Gender Stereotyping Rebecca Cook, Simone Cusack, 2011-07-19 Drawing on domestic and international law as well as on judgments given by courts and human rights treaty bodies Gender Stereotyping offers perspectives on ways gender stereotypes might be eliminated through the transnational legal process in order to ensure women's equality and the full exercise of their human rights A leading international framework for debates on the subject of stereotypes the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women was adopted in 1979 by the UN General Assembly and defines what constitutes discrimination against women It also establishes an agenda to eliminate discrimination in all its forms in order to ensure substantive equality for women Applying the Convention as the primary framework for analysis this book provides essential strategies for eradicating gender stereotyping Its proposed methodology requires naming operative gender stereotypes identifying how they violate the human rights of women and articulating states obligations to eliminate and remedy these violations According to Rebecca J Cook and Simone Cusack in order to abolish all forms of discrimination against women priority needs to be given to the elimination of gender stereotypes While stereotypes affect both men and women they can have particularly egregious effects on women often devaluing them and assigning them to subservient roles in society As the legal perspectives offered in Gender Stereotyping demonstrate treating women according to restrictive generalizations instead of their individual needs abilities and circumstances denies women their human rights and fundamental freedoms

Framing China Ariane Knüsel, 2016-04-15 Framing China sheds new light on Western relations with and perceptions of China in the first half of the twentieth century In this ground breaking book Ariane Knüsel examines how China was portrayed in political debates and the media in Britain the USA and Switzerland between 1900 and 1950 By focusing on the political economic cultural and social context that led to the construction of the particular images of China in each country the author demonstrates that national interests anxieties and issues influenced the way China was framed and resulted in different portrayals of China in each country The author s meticulous analysis of a vast amount of newspaper and magazine articles commentaries editorials cartoons and newsreels that have previously not been studied before also focuses on the transnational circulation of images of China While previous publications have dealt with the occurrence of the Yellow Peril and Red Menace in particular countries Framing China reveals that these images were interpreted differently in every nation because they both reflected and contributed to the discursive construction of nationhood in each country and were influenced by domestic issues cultural values pre existing stereotypes pressure groups and geopolitical aspirations

Social Psychology Graham M Vaughan, Michael A Hogg, 2013-10-16 The 7th edition of this best selling social psychology text by Graham Vaughan and Michael Hogg Social Psychology retains the structure and approach of the previous edition but has been revised to reflect the changes in the field with the material thoroughly updated throughout Social Psychology 7e continues to capture the scope and detail of contemporary social psychology as an international scientific enterprise and at the same time deals with the subject in a way that is relevant to university teaching and social psychology research in Australia and New Zealand Let My People Go! Phoebe Chifungo, 2023-08-29 Let My people go and serve Me regardless of sex is the ultimate appeal from God Unfortunately some cultural practices and wrong interpretations of the Bible have excluded some especially women from attaining key leadership roles Culturally women are considered second class and men s property source of evil and weaker vessels A wrong interpretation of the scriptures has sidelined women from obtaining decision making positions This is the result of what may be called a One Dimensional Approach and a recommendation is made to re read the biblical texts as well as Chewa culture and the history of the synod with a Multi Dimensional Approach in which the literary theological rhetorical and historical cultural aspects are all considered because this approach liberates the oppressed and the marginalized

