Technology As Magic The Triumph Of The Irrational:

Technology as Magic Richard Stivers, 1999 At first glance technology and magic would seem to be opposites Technology is perceived to be rational scientific and efficacious whereas magic is thought to be irrational superstitious and ineffective Technology and magic while separate and distinct have taken on important characteristics of the other Publisher

Technology as Magic Richard Stivers, Stivers argues that our expectations of technology in society have led to the generation of a multitude of imitation technologies that function as magical practices once did Through the Healing Glass John Stanislaw Sadar, 2016-02-12 In the mid 1920s a physiologist a glass chemist and a zoo embarked on a project which promised to turn buildings into medical instruments The advanced chemistry of Vita Glass mobilised theories of light and medicine health practices and glassmaking technology to compress an entire epoch's hopes for a healthy life into a glass sheet yet it did so invisibly To communicate its advantage Pilkington Bros spared no expense as they launched the most costly and sophisticated marketing campaign in their history Engineering need for Vita Glass employed leading edge market research evocative photography and vanguard techniques of advertising psychology accompanied by the claim Let in the Health Rays of Daylight Permanently through Vita Glass Windows This is the story of how despite the best efforts of two glass companies the leading marketing firm of the day and the opinions of leading medical minds Vita Glass failed However it epitomised an age of lightness and airiness sleeping porches flat roofs and ribbon windows Moreover through its remarkable print advertising it strove to shape the ideal relationship between our buildings and our bodies Gender and Early

Television Sarah Arnold, 2021-05-20 Between the nineteenth century and the mid twentieth century television transformed from an idea to an institution In Gender and Early Television Sarah Arnold traces women's relationship to the new medium of television across this period in the UK and USA She argues that women played a crucial role in its development both as producers and as audiences long before the golden age of television in the 1950s Beginning with the emergence of media entertainment in the mid nineteenth century and culminating in the rise of the post war television industries Arnold claims that all along the way women had a stake in television As keen consumers of media women also helped promote television to the public by performing as television girls Women worked as directors producers technical crew and announcers It seemed that television was open to women However as Arnold shows the increasing professionalisation of television resulted in the segregation of roles Production became the sphere of men and consumption the sphere of women While this binary has largely informed women's role in television through her analysis Arnold argues that it has not always been the case

Shades of Loneliness Richard Stivers, 2004-02-09 To varying degrees loneliness has us all in its grip In this incisive and controversial book Richard Stivers rejects the recent emphasis on genetic explanations of psychological problems arguing that the very organization of technological societies is behind the pervasive experience of loneliness The extreme rationality that governs our institutions and organizations results in abstract and impersonal relationships in much of daily life Moreover as common meaning is gradually eroded our connections to others become vague and tenuous Our ensuing fear and loneliness however can be masked by an outgoing extroverted personality In its extreme form loneliness assumes pathological dimensions in neurosis and schizophrenia Stivers maintains that even here the causes remain social The various forms of neuroses and psychoses follow the key contradictions of a technological society For instance narcissism and depression reflect the tension between power and meaninglessness that characterizes modern societies Stivers demonstrates that there is a continuum from the normal technological personality through the various neuroses to full blown schizophrenia He argues that all forms of loneliness emanate from the same cause they likewise share a common dynamic despite their differences Loneliness in its many manifestations seems to be the price we must pay for living in the modern world Yet nurturing family friend and community ties can mitigate its culturally and psychologically disorganizing power This book is a clarion call for a renewal of moral awareness and custom to combat the fragmentation and depersonalization of our technological civilization

Western Culture in Gospel Context David J. Kettle, 2011-04-18 Approaching us in sovereign freedom God comes alive to us we come alive to God and all creation comes alive as a sign pointing to God In the gospel of Jesus Christ God gives and discloses himself in this immediate way as our ultimate context and host within the provisional medium of creation This life giving gospel is met by blindness however among those who live today in a collapsing Western culture This is because their imaginative world is shaped by habitual assumptions and practices that lie largely unacknowledged deep within that culture and that preclude openness to the gospel Moreover Western Christians themselves widely share these assumptions betraying the gospel into cultural captivity God calls for the conversion of Western culture to the living gospel Crucially this must include as Lesslie Newbigin recognized a repentance from modern Western assumptions about knowledge Part One explores seeking knowing and serving God as providing a true paradigm for understanding all human enquiry knowledge and action Part Two examines ten resulting hot spots where conversion from prevailing cultural assumptions is vital for authentic mission to Western culture

Empire, Colony,

Genocide A. Dirk Moses, 2008-06-01 In 1944 Raphael Lemkin coined the term genocide to describe a foreign occupation that destroyed or permanently crippled a subject population In this tradition Empire Colony Genocide embeds genocide in the epochal geopolitical transformations of the past 500 years the European colonization of the globe the rise and fall of the continental land empires violent decolonization and the formation of nation states It thereby challenges the customary focus on twentieth century mass crimes and shows that genocide and ethnic cleansing have been intrinsic to imperial expansion

The complexity of the colonial encounter is reflected in the contrast between the insurgent identities and genocidal strategies that subaltern peoples sometimes developed to expel the occupiers and those local elites and creole groups that the occupiers sought to co opt Presenting case studies on the Americas Australia Africa Asia the Ottoman Empire Imperial Russia and the Nazi Third Reich leading authorities examine the colonial dimension of the genocide concept as well as the imperial systems and discourses that enabled conquest Empire Colony Genocide is a world history of genocide that highlights what Lemkin called the role of the human group and its tribulations Steaming Into a Victorian Future Julie Anne

This book offers a political anthropological perspective on the problematic character of science combining insights from historical sociology political theory and cultural anthropology Its central idea departing from the works of Frances Yates and the Gnosticism thesis of Eric Voegelin is that far from being the radical opposite of magic modern science effectively grew out of magic and its varieties like alchemy Hermetic philosophy the occult Gnosticism and Neoplatonism Showing that the desire to use science to solve various real or presumed problems of human existence has created a permanent liminal crisis it contends that the will to science is parasitic existing as it does in sheer relationality outside of and in between concrete places and communities A study of the mutual relationship between magic and science in different historical eras ranging from the Early Neolithic to recent disease prevention ideas Magic and the Will to Science will appeal to scholars and students of social and anthropological theory and the philosophy and sociology of science Personal Mobilities Aharon

Kellerman,2006-11-22 Personal Mobilities provides a systematic study of personal movement focusing on the dimensions of space individuals societies and technologies Kellerman examines a variety of personal mobilities including air transportation through several perspectives examining the human need for movement their anchoring within wider societal trends commonalities and differences among mobility technologies and international differences Although spatial mobility seems geographical by its very nature the topic has been so far treated only partially and mainly by sociologists Personal Mobilities highlights geographical as well as sociological aspects and is the first book to focus solely on personal mobilities Values
