Television Aesthetics:

Television Aesthetics Nikos Metallinos, 2013-11-05 USE FIRST TWO PARAGRAPHS ONLY FOR GENERAL CATALOGS

This volume offers a response to three ongoing needs to develop the main composition principles pertinent to the visual communication medium of television to establish the field of television aesthetics as an extension of the broader field of visual literacy and to promote television aesthetics to both students and consumers of television. Based on effective empirical research from three axes: perception, cognition, and composition, the aesthetic principles of television images presented are drawn from converging research in academic disciplines such as psychology, perceptual cognitive, and experimental neurophysiology, and the fine arts: painting, photography, film, theater, music, and more. Although the aesthetics of the fine arts were traditionally built on contextual theories that relied heavily on subjective evaluation, on critical analyses, and on descriptive research methods, the aesthetics of today's visual communication media consider equally valuable empirical methodologies found in all sciences. Investigations in these different academic disciplines have provided the constructs and strengthened the foundations of the theory of television aesthetics offered in this book. Special features include a great variety of pictures supporting the topics discussed, a thorough up-to-date and specifically related bibliography for each of the major parts of the book, computer drawings illustrating the concepts examined in the text, scientific data tables and charts documenting the research findings, cited simplified explanations of the processes of visual, auditory, and motion perceptions of images, enhanced by specific diagrams, detailed analyses of the threefold process of stimulation, perception, and recognition of televised images, and workable, easy-to-understand and use rules of picture composition, visual image evaluations, and television program appreciation.

Television Aesthetics and Style Steven Peacock, Jason Jacobs, 2013-07-04 Although Film Studies has successfully returned attention to matters of style and interpretation, its sibling discipline has left the territory uncharted until now. The question of how television operates on a stylistic level has been critically underexplored despite being fundamental to our viewing experience. This significant new work redresses a vital gap in Television Studies by engaging with the stylistic dynamics of TV, exploring the aesthetic properties and values of both the medium and particular types of output, specific programmes, and raising important questions about the way we judge television as both cultural artifact and art form. Television Aesthetics and Style provides a unique and vital intervention in the field, raising key questions about television's artistic properties and possibilities. Through a series of case studies by internationally renowned scholars, the collection takes a radical step forward in understanding TV's stylistic achievements.

Television Aesthetics CARDWELL, 2018-01-17 Cognition, Emotion, and Aesthetics in Contemporary Serial Television Ted Nannicelli, Héctor J. Pérez, 2021-11-25 This book posits an interconnection between the ways in which contemporary television serials cue cognitive operations solicit emotional responses and elicit aesthetic appreciation The chapters explore a number of questions including How do the particularities of form and style in contemporary serial television engage us cognitively emotionally and aesthetically How do they foster cognitive and emotional effects such as feeling suspense anticipation surprise satisfaction and disappointment Why and how do we value some serials while disliking others What is it about the particularities of serial television form and style in conjunction with our common cognitive emotional and aesthetic capacities that accounts for serial television's cognitive socio political and aesthetic value and its current ubiquity in popular culture This book will appeal to postgraduates and scholars working in television studies as well as film studies cognitive media theory media psychology and the philosophy of art

Social Media Television and Distributional Aesthetics Gry C. Rustad, 2025-03-10 Social Media Television and Distributional Aesthetics explores this distinct fictional form that merges the genres structures and affordances of television with those of social media and what it entails for contemporary television and media culture and for our experience of new and old media in everyday life Centred around five key case studies Skam Lik meg Dead Girls Detective Agency Content and Eva Stories this book offers insight into how different social media platforms facilitate distinct aesthetics and content transnational aspects of social media television and how different production cultures and industries operate in its production This analysis extrapolated out into broader principles and theoretical arguments that will help scholars working on a wide variety of questions of television and social media digitalization technology convergence media aesthetics production cultures audience cultures and globalization in the future Developing new theoretical perspectives to understand what social media television is and can be and creating new methodological frameworks to analyze television and new media as an aesthetic experience the author proposes distributional aesthetic as the main analytical framework arguing that distribution can be understood as an aesthetic form defined as a situated aesthetic experience in time and space This book will be relevant for scholars instructors students and practitioners working within television studies social media studies media aesthetics and visual and digital culture

