Ethics Teaching in Higher Education Daniel Callahan, Sissela Bok, 2012-12-06 A concern for the ethical instruction and formation of students has always been a part of American higher education Yet that concern has by no means been uniform or free from controversy The centrality of moral philosophy in the undergraduate curriculum during the mid 19th Century gave way later during that era to the first signs of increasing specialization of the disciplines By the middle of the 20th Century instruction in ethics had by and large become confined almost exclusively to departments of philosophy and religion Efforts to introduce ethics teaching in the professional schools and elsewhere in the university often met with indifference or outright hostility The past decade has seen a remarkable resurgence of the interest in the teaching of ethics at both the undergraduate and the professional school levels Beginning in 1977 The Hastings Center with the support of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund and the Carnegie Corporation of New York undertook a systematic study of the state of the teaching of ethics in American higher education Approaches to Ethics in Higher Education Susan

Teaching Bioethics K. Danner Clouser, 1980 The past decade has seen a remarkable resurgence of interest in the teaching of ethics at both the undergraduate and professional school levels Beginning in 1977 The Hastings Center with the support of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund and the Carnegie Corporation of New York undertook a systematic study of the teaching of ethics in American higher education Our concern focused on the extent and quality of that teaching and on the main possibilities and problems posed by widespread efforts to find a more central and significant role for ethics in the curriculum As part of that project a number of papers studies and monographs were commissioned Moreover in an attempt to gain some degree of consensus the authors of those studies worked together as a group for a period of two years The study presented here represents one outcome of the project We hope and believe it will be helpful for those concerned to advance and deepen the teaching of ethics in higher education Foreword
