Teaching Learning Peace:

Social Education for Peace C. Carter, 2015-04-08 Carter illuminates and validates the vital role of visioning in social education. The book features peace in social education with instructional recommendations, planning resources, and descriptions of transdisciplinary learning. It elaborates mindful citizenship across social, environmental, ethical, geographic, economic, and political realms.

Teaching & Learning Peace William M. Timpson, 2002. Wouldn't it be nice if people all over the world could get on the worldwide web, click on peace, and be hit with an electronic energy impulse that made them experience a true moment without conflict, a moment of real peace? Even then we would have no more than the foundation for building a new culture of peace. Such a foundation is actually the first goal in the ambitious structure Timpson builds to provide models, tools, and techniques for pursuing a new culture of peace through classroom teaching. While we hear the words of many theorists and people devoted to peace and justice, the ultimate strength of this book lies in the practical way Timpson connects the pursuit of peace to the individual, the classroom, the home, the workplace, and the world. The Introduction describes the burden of the book, the questions to be answered: How do we teach about peace? How do we help young people manage their own anger and aggressiveness when violence is so prevalent in their lives at school and on the streets, in the news, on television, in the movies, and in the lyrics of some of their music? When memories of attacks are raw and calls for retaliation are shrill, how does an educator or anyone in a leadership role, who is committed to the ideals of a sustainable peace, open a meaningful dialogue about alternatives to violence? At its core, democracy demands open and honest discussions, and we can do much in our schools, colleges, and universities to support responsible citizenship. Timpson addresses these questions in two parts. Part I lays the groundwork by pointing out where violent behavior originates and offering alternatives on a level familiar to both teachers and students. The chapters in Part I offer practical approaches to understanding how such things as the desire for revenge manifest themselves on both the world stage and in the classroom. Part II connects the values and models of Part I with specific classroom teaching strategies, models, and methods, offering tools and ideas for applying the concepts explored in Part I.

Teaching Peace Through Popular Culture Laura L. Finley, 2023-11-01. Drawing from many disciplinary areas, this edited volume illustrates the many ways that popular culture can be used to teach peace and justice. Chapters address such topics as teaching about racism, domestic violence, structural violence, conflict analysis, decolonization, critiques of capitalism, and peacebuilding, showing how different forms of popular culture can be utilized to enhance student learning. Contributors provide both theoretical backgrounds and concrete lessons using TV, film, music, graphic novels, and more.

Peace Education from the Grassroots Ian Harris, 2013-09-01. Historians often ignore the day-to-day struggles of ordinary people to improve their lives. They tend to focus on the accomplishments of illustrious leaders. Peace Education from the Grassroots tells the stories of concerned citizens, teachers, and grassroots peace activists who have struggled to counteract high levels of violence by teaching about the sources for violence and strategies for peace The stories told here come from the grass roots meaning the educators are close to the forms of violence they are addressing This collection of essays tells how citizens at the grassroots level developed peace education initiatives in thirteen different nations Belgium Canada El Salvador Germany India Jamaica Japan Mexico the Philippines South Korea Spain Uganda and the United States A fourteenth article describes the efforts of the International Red Cross to implement a human rights curriculum to teachers on the ground in the Balkans Iran Senegal and the United States These chapters describe a variety of schools colleges peace movement organizations community based organizations and international nongovernmental organizations engaged in peace education

PEACE EDUCATION Dr. Bimal Charan Swain & Dr. Rajalakshmi Das, 2020-07-01 The growing literature on Peace Education reflects a dynamic field Since the early decades of the 20th century Peace Education programmes around the world have represented a number of focal themes including anti nuclearism environmental responsibility international understanding communication skills non violence human right awareness democracy conflict resolution techniques tolerance of diversity co existence and gender equality among others Peace Education includes cultivation of peacebuilding skills e g dialogue mediation artistic endeavors Peace educators then teach the value of respect understanding and nonviolence present skills for analyzing international conflict educate for alternative security systems and use a pedagogy that is democratic and particular Thus peace education as a practice and philosophy refers to matching complementary element between education and society where the social purpose i e why teach educative process are conducive to fostering peace Accordingly peace education is dialogical experience conducted through participatory learning where learners communally and co operatively grapple with contemporary issues i e talking points related to local and global contexts Akaamaa 2013

Values and Peace Education Dr. M. Soundararajan and Dr. R. Rajalakshmi, Peace Education, 3d ed. Ian M. Harris, Mary Lee Morrison, 2012-12-13 Now in its third edition Peace Education provides a comprehensive approach to educating for a just and sustainable future It begins with religious and historical trends that have molded our understanding of peace and then presents a variety of ways to practice peace education in schools and communities and explains how it can motivate students The teaching and practice of peace education provides a basis of valuable knowledge about resolving conflicts and transforming violence without the use of force Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here EDUCATION FOR WORLD PEACE Issues, Challenges and New Directions Dr. Santosh Kumar Behera, Lamina Kamiludeen Omotoyosi, Think, Care, Act Susan Gelber Cannon, 2011-12-01 Committed to teaching for peace and justice the author brings to life a teaching approach that empowers youth to think critically and creatively about historical current and future issues to care about classmates and neighbors as well as the global community to act locally and globally for the greater good Think Care Act Teaching for a Peaceful Future is readable practical conversational and intimate It will inspire readers to build a just and peaceful world Think Care Act depicts the daily successes and struggles a peace educator undergoes in encouraging students
