developed to study it have much to teach us about today s digital culture but first we must examine the historically entangled relationship between data and images Anderson starts from the supposition that there is no great divide separating pre and post digital culture Rather than creating an insular field of new and inaccessible discourse he argues it is more productive to imagine that studying the digital is coextensive with critical models especially the politics of seeing and knowing developed for understanding the visual Anderson s investigation takes on an eclectic array of examples ranging from virtual reality culture analytics and software art to technologies for computer vision face recognition and photogrammetry Mixing media archaeology with software studies Anderson mines the history of technology for insight into both the politics of data and the pleasures of algorithms He proposes a taxonomy of modes that describe the functional relationship between data and images in the domains of space surveillance and data visualization At stake in all three are tensions between the totalizing logic of data and the unruly chaos of images Technologies of History Steve F. Anderson,2011 Captain Kirk fought Nazis JFK s assassination is a videogame touchstone And there s no history like Drunk History Neoliberal Culture Jim McGuigan,2016-01-25 Neoliberal Culture presents a critical analysis of the impact of the global free market the hegemony of which has been described elsewhere by the author as a short counter revolution on the arts media and everyday life since the 1970s Technology and Culture, the Film Reader Andrew Utterson,2005 Bringin together key theoretical texts from respected names in the field including Andre Bevin Walter Benjamin and Vivian Sobchack this book examines more than a century of writing on film and technology Documentary Screens Keith Beattie,2017-04-29 Documentary productions encompass remarkable representations of surprising realities How do documentaries achieve their ends What types of documentaries are there What factors are implicated in their production Such questions animate this engaging study Documentary Screens is a comprehensive and critical study of the formal features and histories of central categories of documentary film and television Among the categories examined are autobiographical indigenous and ethnographic documentary compilation films direct cinema and cinema verite and television documentary journalism The book also considers recent so called popular factual entertainment and the future of documentary film television and new media This provocative and accessible analysis situates wide ranging examples from each category within the larger material forces which impact on documentary form and content The important connection between form content and context explored in the book constitutes a new and lively documentary studies approach to documentary representation From IBM to MGM Andrew Utterson,2019-07-25 Andrew Utterson s unique study charts the beginnings of digital cinema addressing both how filmmakers used new digital technologies and how attitudes and anxieties about the rise of the computer were represented in films such as Lang s Desk Set Godard s Alphaville Kubrick s 2001 A Space Odyssey and Crichton s Westworld Abstract Video Gabrielle Jennings,2015-09-15 Offering historical and theoretical positions from a variety of art historians artists curators and writers this groundbreaking collection is the first substantive sourcebook on abstraction in moving image media With a particular focus on art since 2000 Abstract Video addresses a longer history of experimentation in video net art installation new media expanded cinema visual music and experimental film Editor Gabrielle Jennings a video artist herself reveals as never before how works of abstract video are not merely as the renowned curator Kirk Varnedoe once put it pictures of nothing but rather amorphous ungovernable spaces that encourage contemplation and innovation In explorations of the work of celebrated artists such as Jeremy Blake Mona Hatoum Pierre Huyghe Ryoji Ikeda Takeshi Murata Diana Thater and Jennifer West alongside emerging artists this volume presents fresh and vigorous perspectives on a burgeoning and ever changing arena of contemporary art Bright Signals Susan Murray,2018-06-12 Susan Murray traces four decades of technological cultural and aesthetic debates about the possibility use and meaning of color television within the broader history of twentieth century visual culture The Cinema Book Bloomsbury Publishing,2019-07-25 The Cinema Book is widely recognised as the ultimate guide to cinema Authoritative and comprehensive the third edition has been extensively revised updated and expanded in response to developments in cinema and cinema studies Lavishly illustrated in colour this edition features a wealth of exciting new sections and in depth case studies Sections address Hollywood and other World cinema histories key genres in both fiction and non fiction film issues such as stars technology and authorship and major theoretical