Broadcasting the Local News Lynn Boyd Hinds, 2010-11-01 Television came to Pittsburgh in 1949 when WDTV the forerunner of KDKA TV went on the air Whereas many television stations in the United States began reading news on the air only to comply with FCC requirements WDTV treated news seriously from day one with its first regular program a local news show called Pitt Parade Today KDKA is still highly regarded among journalists for its news programming Although television news may seem familiar to us it was anything but familiar to the men and women of early television Hinds shows how they borrowed liberally from newspapers radio motion picture newsreels theater and even magazines to create by trial and error suitable ways to present the news Rather than instantly replacing radio television news moved slowly from the rip and read radio style format which simply duplicated what came over the wire services and was in the newspapers to the conventions of local newscasts we take for granted today live remotes lead and feature stories sports and weather all brought together by an in studio anchor Pittsburghers will recognize many familiar names in Hinds's account Bill Burns Paul Long Florence Sando Eleanor Schano and others veterans of Pittsburgh broadcasting whom Hinds has interviewed for this book The story they tell is the story of dozens of other stations across the country In the process they tell us much about the early history of television in America Lynn Boyd Hinds spent over twenty years in Pittsburgh television and radio before moving to Penn State University where he was an affiliate producer for WPSX TV the public broadcasting station in Central Pennsylvania There he created and hosted the popular quiz show The Pennsylvania Game Today he is Associate Professor of Broadcast News in the Perley Isaac Reed School of Journalism at West Virginia University

The Origins of Television News in America Mike Conway, 2009 This is the first in depth look at the development of the television newscast the most popular source of news for over forty five years During the 1940s most journalists ignored or dismissed television leaving the challenge to a small group of people working above New York City's Grand Central Terminal Without the pressures of ratings sponsors company oversight or many viewers the group refused to recreate newspapers radio or newsreels on the new medium They experimented argued tested and eventually settled on a format to exploit television's strengths This book documents that process challenging common myths including the importance of a popular anchor and television's inability to communicate non visual stories and crediting those whose work was critical in the formation of television as a news format and illustrating the pressures and professional roadblocks facing those who dare question journalistic traditions of any era Publisher

The Decade That Shaped Television News Sig Mickelson, 1998-08-27 Television news made meteoric progress in the 1950s It rose from being a plaything for the rich to a major factor in informing the American public and an aggressive rival to newspapers radio and news magazines This volume is an insider s account of the arduous and frequently critical steps undertaken by inexperienced staffs in the development of television news documentaries and sports broadcasts The author the first president of CBS News provides a treasure trove of facts and anecdotes about plotting in the corridors the ascendancy of stars and the retirement into oblivion of the less favored This volume is an important contribution to the history of television journalism and will appeal both to journalism and broadcasting scholars and to those interested in the meteoric rise of television Keith's Radio Station John Allen Hendricks, Bruce Mims, 2014-08-07 Keith's Radio Station offers a concise and insightful guide to all aspects of radio operations explaining the functions performed within every professionally managed station Now in its ninth edition this book continues its long tradition of guiding readers to a solid understanding of who does what when and why This new edition explains what radio in America has been where it is today and where it is going Covering the basics of how programming is produced financed and delivered across a spectrum of technologies including the newest technological trends such as streaming and podcasting satellite and HD Radio John Allen Hendricks and Bruce Mims argue that the future of radio remains bright and strong as it continues to evolve with emerging technologies New to this edition New and updated essays from industry leaders discussing how radio is evolving in an era of rapidly changing technology A thorough examination of Internet radio online music services and mobile listening devices An analysis of how new technologies have fragmented the advertising dollar A discussion of station website content and promotional usage of social media A revised examination of technologically advanced strategies used in traffic and billing departments Updated full color photos and illustrations The new companion website features content for both students and instructors including an instructors manual lecture slides test questions audio examples of key concepts quizzes for students and links to further resources The Ownership of the News Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Select Committee on Communications, 2008 This report examines the impact that media ownership can have on the news and the effect of consolidation on the newspaper television and radio industries The newspaper industry is facing severe problems as readership levels fall young people turn to other sources of news and advertising moves to the internet Newspaper companies are having to make savings and this is having a particular impact on investment in news gathering and investigative journalism In television news the same trends are evident Most news programmes have smaller audiences than they had ten years ago younger people in particular are watching less television news commercial television channels are losing advertising revenue to the internet New media in particular the internet are having a major impact on the way news is produced and consumed but the traditional forms of news are likely to be the most popular sources of news for the foreseeable future The proliferation of news sources has not been matched by a corresponding expansion in professional and investigative journalism Owners can and do influence the news in a variety of ways They are in a position to have significant political impact The consolidation of media ownership adds to the risk of disproportionate influence The Committee recommends reform of the public interest test criteria for newspaper mergers and also believes that reforming cross media ownership restrictions on regional and local newspaper and radio mergers is necessary The Committee does not consider changes in ownership regulation and competition law to be enough if the aim is to ensure a range of voices and high quality news The public service broadcasting system in the United Kingdom provides an invaluable news service for the citizen and it is crucial that the contribution of all the public service broadcasters is maintained