Interaction in Communication Technologies and Virtual Learning Environments: Human Factors Ragusa, Angela T., 2010-01-31 This international and interdisciplinary book presents research from a wide range of disciplines business communication education governance law marketing microbiology mining music nursing pharmacy philosophy psychology and sociology utilizing varied technologies to achieve high quality practical and successful communication Provided by publisher Jews and Muslims in German Print Media Katharina F. Gallant, Jolanda van der Noll, 2024-02-27 This book uses a comparative research design to analyze the reporting on the Jewish minority and the Muslim minority in German newspapers from 2010 2019 asking whether minorities are truly treated as equals in the reporting of the mainstream German media After providing historical and socio political context for both groups as minority populations in Germany the authors make use of qualitative and quantitative methods to examine sentiment and determine whether the media demonstrates a unifying or a well differentiated portrayal of the two groups The findings show that reporting on these groups is not as unbiased as many in Germany believe Drawing on frameworks including the needs based model of reconciliation the revised integrated threat theory and the model of acculturation strategies the book then discusses the implications for both journalistic reporting and broader social policies in support of a constructive encounter of dominant and non dominant groups in a diverse society This book will be of interest to scholars and students in the field of migration integration and intergroup relations as well as those in communication media studies and discourse analysis Perspectives on Northern Englishes Sylvie Hancil, Joan C. Beal, 2017-07-10 Northern English has been the object of much attention linguistically over the last thirty years but scholars have had a tendency to focus on the phonology of the dialects and varieties encountered The purpose of the present volume is to complement and enrich the existing studies by providing readers with a kaleidoscopic perspective allowing for a holistic interpretation and understanding of Northern English It includes studies not only on phonology but also on semantics syntax and sociolinguistics from a synchronic and diachronic point of view with a special emphasis on the process of enregisterment The varieties covered include Scottish Standard English Shetland and Northern Ireland as well as varieties from the North of England African American Psychology Faye Z. Belgrave, Kevin W. Allison, 2018-04-19 African American Psychology From Africa to America provides comprehensive coverage of the field of African American psychology Authors Faye Z Belgrave and Kevin W Allison skillfully convey the integration of African and American influences on the psychology of African Americans using a consistent theme throughout the text the idea that understanding the psychology of African Americans is closely linked to understanding what is happening in the institutional systems in the United States The Fourth Edition reflects notable advances and important developments in the field over the last several years and includes evidence based practices for improving the overall well being of African American communities The Handbook of Intergroup Communication Howard Giles, 2012-06-14 The Handbook of Intergroup Communication brings together research theory and application on traditional as well as innovative intergroup situations exploring the communication aspect of these groups The volume is organized into four domains cross disciplinary approaches to intergroup study types processes of communication between groups communication between specific group types and arenas in which intergroup communication takes place Editor Howard Giles worked with an internationally based advisory board to develop and review content and the contributors included here represent those scholars doing innovative and well regarded work around the globe The intergroup umbrella integrates and transcends many traditional conceptual boundaries in communication including media health intercultural organizational hence the Handbook will appeal to scholars and graduate students not only in the core area of intergroup communication itself but across varying terrains of study in communication and beyond including intergroup relations and social psychology Learning from the Federal Market? Based Reforms William J. Mathis, Tina M. Trujillo, 2016-06-01 Over the past twenty years educational policy has been characterized by top down market focused policies combined with a push toward privatization and school choice

The new Every Student Succeeds Act continues along this path though with decision making authority now shifted toward the states. These market based reforms have often been touted as the most promising response to the challenges of poverty and educational disenfranchisement. But has this approach been successful? Has learning improved? Have historically low scoring schools turned around or have the reforms had little effect? Have these narrow conceptions of schooling harmed the civic and social purposes of education in a democracy? This book presents the evidence. Drawing on the work of the nation's most prominent researchers, the book explores the major elements of these reforms as well as the social, political, and educational contexts in which they take place. It examines the evidence supporting the most common school improvement strategies: school choice, reconstitutions, or massive personnel changes and school closures. From there, it presents the research findings cutting across these strategies by addressing the evidence on test score trends, teacher evaluation, miracle schools, the Common Core State Standards, school choice, the newly emerging school improvement industry, and re-segregation among others. The weight of the evidence indisputably shows little success and no promise for these reforms. Thus, the authors counsel strongly against continuing these failed policies. The book concludes with a review of more promising avenues for educational reform, including the necessity of broader societal investments for combatting poverty and adverse social conditions. While schools cannot single-handedly overcome societal inequalities, important work can take place within the public school system with evidence-based interventions such as early childhood education, detracking, adequate funding, and full-service community schools, all intended to renew our nation's commitment to democracy and equal educational opportunity.
