Television Series of the 2000s Vincent Terrace, 2018-10-15 In the first decade of the new millennium the four major networks struggled to hold their own as cable channels and unscripted shows began to dominate the television landscape Network powerhouses like 24 Desperate Housewives and Two and a Half Men competed for viewers siphoned off by cult shows like The Closer Gilmore Girls and Veronica Mars In that decade shows such as 30 Rock and Modern Family were vying for awards while programs like Bones CSI and Dexter were pushing the envelope for graphic violence All of these shows live on in syndication streaming services and DVDs generating a constant wave of new viewers In Television Series of the 2000s Essential Facts and Quirky Details Vincent Terrace presents readers with a cornucopia of information about fifty programs from the decade For example did you know that Adrian Monk's father was a textbook writer That psychic Shawn Spencer carries a travel size packet of Johnson's Baby Shampoo in his wallet Or that Gregory House's street address is the same as the fictional world's greatest detective

Sherlock Holmes These are just a handful of hundreds of fun and intriguing specifics found inside this volume Programs from all of the major networks as well as select syndicated programs and premium cable channels are represented here This is not a book of opinions or essays about specific television programs but a treasure trove of facts associated with each show From the time of day that Sheldon Cooper calls his alone time to the janitor's name on Scrubs readers will discover a wealth of fascinating information that for the most part cannot be found elsewhere In some cases the factual data detailed herein is the only such documentation that currently exists on shows of the era Television Series of the 2000s is the ideal reference for fans of this decade and anyone looking to stump even the most knowledgeable trivia expert

America's First Network TV Censor Robert Pondillo, 2010-04-23 America's First Network TV Censor The Work of NBC's Stockton Helffrich is a unique examination of early television censorship centered around the papers of Stockton Helffrich the first manager of the censorship department at NBC Set against the backdrop of postwar America and contextualized by myriad primary sources including original interviews and unpublished material Helffrich's reports illustrate how early censorship of advertising language and depictions of sex violence and race shaped the new medium While other books have cited Helffrich's reports none have considered them as a body of work complemented by the details of Helffrich's life and the era in which he lived America's First Network TV Censor explores the ways in which Helffrich's personal history and social class influenced his perception of his role as NBC TV censor and his tendency to ignore certain political and cultural taboos while embracing others Author Robert Pondillo considers Helffrich's life in broadcasting before and after the Second World War and his censorial work in the context of 1950s American culture and emerging network television Pondillo discusses the ways that cultural phenomena including the arrival of the mid twentieth century religious boom McCarthyism the dawn of the Civil Rights era and the social upheaval over sex music and youth contributed to a general sense that the country was morally adrift and ripe for communist takeover Five often censored subjects advertising language and depictions of sex violence and race are explored in detail exposing the surprising complexity and nuance of early media censorship Questions of whether too many sadistic westerns would coarsen America's children how to talk about homosexuality without using the word homosexuality and how best to advertise toilet paper without offending people were on Helffrich's mind his answers to these questions helped shape the broadcast media we know today