Broadcast Journalism Shrivastava, K M, Broadcast News Writing, Reporting, and Producing Frank Barnas, 2013-05-02

Jargon buster convergent journalism Media convergence is the most significant development in the news industry in the last century The ability to interchange text audio and visual communication over the Internet has fundamentally transformed the way news organizations operate Convergence has enabled media companies to gather disseminate and share information over a variety of platforms Throughout the history of journalism it has been common for journalists to study one medium such as traditional print or broadcast and to anticipate a career working only in their chosen field However the 21st century journalist has fluidity to write and deliver news content in a variety of formats source <http://www.convergencejournalism.com>

Broadcast News Writing Reporting and Producing presents a solid foundation for any student learning how to become a broadcast journalist in today's world of convergent journalism it is more important than ever that broadcast textbooks cover the most current trends in media Convergent journalism the coverage of news across multiple delivery platforms such as the internet television podcasts ipods blogs etc is here to stay broadcast journalism continues to morph as newer and more advanced content platforms are hatched and developed and broadcast journalists must understand how to write report and produce for multiple platforms simultaneously Just one crucial fact remains students will need training on how to perform successfully in a world in which current events aren't just shown on the ten o'clock evening news Broadcast News Writing Reporting and Producing will be completely overhauled to reflect the trends of convergent journalism on every page New co author Frank Barnas brings a multi faceted perspective of writing reporting and producing that allows for multi platform delivery systems and shows students with real world examples the functions and practices of today's media The new edition will be rewritten and restructured to accommodate common 16 week course modules and will be divided into four major sections of the news gathering writing reporting and producing Sidebars featuring how examples used in the text relate to convergence in journalism help students to draw connections easily between current stories and trends in the industry The comprehensive approach of this text brings a multi faceted perspective of writing reporting and producing that is needed more than ever in today's world of convergent journalism This newest edition is being completely overhauled by the experienced journalist Frank Barnas New photos and illustrations a restructuring of the text expanded end of chapter exercises newer and more relevant examples and more information on producing all contribute to giving readers what they need most a nuanced understanding of how the media of today function in a world without news boundaries

How the News Media Fail American Voters Kenneth Dautrich, Thomas H. Hartley, 1999 It is often noted that the public is frustrated with the news media But what do American voters really think about how the media present political information While studies have examined how the news shapes opinions as well as what people respond to and remember this is the first book to provide an in depth analysis of how voters use and evaluate the news media in political elections and the impact these trends have on their use of the news Kenneth Dautrich and Thomas H Hartley performed a four wave national panel survey of voters during the 1996 presidential campaign They found that although voters are profoundly dissatisfied with the usefulness of news in helping them make decisions they are unlikely to stop using the news media or switch media from network news to public broadcasting for instance Thus the media have little incentive to adjust to the needs or wishes of voters Here is an important contribution to the debate about the responsibilities of the news media raging among pundits and policymakers
