Kamp-Bandau, 1993 Seizing Jerusalem Alona Nitzan-Shifan, 2017-05-30 After seizing Jerusalem's eastern precincts from Jordan at the conclusion of the Six Day War in 1967 Israel unilaterally unified the city and plunged into an ambitious building program eager to transform the very meaning of one of the world's most emotionally charged urban spaces The goal was as simple as it was controversial to both Judaize and modernize Jerusalem Seizing Jerusalem chronicles how numerous disciplines including architecture landscape design and urban planning as well as everyone from municipal politicians to state bureaucrats from Israeli born architects to international luminaries such as Louis Kahn Buckminster Fuller and Bruno Zevi competed to create Jerusalem's new image This decade long competition happened with the Palestinian residents still living in the city even as the new image was inspired by the city's Arab legacy The politics of space in the Holy City still contested today were shaped in this post 1967 decade not only by the legacy of the war and the politics of dispossession but curiously also by emerging trends in postwar architectural culture Drawing on previously unexamined archival documents and in depth interviews with architects planners and politicians Alona Nitzan Shifan analyzes the cultural politics of the Israeli state and in particular of Jerusalem's influential mayor Teddy Kollek whose efforts to legitimate Israeli rule over Jerusalem provided architects a unique real world laboratory to explore the possibilities and limits of modernist design as built form as well as political and social action Seizing Jerusalem reveals architecture as an active agent in the formation of urban and national identity and demonstrates how contemporary debates about Zionism and the crisis within the discipline of architecture over postwar modernism affected Jerusalem's built environment in ways that continue to resonate today

Architecture RePerformed: The Politics of Reconstruction Tino Mager, 2016-03-09
First emerging at the beginning of the twentieth century architectural reconstruction has increasingly become an instrument to visually revive a long bygone past
This book deals with the phenomenon of meticulous reconstruction in architecture It argues that the politics of reconstruction go far beyond aesthetic considerations Taking architecture as a major source of history and regional identity the impact of large scale reconstruction is deeply intertwined with political and social factors Furthermore memories and associations correlated with lost buildings of a bygone era are heavily influenced by their re appearance something which often contradicts historical events Reconstruction has become an established way of building and dealing with the past yet so far there is no comprehensive scientific study on it By bringing together eight case studies from Eastern Europe France Spain China Japan Israel and Brazil it provides valuable insights into this topic The chapters analyse the political background of the reconstructions and identify the protagonists In doing so this volume adds to our understanding of the impact of reconstruction to memory and oblivion as well as the critical power of reconstruction regarding contemporary architecture and urbanism
