Stereotyping The Politics Of Representation:

Stereotyping Michael Pickering, Stereotyping Michael Pickering, 2001-08-25 Stereotyping stands in need of serious re appraisal This book provides a critical assessment of the concept and its use in the social sciences considering its theoretical basis and historical development and linking these closely to the concept of the Other As the first sustained book length treatment of stereotyping in either sociology or media and cultural studies the text embraces such key topics as nationalism and national identity gender racism and imperialism normality and social order and the figure of the stranger in the modern city It is interdisciplinary moving between sociology social psychology cultural history psychoanalysis and postcolonial theory and offers an indispensable examination of the roots of prejudice and bigotry in modern societies Stereotyping Michael Pickering, Anthropology and the Politics of Representation Gabriela Vargas-Cetina, 2013-02 This book examines the inherently problematic nature of representation and description of living people specifically in ethnography and more generally in anthropological work as a whole In this book the editor brings together a group of international scholars who through their fieldwork experiences reflect on the epistemological political and personal implications of their own work To do so they focus on such topics as ethnography anthropologists engagement in identity politics representational practices the contexts of anthropological research and work and the effects of personal choices regarding self involvement in local causes that may extend beyond purely ethnographic goals Comedy and the Politics of Representation Helen Davies, Sarah Illott, 2018-07-27 This edited collection explores the representations of identity in comedy and interrogates the ways in which humorous constructions of gender sexuality ethnicity religion class and disability raise serious issues about privilege agency and oppression in popular culture Should there be limits to free speech when humour is aimed at marginalised social groups What are the limits of free speech when comedy pokes fun at those who hold social power Can taboo joking be used towards politically progressive ends Can stereotypes be mocked through their re invocation Comedy and the Politics of Representation Mocking the Weak breaks new theoretical ground by demonstrating how the way people are represented mediates the triadic relationship set up in comedy between teller audience and butt of the joke By bringing together a selection of essays from international scholars this study unpacks and examines the dynamic role that humour plays in making and remaking identity and power relations in culture and society British Multiculturalism and the Politics of Representation Lasse Thomassen, 2017-03-08 Uses poststructuralist theory to connect inclusion exclusion and identity using real world case studies from British culture politics and law Lasse Thomassen applies a fresh poststructuralist approach to reconcile the theoretical and practical issues surrounding inclusion exclusion and representation He opens up debates and themes including Britishness race the nature and role of Islam in British society homelessness and social justice Thomassen argues that the politics of inclusion and identity should be viewed as struggles over how these identities are represented He develops this argument through careful analysis of cases from the last four decades of British multiculturalism including public debates about the role of religion in British society Gordon Brown and David Cameron's contrasting versions of Britishness legal cases about religious symbols and clothing in schools and the Nick Hornby novel How to Be Good

Social Inequality & The Politics of Representation Celine-Marie Pascale, 2012-09-25 In a global landscape the representational practices through which inequalities gain meaning are central both within and across national boundaries Social Inequality The Politics of Representation takes a fresh look at how inequalities of class race sexuality gender and nation are constructed in twenty countries on five continents It offers both rich insight and cultural critique yet it does not offer a universal paradigm nor is it concerned with debates about scholarship from the center or the periphery The collection de-centers North American European paradigms by placing scholarship from countries around the globe on equal footing Readers will find a variety of analytical styles including frame analysis semiotics poststructural discourse analysis critical discourse studies and conversation analysis Each chapter provides an overview of relevant cultural and historical contexts for an international audience as well as a brief introduction to relevant methodological and theoretical frameworks Consequently it is both a richly diverse and easily accessible collection Music Video and the Politics of Representation Diane

