Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages Betty Wallace Robinett, 1983 Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages Betty Wallace Robinett, 1978 Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi, Michael G. Moran, 1990-02-15

This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers. Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975, the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation. This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers. Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing, the book is divided into three sections: Social Science Perspectives, Linguistic Perspectives, and Pedagogical Perspectives. The first section, which contains three essays, views the field through the lens of social, psychological, and political issues. The second section, also containing three essays, examines contributions made from studies of grammar, dialects, and second language acquisition. The third section, in its four essays, focuses on the design, development, administration, and evaluation of basic writing courses; the use of computers in basic writing classrooms; the role of the writing lab; and the preparation of basic writing teachers. An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included, as well as an index. This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics, technical writing, and Teaching English as a Second Language. It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs.

The Essentials of Teaching English to Young Learners Süleyman KASAP, 2024-07-16 The Future of Teaching English for Academic Purposes Tijen Akşit, Hande Işıl Işık, 2020-12-01

As a result of current global and international forces, teaching English for academic purposes (EAP) is going through the most dynamic period in its rather short history. The internationalization of higher education, English further solidifying its role as the lingua franca every single day, and the increasing number of higher education institutions around the globe opting for instruction in the medium of English (EMI) are all contributing forces behind this book. The text disentangles the conflicting views and beliefs regarding the standards, provision, and practices of EAP. Across its chapters, it closely looks at the world of EAP through the lenses of academic practice, learners, curriculum development, program implementation, and teaching and assessment practices. This book will guide all stakeholders of EAP settings to better understand ways in which research and teaching interact and inform each other from a number of vital and relevant perspectives.

Forum, 1980. A journal for the teacher of English outside the United States Research for Materials Development in Language Learning Brian Tomlinson, Hitomi Masuhara, 2010-11-18

This title examines current research in materials development and discusses their implications for the learning and teaching of languages. Recently, there has been a dramatic increase in the attention given to materials development as an academic discipline More universities are including modules on materials development on their MA in applied linguistics courses and more students are studying materials development in their PhD research Yet to date there has been no publication focusing on reporting and discussing the results of research in materials development This fills that gap reporting on the results of recent research projects in materials development and discussing their implications for the learning and teaching of languages The editors introduction outlines the rationale scope and objectives of the book and reviews previously published reports of research in materials development There are concluding chapters which point out implications for second language acquisition theory and research methodology The book features suggest applications of the reported research for materials development and proposals for future action in research in materials development for language teaching

Selected Papers Robert J. Di Pietro, William Frawley, Alfred Wedel, 1983

This volume represents the wide range of interests that comprise applied linguistics today Contains new approaches to such current topics as discourse analysis code switching second language acquisition and functional notational syllabi for language teaching
