Combating Social Exclusion in University Adult Education Julia Preece,2018-08-17 Published in 1999 this work suggests that widening participation is not just about changing learner expectations it is also about changing institutional expectations and practices Higher learning for example should include a broader more inclusive range of knowledge and ways of knowing than at present and criteria for learning achievement should include assessment of citizenship as well as linear outcomes International Perspectives on Citizenship, Education and Religious Diversity Robert

Jackson,2003-09-02 Citizenship is high on the agenda of education systems in many of the world s democracies As yet however discussions of citizenship education have neglected issues of religious diversity and how the study of religions can contribute to our understanding of citizenship International Perspectives on Citizenship Education and Religious Diversity brings together an international range of contributions from religious studies scholars and educators specialising in the study of religions Together these illustrate and explore the key questions for educational theory and pedagogy raised by drawing issues of religious diversity into citizenship education The chapters address and extend debates over the nature of citizenship in late modernity highlighting local and global dimensions of citizenship in relation to issues of national religious ethnic and cultural identity As well as emphasising the role religious education has to play in citizenship education this book also covers wider issues such as state supported faith schools and cultural diversity in relation to common citizenship The authors argue that critical yet reflective approaches to religious education have a distinctive and valuable contribution to make to citizenship education Issues addressed within the study of religions are related to new forms of global and cultural citizenship as well as citizenship within the nation state Ultimately this stimulating and original collection highlights the challenges and possibilities for teaching and learning about religion religions and religious diversity within an inclusive educational practice