Railton, 2011-07-07 How can we engage critically with music video and its role in popular culture What do contemporary music videos have to tell us about patterns of cultural identity today Based around an eclectic series of vivid case studies this fresh and timely examination is an entertaining and enlightening analysis of the forms pleasures and politics that music videos offer In rethinking some classic approaches from film studies and popular music studies and connecting them with new debates about the current state of feminism and feminist theory Railton and Watson show why and how we should be studying music videos in the twenty first century Through its thorough overview of the music video as a visual medium this is an ideal textbook for Media Studies students and all those with an interest in popular music and cultural studies Women and the Politics of Representation in Southeast Asia Adeline Koh, Yu-Mei Balasingamchow, 2015-06-03 Singapore and Malaysia are rapidly modernising globalising Asian states which although being distinct nations since 1965 share common elements in the on going struggle over the meaning of gender and sexuality in their societies This is the first book to discuss a range of discourses around gender in these two countries Women and the Politics of Representation in Southeast Asia Engendering Discourse in Singapore and Malaysia seeks to give an overview of how gender and representation come together in various configurations in the history and contemporary culture of both nations It examines the discursive construction of gender sexuality and representation in a variety of areas including the politics of everyday life education popular culture literature film theatre and photography Chapters examine a range of tropes such as the Orientalist Sarong Party Girl the iconic Singapore Girl of Singapore Airlines and the figure of pious Muslim femininity celebrated by Malaysian NGO IMAN all of which play important roles in delineating limitations for gender roles The collection also draws attention to resistance to these gender boundaries in theatre film blogs and social media and pedagogy Bringing together research from a variety of humanistic and social science fields such as film material culture semiotics literature and pedagogy the book is a comprehensive feminist survey that will be of use for students and scholars of Women s Studies and Asian Studies as well as on courses on gender media and popular culture in Asia Representation Stuart Hall,Sean Nixon,Jessica Evans,2024-11-01

Since 1997 Representation has been the go to textbook for students learning the tools to question and critically analyze media texts and images This long awaited third edition has been updated throughout to engage with the impact of digital technology and culture and the changes in political culture social movements and the cultural industries The new edition includes A new preface by Sean Nixon focusing on digital media and theories of representation A new Afterword by Kobena Mercer to Stuart Hall s classic chapter on The Spectacle of the Other Revised chapters with additional content on digital media de westernising culture imperialism and BLM and new readings tying contemporary issues of race gender and power A new chapter by Nancy Thumim exploring digital forms of self representation and representation in of Politics looking at media spectacle political imagery the Me Too movement and Black Lives Matter The Third Edition provides an indispensable resource for students and teachers in cultural and media studies The Politics of Loss and Trauma in Contemporary Israeli Cinema Raz Yosef,2012-05-23

The last decade has marked the growing visibility and worldwide interest in Israeli cinema Films such as Walk on Water Or My Treasure Beaufort and Waltz with Bashir have been commercially and critically successful both in Europe and the United States and have won a number of prestigious international awards This book examines for the first time the new ideological and aesthetic trends in contemporary Israeli cinema More specifically it critically explores the complex and crucial role of Israeli cinema in remembering and restaging traumas and losses that were denied entry into the shared national past One of the most striking phenomena in contemporary Israeli cinema is the number and scope of films dealing with past traumatic events events that were repressed or insufficiently mourned such as the memory of the Holocaust traumas from wars and terrorist attacks and the losses entailed by the experience of immigration Current Israeli cinema exposes and highlights a radical discontinuity between history and memory Traumatic events from Israeli society s past are represented as the private memory of distinct social groups soldiers immigrants women queers and not as collective memory as a lived and practiced tradition that conditions Israeli society This detachment from national collective memory pulls the films into a world marked by a persistent blurring of the historical context and by private and subjective impressions a timeless world of dreams hallucinations and myths These groups feel duty bound to remember the past recasting repressed memories through the cinema in order to return and to give meaning to their identity The Politics of Popular Representation Kenneth MacKinnon,1992

These together with the emphasis on individual responsibility for health and material security not to mention resurgent machismo and a restored belief in the natural and unnatural help to explain the health disaster experienced in the United States United Kingdom and elsewhere A review of English language cinematic entertainment of the eighties reveals that the health crisis was scarcely alluded to although such values as those of militarism masculinity and family loyalty were addressed whether supportively or critically It is the argument of this book that the HIV virus and AIDS are approached if at all only obliquely particularly within the genre of the horror film and especially through those films dealing with corporeality or with lethal challenges to the traditional nuclear family

