Neighbour,2009-06-08 Tired of reading books by pastors of large churches who could put a stick in the mud and it would grow a fruit bearing tree in a week Exhausted with doing ministry the same way expecting different results Exasperated by the lack of ownership among the members of your existing groups Then this book is for you Pulling no punches Neighbour diagnoses the problems surrounding small group and cell group ministry in America today offering practical suggestions that work OECD Multi-level Governance Studies Making Decentralisation Work in Chile Towards Stronger Municipalities OECD,2017-09-19 This report provides a comprehensive analysis of the challenges confronting Chile s centralised growth model and recommendations towards developing a more integrated territorial approach Market Street Pastor Eric Hoke,2024-09-26 Pastors want to work hard to provide for their families be radically generous and build a legacy of ministry that they can be proud of In the modern ministry vocation the only way to do this is to expand vocational options and earn additional income outside of the church The problem is that pastors have only ever worked in churches and have no idea how to message their valuable skills in a way that makes sense to hiring managers in the open marketplace As a result they are paralyzed and frustrated because they know that they could break into the workforce earn more money and meet community members outside the church but don't know where to start on the job hunt Eric Hoke understands how difficult it is to change industries and move from being a pastor to a marketplace professional because he did it in New York City where he spent ten years living and ministering as a church planter while also working in Manhattan for profits Hoke has helped thousands of others to do the same through a proven five step process that helps pastors break into the marketplace and build a ministry of sustainability

A Summary Our journeys are unique and as we get older we should be better able to help shape the following generations using our gifts and experience Yet many would-be mentors aren't so sure about how to go about this Past failures pride insecurity lack of confidence and opportunity in a fragmented Western culture that prizes individualism have helped create seemingly insurmountable obstacles Reliance on programs and the professionalization of ministry have tended to hinder more natural connections between the generations systems and organizational expertise may have grown but often at the expense of personal discipleship Drawing on 30 years of ministry experience in four churches across three countries my aim is to help you consider how you can better mentor an increasingly isolated generation of older teenagers and young adults those aged roughly between 18 and 30 years Please find attached the three tables illustrations for chapter 4 you can print these off if helpful By reading this you will 1 Gain a better understanding of the history of mentoring and its biblical basis 2 Better appreciate typical hindrances to effective mentoring 3 Consider biblical characters who mentored others and how they point us to Christ 4 Gain clarity regarding your own unique skills interests and knowledge 5 Understand the components essential to a solid mentoring relationship 6 Recognize how you can start to invest practically in young adults and put yourself at God s disposal to help them B Reviews Amazon 5 5 I am in my 6th decade now and can affirm that the mentors I had in the true faith and practice were mainly distant or dead Christian authors I have been throughout the spectrum of Bible believing congregations from Brethren to home church Southern Baptist to Church of Nigeria Community churches to the worldwide Anglican Communion c So I will be reading the rest of this book with great interest It appears to be spot on but physical age has nothing to do with spiritual maturity There is a great lack of spiritual maturity in our congregations among the members regarding our organizational operations our committees our elders our pastors our outreach to the community and the flood of worldliness in our language and practices I m open to hearing someone experienced explain about how to do this biblically and soundly So I will be back to continue or amend a review Shame on all the cowards in my Christian walk who basically abandoned me in their pursuit of worldly affluence power foreign missions etc The first mission field is the family and local church IMO Lord have mercy Galan 4 5 I ve been a mentoring pastor for 40 years in the States and have met Fraser personally I ve seen first hand how he lives his life with authentic grace invitation for organic hospitality with his life and home and how he very naturally mentors relationally He has now put in layman s terms with biblical depth the historical basis critical lost art and helpful steps toward a mentoring lifestyle whether you are in the church or outside in your neighborhood and workplace He answers our doubts questions and negligent busy ness to free us to organically shape key lives around us and we all have them Thank you Fraser for giving us the time to reflect on the shapers evident in our lives the fundamentals of how to incorporate mentoring and the awareness to see what we re losing by not being purposeful mentors to a few key people that are already waiting to be asked Pat Harrison 5 5 A practical hands on guide to mentoring with lots of opportunity to pause for self reflection As someone who personally benefited from the author s guidance and encouragement in becoming a mentor I cannot recommend this book highly enough Suzy J Scribd 5 5 Short sweet and to the point It s not exhaustive or a how to manual on mentoring by any means but it is a great reminder that discipleship and mentoring is how we are to do church together Whether pairing up with those who are younger as is the primary relationship covered in the book or simply someone who is younger in the faith as you we are all to walk together in our goal to be more like Jesus spencerdanielj 2 5 Needs to be structured Better A lot of don't advice versus do Bernard Sia Mentoring for Ministry Craig Thomas Kocher, Jason Byassee, James C. Howell, 2017-05-19 The art of mentoring like all great arts is a grace to be received a gift to be given and a skill that can be learned and practiced This book explores the practice and grace of that art The pastors in these pages share their hard won experience of mentoring and being mentored their wobbles and successes insights and wisdom harvested from years in the vineyard

Organic Mentoring Sue Edwards, Barbara Neumann, 2014 We are experiencing a mentoring crisis today One key reason is that too many women cling to an outdated formulaic idea of what mentoring is all about When we hear the word mentoring we conjure up a picture that fits our experience decades ago Then we look in the mirror and don't see an adequate mentor staring back at us Our preconceived ideas about what today's young women want in a mentor convince us we are not qualified to be mentors but we are wrong What we don't realize is that younger women today are far more likely to want a relationship with that woman in the mirror than the conjured up perfect mentor in our head Organic Mentoring explores foundational issues that explain why beloved but outdated mentoring methods are no longer effective The book looks at the cultural changes and fast paced digital advancements that shape young thought and behavior but weaken the link between generations It walks through the new values preferences ideas and problems of the next generation and how these issues impact mentoring Then the authors guide the reader through landmines to avoid and approaches that work today
