Gayle Baugh, Sherry E. Sullivan, 2009-07-01 The first volume of the series Maintaining Focus Energy and Options Over the Career examines how individuals enact and keep their career vital over their work life Awarding winning internationally renowned researchers including Daniel Feldman Jennifer Deal Phyllis Tharenou and Terry Beehr examine the dynamic nature of contemporary careers and how careers change as individuals change in response to such factors as aging learning experience or contextual changes Volume 1 includes theoretical perspectives on maintaining person environment fit over the course of the career the shifting constellation of developmental relationships over time and place a new framework for examining midcareer renewal a reconceptualization of the retirement transition and potential gender differences in self initiated international careers Empirical studies in volume 1 examine provocative questions including Is the traditional career really dead Are there significant generational differences in learning and development Can career plateauing be positive for the individual or the organization The focus throughout this volume is on how careers unfold over time and how individuals remain productive and successful as they navigate career changes Economic Revitalization Joan Fitzgerald,Nancey Green Leigh,2002-03-19 In Economic Revitalization Cases and Strategies for City and Suburb Fitzgerald and Leigh answer the need for a text that incorporates social justice and sustainability into how we think about and practice economic development It is one of the first to talk about how revitalization strategies are implemented in both cities and suburbs particularly inner ring suburbs that are experiencing decline previously associated only with inner city neighborhoods After setting the context with a brief history of economic development practice and its shortcomings Fitzgerald and Leigh focus on six economic development strategies sectoral strategies Brownfield redevelopment industrial retention commercial revitalization industrial and office property reuse and workforce development Remaking American Communities David C. Soule,2007-11-01 Urban sprawl has gained much national attention in recent years Sprawl involves not only land use issues but also legal political and social concerns It affects our schools the environment and race relations Comprehensive enough for high school students and also appropriate for college undergraduates Remaking American Communities delves into the challenges of urban sprawl by turning to some of America s top thinkers on the problem including Robert Yaro president of the Regional Plan Association Other cutting edge essays include a foreword about the emergence of sprawl by nationally syndicated columnist Neal Peirce views about race and class by former mayor of Albuquerque David Rusk and a discussion of transportation dynamics by Curtis Johnson president of the Citistates Group The essays in this collection explore the core issues of sprawl and the agenda for dealing with it Complete with a glossary resources and contact information for smart growth alliances this book is extremely user friendly David C Soule offers an unbiased viewpoint of this national phenomenon in a way that will be accessible to students and those with little background in the issue Employment Without Inflation Benjamin Howard Higgins, The world economy has undergone a fundamental transformation in recent decades and theoretical structures inherited from the 1930s through the 1950s while retaining large elements of truth are inadequate to deal with current problems Benjamin Higgins feels that for a society such as the United States a fiscal policy needs to be adopted that can deal simultaneously with existing unemployment and inflation He suggests three possible governmental policies stimulating a high rate of long run growth by use of reward innovations and by maintaining the highest possible level of scientific and technical activity isolating regions that are generators of inflation and others that are pools for unemployment and establishing a system of direct controls similar to those used in wartime Higgins describes the transformation of the cogent prewar business cycle with its alternations of inflation or unemployment then a transitional period of underemployment equilibrium and secular stagnation and finally the strange new world of today one with economic fluctuations in the form of shifting trade off curves and loops He then applies his new paradigm to current problems showing why they cannot be managed through macroeconomic monetary and fiscal policy Higgins offers case studies of efforts to fight inflation and unemployment and to reduce regional gaps to show their strengths and weaknesses It can be said that unemployment always results from too many people chasing too few jobs and inflation is always caused by too much money chasing too few goods and services Beyond such banal generalizations Higgins maintains there is no single cause for either unemployment or inflation and thus no single cure can be prescribed for either let alone for both at once Nor is it to be expected that the appropriate cure will prove to be the same in all countries at all times He suggests that an optimal blend of monetary and fiscal policy that will produce the minimum discomfort is a good start Employment Without Inflation will be of direct policy interest to economists sociologists and national planners

Europe's Disappearing Middle Class? Daniel Vaughan-Whitehead,2016-10-28 While recent studies have highlighted the phenomenon and risks of increased inequalities between the top and the bottom of society little research has so far been carried out on trends relating to the median income range that generally represents the middle class This volume examines the following questions what are the main transformations in the world of work over the last 20 years in terms of the labour market social dialogue and conditions of work wages and incomes that may have affected the middle class How has the middle class been altered by the financial and economic crisis What are the long term trends for the middle class in Europe
