FADED GREEN DANIEL M. EDDINGER, 2025-08-15 Faded Green is an accumulation of blank verse poetry that explains situations and circumstances under which a frontline combat soldier experiences war A post traumatic stress disorder was one of the reasons this group of poems was put together The poems indicate several different situations in which a combat soldier and a civilian thinks about what happened to them while they were in a war zone Oftentimes questions arise that cannot be answered The only way is sometimes to just write out what you are thinking and try to express the feeling behind the question For the general public and young people these poems can be interesting but for the front line combat soldier who has survived in the war these poems may be healing The soul can find no answer to war

The British Pop Dandy Stan Hawkins,2017-07-05 Who are pop dandies Why are stars like David Bowie Jarvis Cocker Pete Doherty and Robbie Williams so dandified Taking up a wide range of British pop stars Hawkins seeks to find out why so many have cast themselves in roles that often take style to absurd extremes In this study male pop artists are mapped against a cultural and historical background through a genealogy of personalities such as Oscar Wilde W H Auden Andy Warhol No Coward Derek Jarmen David Beckham and countless others A critical analysis of issues and approaches to musical performance through masculinity becomes the focal point of this fascinating study Ranging from the sixties to beyond the twentieth century The British Pop Dandy considers the construction of the male pop icon through the spectacle of videos live concerts and films Why do we derive pleasure from the performing body and how is entertainment linked to categories of gender and sexuality The author insists that pop performances can be understood through human characteristics that relate to the particulars of dandyism camp and glamour and this he theorizes through the work of Charles Baudelaire One of the political objectives of the dandy is to liberate himself through a denial of the structures that assume fixed identity Not least it is acts of queering in pop music that characterize entire generations of male artists in the UK Setting out to discover what distinguishes the British pop dandy Hawkins considers the role of music and performance in the articulation of hyperbolic display It is argued that the recorded voice is a construction that idealizes self representation and absorbs the listener s attention Particularly camp address in singing practice is taken up in conjunction with a discussion of intimacy which forms part of the strategy of the performer In a range of songs and videos selected for music analysis Hawkins points to the uniqueness of the voice as it expresses a transgressive quality Origin Story Series Box Set Marc B.
