Television Behind The Screen:

Beyond the Screen Sarah Atkinson, 2014-04-10 Beyond the Screen presents an expanded conceptualization of cinema which encompasses the myriad ways film can be experienced in a digitally networked society where the auditorium is now just one location amongst many in which audiences can encounter and engage with films The book includes considerations of mobile web social media and live cinema through numerous examples and case studies of recent and near future developments Through analyses of narrative text process apparatus and audience this book traces the metamorphosis of an emerging cinema and maps the new spaces of spectatorship which are currently challenging what it means to be cinematic in a digitally networked era

Uncomfortable Television Hunter Hargraves, 2022-12-19 From The Wire to Intervention to Girls postmillennial American television has dazzled audiences with novelistic seriality and cinematic aesthetics Yet this television is also more perverse it bombards audiences with misogynistic and racialized violence graphic sex substance abuse unlikeable protagonists and the extraordinary exploitation of ordinary people In Uncomfortable Television Hunter Hargraves examines how television makes its audiences find pleasure through feeling disturbed He shows that this turn to discomfort realigns collective definitions of family and pleasure with the values of neoliberal culture In viscerally violent dramas cringeworthy ironic comedies and trashy reality programs alike televisual unease trains audiences to survive under late capitalism which demands that individuals accept a certain amount of discomfort dread and irritation into their everyday lives By highlighting how discomfort has been central to the reorganization and legitimization of television as an art form Hargraves demonstrates television's role in assimilating viewers into worlds marked by precarity perversity and crisis