Television, Aesthetics and Reality Anthony Barker, 2009-03-26 This new collection of essays seeks to focus on three areas where television has recently been in an intriguing state of flux Taking as our background the emergence of multimedia conglomerates and cash rich cable channels we look at the way old national terrestrial channels and the brash new internationally commercialized ones have innovated in the domain of television programming In all there are fourteen original essays an introduction to the book's theme by the editor and a foreword by Professor Annette Hill Section one Realizing the Real looks at contemporary patterns of television consumption and the presentational styles which package the real in news current affairs and other live television formats Essays on rhetorical strategies in the news coverage of the war in Iraq on national and international inflections of Sky News in Europe and coverage of the recent EURO2004 football tournament as well the multi channel reporting of a prominent paedophilia scandal are presented in this section They all analyse the extent to which the grounded and the local are threatened and distorted by hegemonic forces in media today The findings of a comprehensive new study of Portuguese social practices and viewing habits are also featured in this section Section Two Realizing Performance addresses the way new trends in reality programming and other documentary practices have impacted on fiction and entertainment television There are essays on the recent wave of British television comedy heavily influenced by TV newsmagazine and fly on the wall documentary styles and two pieces on new American series 24 and CSI which have revolutionized the narrative parameters and evidential base for thrillers and cop shows respectively coming up with new ways to perform space time and science Finally there is an essay on Nigel Kneale's The Year of the Sex Olympics 1968 a survivor from the era of the single play who seems to anticipate the future of television in reality based gameshow style entertainment Each of these essays shows that the success of these programmes is dependent on a fresh restylization of the conventions and formulas which govern mainstream television programming They therefore see the representation of the real in fiction as primarily an aesthetic reappraisal Section Three Performing the Real looks at the explosion in reality television programming itself It focuses on the coming to pass of 70s and 80s theorists' visions of both a passive voyeuristic society and one increasingly at peace with the notion of surveillance We have been progressively acculturated to watching and being watched Orwellian anxiety has given way to Baudrillardian acceptance of the message and the medium fused in a new order of mediated reality or hyperreality Essays refer specifically to the globalization of shows and formats and their local inflections and to coverage of reality shows in print media and on the net There are essays on The Bachelor and gender stereotyping Joe Millionaire and the conventions of melodrama and two on Big Brother one on the problems of communication within a sealed environment and another on its reception in Portugal Concerns about the self and its authenticity are consistency raised in all the essays of this section      Appreciating the Art of Television Ted

Nannicelli,2016-09-13 Contemporary television has been marked by such exceptional programming that it is now common to hear claims that TV has finally become an art In Appreciating the Art of Television Nannicelli contends that televisual art is not a recent development but has in fact existed for a long time Yet despite the flourishing of two relevant academic subfields the philosophy of film and television aesthetics there is little scholarship on television in general as an art form This book aims to provide scholars active in television aesthetics with a critical overview of the relevant philosophical literature while also giving philosophers of film a particular account of the art of television that will hopefully spur further interest and debate It offers the first sustained theoretical examination of what is involved in appreciating television as an art and how this bears on the practical business of television scholars critics students and fans namely the comprehension interpretation and evaluation of specific televisual artworks      Television Ruth Lorand,2002 Television has been the subject of research in politics culture education and economy but very little has been said so far about its potential for creating new forms of art Is television capable at all of creating serious art or is it just a means of amusement and communication This collection of articles discusses the aesthetic aspect of television maintaining the claim that television bears its own unique artistic potentials Examinations of various aspects and features of television in comparison to other forms of art as well as analyses of specific television programs consolidate this claim This book includes an introduction by the editor Ruth Lorand and articles by scholars from universities situated in different cultural and political settings Germina Nagat Alexander Nehamas David Goldblatt Eddy Zemach Kathleen Marie Higgins Andrew Ballantyne Eran Guter Rob van Gerwen Katya Mandoki Sally Banes and Charles Leech      Cinematic Digital Television Chris Comerford,2022-12-20 Chris Comerford explores cinematic digital television as an artistic classification and an academic object of study and illuminates the slippage in definitions of previously understood media forms The growth of television as an artistic informative medium has given rise to shifts in the aesthetic style of the programmes we watch and this book outlines these shifts along with the contemporary debates and critical theory surrounding them Comerford looks at the forms and aesthetics of television the production standards influencing streaming television and the agency of audiences and provides case studies of key TV shows illustrating these shifts including Twin Peaks The Return WandaVision Hacks and Russian Doll Navigating the levels of production and reception in cinematic digital television the book uses film inspired TV as a lightning rod for understanding our narrative screen media landscape and the classifications we use to negotiate it As an essential reading for both scholars and students of media and television studies this book provides a much needed consideration of the changing landscape of television      A

Style and Meaning John Gibbs, Douglas Pye, 2005-08-06 With a common focus on the decisions made by filmmakers the essays in this collection explore different aspects of the relationship between textual detail and broader conceptual frameworks These texts reflect not only those areas of film history which have traditionally been explored through mise en scene criticism but also areas such as the avant garde and television drama which have not tended to receive such detailed investigation In these ways the book conducts a series of dialogues with issues in film study which are specifically provoked by close analysis

The Palgrave Handbook of the Philosophy of Film and Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, Laura T. Di Summa, Shawn Loht, 2019-10-30 This handbook brings together essays in the philosophy of film and motion pictures from authorities across the spectrum It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject Core areas treated include film ontology film structure psychology authorship narrative and viewer emotion Emerging areas of interest including virtual reality video games and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters Other areas of focus include the film medium's intersection with contemporary social issues film's kinship to other art forms and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film Of emphasis in many of the essays is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject

The SAGE Handbook of Television Studies Manuel Alvarado, Milly Buonanno, Herman Gray, Toby Miller, 2014-12-09 Genuinely transnational in content as sensitive to the importance of production as consumption covering the full range of approaches from political economy to textual analysis and written by a star studded cast of contributors Emeritus Professor Graeme Turner University of Queensland Finally we have before us a first rate and wide ranging volume that reframes television studies afresh boldly synthesising debates in the humanities cultural studies and social sciences This volume should be in every library and media scholar's bookshelf

Professor Ravi Sundaram Centre for the Study of Developing Societies Bringing together a truly international spread of contributors from across the UK US South America Mexico and Australia this Handbook charts the field of television studies from issues of ownership and regulation through to reception and consumption Separate chapters are dedicated to examining the roles of journalists writers cinematographers producers and manufacturers in the production process whilst others explore different formats including sport novella and soap opera news and current affairs music and reality TV The final section analyses the pivotal role played by audiences in the contexts of gender race and class and spans a range of topics from effects studies to audience consumption The SAGE Handbook of Television Studies is an essential reference work for all advanced undergraduates graduate students and academics across broadcasting mass communication and media studies      Law and TV Series Adam Andrzejewski, Mateusz Salwa, 2018-09-24 The aim of this essay is to analyse TV series from the point of view of philosophical aesthetics Aiming to show how philosophy may contribute to seriality studies Andrzejewski and Salwa focus on seriality as a factor which defines the structure of TV series their aesthetic properties as well as their modes of reception TV series have been studied within media theory and cultural studies for quite a long time but they have been approached mainly in terms of their production distribution and consumption across various and changing social contexts Following the agenda of philosophical aesthetics Andrzejewski and Salwa claim instead seriality implies a sort of normativity i.e. that it is possible to indicate what features a television show has to have in order to be a serial show as well as the manner in which it should be watched if it is to be experienced as a serial work      Adapting

Television Drama Christopher Hogg, 2022-01-01 This book explores adaptation in its various forms in contemporary television drama It considers the mechanics of adaptation as an ever more prevalent form of production most notably in the reworking of literary sources for television It also explores the broader process through which the television industry as a whole is currently making necessary adaptations in how it tells stories especially in relation to important concerns of equality diversity and inclusion Offering and analysing 16 original interviews with leading British television producers writers directors production designers casting directors and actors and with a particular focus on female and or minority ethnic industry perspectives the book examines some of the key professional and creative approaches behind television adaptations today The book connects these industry insights to the existing conceptual and critical frameworks of television studies and adaptation studies illuminating the unique characteristics of television adaptation as a material mode of production and revealing television itself as an inherently adaptive artform      The Antihero in American Television Margrethe Bruun

Vaage, 2015-10-14 The antihero prevails in recent American drama television series Characters such as mobster kingpin Tony Soprano The Sopranos meth cook and gangster in the making Walter White Breaking Bad and serial killer Dexter Morgan Dexter are not morally good so how do these television series make us engage in these morally bad main characters And what does this tell us about our moral psychological make up and more specifically about the moral psychology of fiction Vaage argues that the fictional status of these series deactivates rational deliberate moral evaluation making the spectator rely on moral emotions and intuitions that are relatively easy to manipulate with narrative strategies Nevertheless she also argues that these series regularly encourage reactivation of deliberate moral evaluation In so doing these fictional series can teach us something about ourselves as moral beings what our moral intuitions and emotions are and how these might differ from deliberate moral evaluation      Reimagining Brazilian Television Eli Carter, 2018-04-26 The Brazilian television industry is one of the most productive and commercially successful in the world At the forefront of this industry is TV Globo and its production of standardized telenovelas which millions of Brazilians and viewers from over 130 countries watch nightly Eli

Lee Carter examines the field of television production by focusing on the work of one of Brazil's greatest living directors Luiz Fernando Carvalho. Through an emphasis on Carvalho's thirty-plus year career working for TV Globo, his unique mode of production and his development of a singular aesthetic as a reaction to the dominant telenovela genre, Carter sheds new light on Brazilian television's history, its current state, and where it is going as new legislation and technology push it increasingly toward a post-network era.

Television Rewired Martha P. Nochimson, 2019-07-15

In 1990, American television experienced a seismic shift when Twin Peaks premiered, eschewing formulaic plots and clear lines between heroes and villains. This game-changing series inspired a generation of show creators to experiment artistically, transforming the small screen in ways that endure to this day. Focusing on six shows: Twin Peaks, The Wire, Treme, The Sopranos, Mad Men, and Girls, Television Rewired explores what made these programs so extraordinary. As their writers and producers fought against canned plots and moral simplicity, they participated in the evolution of the exhilarating new auteur television, while underscoring the fact that art and entertainment don't have to be mutually exclusive. Nochimson also makes provocative distinctions between true auteur television and shows that were inspired by the freedom of the auteur series but nonetheless remained entrenched within the parameters of formula. Providing opportunities for vigorous discussion, Television Rewired will stimulate debates about which of the new television series since 1990 constitute art and which are tweaked, business-driven storytelling.

The Top Books of the Year Television Aesthetics The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. Television Aesthetics : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Television Aesthetics : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