Affective Communities in World Politics Emma Hutchison, 2016-03-11 Emotions underpin how political communities are formed and function Nowhere is this more pronounced than in times of trauma The emotions associated with suffering caused by war terrorism natural disasters famine and poverty can play a pivotal role in shaping communities and orientating their politics This book investigates how affective communities emerge after trauma Drawing on several case studies and an unusually broad set of interdisciplinary sources it examines the role played by representations from media images to historical narratives and political speeches Representations of traumatic events are crucial because they generate socially embedded emotional meanings which in turn enable direct victims and distant witnesses to share the injury as well as the associated loss in a manner that affirms a particular notion of collective identity While ensuing political orders often re establish old patterns traumatic events can also generate new emotional cultures that genuinely transform national and transnational communities

National Stereotyping, Identity Politics, European Crises, 2021-05-17 The articulation of collective identity by means of a stereotyped repertoire of exclusionary characterizations of Self and Other is one of the longest standing literary traditions in Europe and as such has become part of a global modernity Recently this discourse of Othering and national stereotyping has gained fresh political virulence as a result of the rise of Identity Politics What is more this newly politicized self other discourse has affected Europe itself as that continent has been weathering a series of economic and political crises in recent years The present volume traces the conjunction between cultural and literary traditions and contemporary ideologies during the crisis of European multilateralism Contributors Aelita Ambrulevi t J rgen Barkhoff Stefan Berger Zrinka Bla evi Daniel Carey Ana Mar a Fraile Wulf Kansteiner Joep Leerssen Hercules Millas Zenonas Norkus Aidan O Malley Ra l S nchez Prieto Karel ima Luc Van Doorslaer Ruth Wodak

Black Folklore and the Politics of Racial Representation Shirley Moody-Turner, 2013-10-02 Before the innovative work of Zora Neale Hurston folklorists from the Hampton Institute collected studied and wrote about African American folklore Like Hurston these folklorists worked within but also beyond the bounds of white mainstream institutions They often called into question the meaning of the very folklore projects in which they were engaged Shirley Moody Turner analyzes this output along with the contributions of a disparate group of African American authors and scholars She explores how black authors and folklorists were active participants rather than passive observers in conversations about the politics of representing black folklore Examining literary texts folklore documents cultural performances legal discourse and political rhetoric Black Folklore and the Politics of Racial Representation demonstrates how folklore studies became a battleground across which issues of racial identity and difference were asserted and debated at the turn of the twentieth century The study is framed by two questions of historical and continuing import What role have representations of black folklore played in constructing racial identity And how have those ideas impacted the way African Americans think about and creatively engage black traditions Moody Turner renders established historical facts in a new light and context taking figures we thought we knew such as Charles Chesnut Anna Julia Cooper and Paul Laurence Dunbar and recasting their place in African American intellectual and cultural history

Long Live the King Maite Escudero-Alías, 2008-12-18 Masculinity is no longer a monolithic category if ever it was Long Live the King is a solid piece of scholarship that explores in depth the drag king phenomenon as well as key theoretical texts by feminist postcolonial and cultural thinkers Maite Escudero Alías delves into drag king culture and highlights its relevance for the study of the relationship between gender sex race and sexuality Introduced by a well informed theoretical chapter that traces the roots of queer theory Long Live the King provides the reader with a rigorous textual and cultural examination of drag kings most innovative performances of masculinity in the USA and the UK These chapters prove groundbreaking in their acute analyses of drag kings acts in different media ranging from still images to live performances documentaries mainstream television series and literature Theory and analysis blend perfectly and Escudero Alías's main contention in this research the ambivalent nature of drag kings performances of masculinity is conducted convincingly This book constitutes an invaluable contribution to the field of gender studies and a fair assessment of the political impact of minority artistic practices in contemporary culture

Psychoanalysis and Politics Lene Auestad, 2018-03-22 This book examines the nature of social exclusion and the aspects of the politics of representation in the social interpersonal and political field It questions how psychoanalysis can be used to think about the invisible and subtle processes of power over symbolic representation

Culture, Politics, Race and Diaspora Brian Meeks, 2007 Stuart Hall in whose honour this volume is compiled has made significant contributions to contemporary social and political discourse Constantly praised for his scholarly prescience he was at the helm of the forging and definition of the discipline of Cultural Studies and nurtured an entire cadre of young intellectuals who continue to make remarkable contributions in the fields of Cultural Studies and Social Criticism The essays that constitute this collection all in different ways contend with Hall's methodology his philosophy as well as many other dimensions of his rich and textured intellectual career More importantly however they serve to reconnect his work to the social context of his island of birth Jamaica and the wider Caribbean