approaches to understanding film Mass Media James B. Martin,2002 Mass media has become an integral part of the human experience News travels around the world in a split second affecting people in other countries in untold ways Although being on top of the news may be good at least for news junkies mass media also transmits values or the lack thereof condenses complex events and thoughts to simplified sound bites and often ignores the essence of an event or story The selective bibliography gathers the books and magazine literature over the previous ten years while providing access through author title and subject indexes Colour Films in Britain Sarah Street,2019-07-25 How did the coming of colour change the British film industry Unlike sound the arrival of colour did not revolutionise the industry overnight For British film makers and enthusiasts colour was a controversial topic While it was greeted by some as an exciting development with scope for developing a uniquely British aesthetic others were deeply concerned How would audiences accustomed to seeing black and white films which were commonly regarded as being superior to their garish colour counterparts react Yet despite this initial trepidation colour captivated many British inventors and film makers Using different colour processes these innovators produced films that demonstrated remarkable experimentation and quality Sarah Street s illuminating study is the first to trace the history of colour in British cinema and analyses the use of colour in a range of films both fiction and non fiction including The Open Road The Glorious Adventure This is Colour Blithe Spirit This Happy Breed Black Narcissus The Red Shoes The Tales of Hoffmann and Moulin Rouge Beautifully illustrated with full colour film stills this important study provides fascinating insights into the complex process whereby the challenges and opportunities of new technologies are negotiated within creative practice The book also includes a Technical Appendix by Simon Brown Kingston University UK which provides further details of the range of colour processes used by British film makers Color Protocols Carolyn L. Kane,Lida Zeitlin-Wu,2025-09-30 An edited volume that explores how color intersects with problematic histories of racial encoding in linguistic visual and algorithmic media What is at stake when categories like color race and ethnicity are transformed into a common language lexicon or industry standard And more critically how can we avoid the epistemic and ontological violence that seems inevitable in organizing color into a series of grammars syntaxes indexes and protocols Color Protocols offers a series of responses to these questions and others It begins with the premise that color is central to the history of systemic racism and in turn that the encoding of race vis vis color is an intrinsic aspect of chromatic technologies The book s eighteen curated essays edited by Carolyn Kane and Lida Zeitlin Wu are written by scholars from across the arts social sciences and humanities Each section contains both original essays and republished excerpts fundamental to understanding how the history of color technology and its racialized double valences have played out across multiple fields and media platforms over the last century and a half Contributors Ruha Benjamin Jianqing Chen Anne Anlin Cheng Frederick Douglass W E B Du Bois Richard Dyer Ali Feser Nicholas Gaskill Quran M Karriem Michael Keevak Lisa Nakamura Tina Post Aileen Robinson Michael Rossi Lorna Roth Amber Sweat Genevieve Yue Communities of the Air Susan Merrill Squier,2003-06-19 Affirms the importance of invention of radio and explores how radio creates sets of overlapping communities of the air including those who study and theorize radio as a technological social cultural and historical phenomenon Faking it Craig Hight,Jane Roscoe,2019-01-04 Girl Head Genevieve Yue,2020-11-10 Girl Head shows how gender has had a surprising and persistent role in film production processes well before the image ever appears onscreen For decades feminist film criticism has focused on issues of representation images of women in film But what are the feminist implications of the material object underlying that image the filmstrip itself What does feminist analysis have to offer in understanding the film image before it enters the realm of representation Girl Head explores how gender and sexual difference have been deeply embedded within film materiality In rich archival and technical detail Yue examines three sites of technical film production the film laboratory editing practices and the film archive Within each site she locates a common motif the vanishing female body which is transformed into material to be used in the making of a film The book develops a theory of gender and film materiality through readings of narrative film early cinema experimental film and moving image art This original work of feminist media history shows how gender has had a persistent role in film production processes well before the image ever appears onscreen   Communication and Technology Lorenzo Cantoni,James A.
