The Nature of Adolescence John Christopher Coleman, Leo B. Hendry, 1999
 Coleman and Hendry's bestselling text has now been completely revised and updated to take account of the many changes that have occurred over the last decade. The book has now been reformatted into textbook style.

Children and Their Families Vicky R. Bowden, Cindy Smith Greenberg, 2010
 Children and Their Families: The Continuum of Care provides a unique interdisciplinary perspective that underscores the nurse's role in planning, coordinating and working with all members of a pediatric health care team. It shows students how to make critical judgments and assessments to manage the care of children in a variety of community settings including homes, schools and medical centers. From infancy through adolescence, this text thoroughly covers the health, promotion, surveillance and maintenance needs of children. In this edition, threaded case studies follow a community of pediatric clients and continue throughout the chapter to show the interrelated dynamics of pediatric nursing care. A companion Website includes journal articles, NCLEX-style chapter review questions, a Spanish-English audio glossary, Watch and Learn videos, a fluids and electrolytes tutorial and much more.

Stigma, Storytelling, and Adolescent Parents' Children Eryn N. Bostwick, Amy Janan Johnson, 2023-01-09
 In this book, Stigma, Storytelling and Adolescent Parents' Children, Nothing to Prove, Eryn N. Bostwick and Amy Janan Johnson utilize previous research to take an in-depth look at how experiences with stigmatization and family storytelling influence how those born to teenage parents view themselves. Bostwick and Johnson contend that historical stigmatization of adolescent parenthood manifests in a sense of self-blame and guilt for their parents' stigmatized status. Additionally, the authors assert that family experiences like stigmatization and economic struggle become filters that negatively influence how their children interpret stories their family members tell them Through exploring these stigmas the authors explore how they can rid themselves of this guilt and break free of their self imposed burden Scholars of communication sociology and psychology will find this book of particular interest

Teenage Pregnancy Dionne J. Jones, Stanley F. Battle, 1990-01-01 Pregnancy childbearing among teenagers in the United States is an increasing concern For minority communities the consequences are particularly adverse for although minority teenagers do not account for the majority of births to teenagers they are disproportionately likely to give birth Developed as a special issue of The Urban League Review this collection of essays presents current thinking of an interdisciplinary group of professionals

From Welfare to Childcare Natasha Cabrera, Robert Hutchens, H. Elizabeth Peters, 2013-04-15 Although federal and state support for childcare has increased dramatically in response to welfare work requirements low income families are still facing difficulties balancing work and family obligations There is wide variation across states in the strictness of welfare work requirements and in the generosity of childcare support In addition the level of co payments required and the flexibility to use subsidies for informal modes of childcare differ across states leading families to make different childcare and employment choices The purpose of From Welfare to Childcare is first to describe what changes occurred in childcare following the 1996 welfare reform legislation and then to analyze how federal welfare and subsidy policies influence the availability accessibility and quality of childcare arrangements for single mothers with young children National in scope it focuses on how the reforms influence the way that children are cared for when their mothers leave welfare and enter the workforce This book is suitable for national state and local policymakers non profit organizations that study and attempt to influence public policy and scholars interested in family and social policy issues It can be used as a text in graduate level courses on welfare poverty and children and public policy
