- Write down ONE main story question which will be answered by the end of the novel. Will the heroine find love? Will the detective discover who the real killer is?

STORY LENGTH

- Short Novel: 45,000 to 60,000 words

DEVELOP AND EXPAND ON THE STORY IDEA

- What central question does the main idea pose?
- How can you expand that to several levels for secondary characters?
- What is at stake for the main character?
- Why should a reader care about that issue?
- Is there a central dilemma that will drive the story?

Techniques of Novel Writing Abraham Saul Burack, 1973 The Technique of Fiction Writing Robert Saunders Dowst, 1921 21 Tips for Writers: How to Integrate Filmmaking Concepts into Your Novel Adrian Robbe, 2017-08-27 Boost your fiction novel writing skills to new amazing levels Write your novel through the eyes of a film director Make your novel read like you're watching a Hollywood movie Learn about 21 proven well established filmmaking principles Apply filmmaking theory and motion picture concepts to your fiction novel 21 Tips for Writers provides a new revolutionary approach to storytelling It is an excellent resource for aspiring as well as seasoned authors in learning how to apply proven Hollywood filmmaking principles for writing fiction novels This book contains an analysis of 21 filmmaking concepts used by famous film directors in some of the most successful entertaining Hollywood movies ever made Applying the filmmaking principles theory and concepts addressed in this book to the writing of your fiction novel can help bolster your story writing skills to new remarkable levels by taking a good book and making it great Novel Writing Techniques Sherice Townes, 2021-08-16 The art of writing novels can seem mysterious to those who have never attempted such an endeavor But seasoned authors will tell you there is nothing particularly secretive about the book writing process In this book you'll learn all about The structure of a poem including the line structure stanzas and form of a poem The meter of a poem such as what it is how you can use stressed and unstressed syllables to your advantage and how you can count your feet and not the ones at the end of your legs How to use rhyming and the different forms How to write your very first poem And much much more The Technique of Fiction Writing Robert Saunders Dowst, 2015-09-07 One cannot dabble long at architecture or the graphic arts without gaining keen realization of the fact that conception in its elaborative aspects is as much a part and phase of technique as the executive handling of materials But the art of literature and more narrowly the art of fiction deal with materials other than those employed in the other arts words not colors or marble nor yet sounds are the resource of the story teller to precipitate his conception in enduring form and words are at once frank and mysterious things Introduction I The Writer Himself II The Choice of Matter III Conceptive Technique Story Types IV Conceptive Technique Plot and Situation V Constructive Technique of Narration VI Executive Technique of Narration VII Executive Technique of Narration Continued VIII Description IX Speech X Portrayal of Character XI Atmosphere XII The Short Story XIII The Novel XIV Conclusion Appendix Many books have been written on fiction technique and the chief excuse for the present addition to the number is the complexity of the subject Its range is so wide it calls for so many and so different capacities in one attempting to discuss it that a new work has more than a chance to meet at least two or three deficiencies in all other treatments I believe that the chief deficiency in most works on fiction technique is that the author unconsciously has slipped from the viewpoint of a writer of a story to that of a reader Now a reader without intention to try his own hand at the game is not playing fair in studying technique and a book on technique has no business to entertain him Accordingly I have striven to keep to the viewpoint of one who seeks to learn how to write stories and have made no attempt to analyze the work of masters of fiction for the sake of the analysis alone Such analysis is interesting to make and also interesting to read but it is not directly profitable to the writer It is indirectly profitable of course but it will give very little direct aid to one who has a definite story idea and wishes to be told the things he must consider in developing it and writing the story or to one who wishes to be told roughly how he should go about the business of finding real stories In fact I believe that discussion and analysis of perfect work has a tendency to chill the enthusiasm of the beginning writer What he chiefly needs is to be told the considerations he must hold in mind in conceiving developing and writing a story The rest lies with his own abilities and capacities to work intelligently and to take pains
