Stewardship Of Life In The Kingdom Of Death:

Stewardship of Life in the Kingdom of Death Douglas John Hall,1988 Christian Mission Douglas John Hall,1985

The Stewardship of Life in the Kingdom of Death Douglas John Hall,1988 This study forcefully sets forth the church's crucial mission of stewardship in our world today Hall outlines a biblical view of what it means to be partners in God's covenant of life in the context of a darkening kingdom of death Christian Theology After Christendom Patricia G. Kirkpatrick,Pamela R. McCarroll,2020-11-24 Christian Theology after Christendom Engaging the Thought of Douglas John Hall brings together contemporary thinkers to engage and build upon Douglas John Hall's work and to take up his challenge to reclaim a contextual and decolonizing theology of the cross as a means to speak to the realities of life and faith today With a focus on contemporary issues this edited collection critically analyzes and deconstructs the centuries old colonial triumphalism of Christian theology and the church in the West This book seeks to frame present day crises in ways that honor a deeply rooted theologia crucis that does not colonize the other It explores constructive decolonizing possibilities for Christian theology at the end of Christendom Power and Marginality in the Abraham Narrative - Second Edition Hemchand Gossai,2010-01-01 Who will speak for Hagar or Isaac or Sarah or the daughters of Lot With an interpretive trajectory that moves from the margin to the center this book gives voice to the marginalized and voiceless in the Abraham Narratives Further this approach is based on the premise that there is a continuum of power in the various characters in these narratives and that the most powerful are those who are lodged at the center while those with the least power are on the margin or beyond The intent of this study is to direct and perhaps re direct our attention to the text and with fresh eyes seek a sometimes radical realignment of roles and power It is true that many of the characters focused on in this book are women This is not however only a book about women though clearly women are the principal characters on the margin

Thinking the Faith Douglas John Hall,1991-01-01 As the Christian movement nears the end of its second millennium it faces a crisis that could not have been anticipated at the close of the first thousand years or indeed by most of our own great grandparents Since the most conspicuous dimensions of the waning of Christendom have to do with material decline the decline in church membership and active attendance of Sunday services the decline in financial and physical prosperity the decline of influence in high places such analyses as there are usually belabor the obvious something drastic is happening to the churches Throughout most of its long history Christianity has not required of its adherents that they should think the faith The historical accident of its political and cultural establishment 15 centuries ago ensured that a thinking faith would be purely optional for members of the church But thought less faith which has always been a contradiction in terms is today a stage on the road to the extinction not only of Christianity itself but of whatever the architects of our civilization meant by Humanity Only a thinking faith can survive Only a thinking faith can help the world survive From the Preface Waiting at the Foot of the Cross Pamela R. McCarroll,2013-12-24 How do we hope in the face of modernity's failure and postmodernity's absence of foundations How do we hope when the future seems fearful and no clear way forward appears How do we hope when despair indifference and cynicism dominate the psychic landscape of English speaking North America In dialogue with theologians of the cross George Grant and Douglas John Hall this book unmask the failure of hope in our time and the vacuum of meaning that remains As an exercise in the theology of the cross Waiting at the Foot of the Cross explores the North American context as one in which true hope is discovered only when life's negations are engaged from a posture of waiting trust Such hope is not passive or blind Rather it is attentive active open and spiritually grounded in the One who meets us when all hope is spent The final chapter proposes a way toward hope for today that inspires subversive resilience in the face of the ambiguities and vicissitudes of life Readers interested in the theology of the cross in thinking theologically in our time and place and those interested in the character of Christian hope will find this book compelling

Confessing the Faith Douglas John Hall, This bold work culminates Hall's three volume contextual theology the first to take the measure of Christian belief and doctrine explicitly in light of North American cultural and historical experience Hall is deeply critical of North American culture but also of sidelined Christian churches that struggle to gain dominance within it We must stop thinking of the reduction of Christendom as a tragedy he says The disestablishment that the churches reluctantly enjoy can enable them to develop genuine community uncompromised theology and honest engagement with the larger culture To a failed culture and a struggling church Hall shows the radical implications of a theology of the cross for the shape and practice of church preaching ministry ethics and eschatology Hall's frank and prophetic volume is the trilogy's most practical and the most sustained probe to date of Christian life in a post Christian context

Emerging from the Dark Age Ahead Charles Fensham, 2011 In this fascinating presentation of faith Charles Fensham argues cogently and passionately for a church that embraces hope in spite of the dark and destructive pressures all around it Although a metaphoric dark time awaits Christianity Fensham assures his readers that this darkness merely conceals the light for the future Emerging from the Dark Age Ahead offers a prophetic and challenging call for contemporary Christians to ask where we have come from where we are and where we are going Professor Fensham borrows from Jane Jacobs the metaphor of the Dark Age ahead bringing social and cultural analysis to bear upon a fresh theology of church and mission for our time and place Drawing from deep roots in the trinitarian tradition and borrowing insight from historic monasticism he calls for a pilgrim steward church that will speak and act constructively in the coming time of troubles This is a creative original work that will stimulate theological students and lay folk as well Harold Wells Professor Emeritus Emmanuel College University of Toronto Insightful provocative instructive words that describe how this book helps the church navigate the deep cultural challenge it now faces of massive technique organized through digitalization Grounding the church's life in a missional hermeneutic of reading Scripture and the church's identity in the social Trinity Fensham boldly yet carefully charts a course for engaging the dark age ahead Craig Van Gelder Ph D Professor of Congregational Mission Luther Seminary Charles Fensham has a unique
