Technological Systems And Economic Performance The Case Of Factory Automation:

Technological Systems and Economic Performance: The Case of Factory Automation B. Carlsson, 2012-12-06 In 1987 the Swedish National Board for Technical Development STU later becoming the Swedish National Board for Industrial and Technical Development NUTEK initiated a study of Sweden's Technological Systems and Future Development Potential. A comprehensive interdisciplinary study was envisioned yielding not only useful insight but also a permanent competence base for future analyses of technological systems and technology policy in Sweden. Three leading Swedish research institutes were invited to participate: the Industrial Institute for Economic and Social Research in Stockholm, the Department of Industrial Management and Economics at Chalmers University of Technology in Gothenburg, and the Research Policy Institute at the University of Lund. I was invited to direct the project. The project group decided to focus initially on a particular technological system, namely factory automation, to be followed by similar studies of other systems. Numerous publications have resulted from the project thus far. The current volume represents a summary of our work on factory automation. It consists of several original essays and of some previously published papers which have been edited in some cases substantially in order to form a comprehensive and coherent picture of a technological system. To our knowledge this is the first in-depth analysis of a technological system designed as a component of a systematic study of technological systems more generally. At the time of this writing, three further studies on electronics and computers, pharmaceuticals, and powder technology are under way to be published in a later volume.

Technological Systems and Industrial Dynamics B. Carlsson, 2013-12-01 This volume constitutes a summary of several years' multi-disciplinary research by a group of Swedish researchers. The project 'Sweden's Technological Systems and Future Development Potential' was initiated by the Swedish National Board for Industrial and Technical Development NUTEK and has been carried out at the Department of Industrial Management and Economics at Chalmers University of Technology in Gothenburg, the Research Policy Institute at the University of Lund, the Industrial Institute for Economic and Social Research IUI in Stockholm, and the Department of Industrial Economics and Management at the Royal Institute of Technology Stockholm, under the direction of Bo Carlsson. Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio. The project group decided early on to focus first on the technological system for factory automation, a relatively mature system of great importance to Swedish industry and in which Sweden has reached a leading position internationally, and then to shift the attention to other systems in various stages of development and with varying Swedish strength. The work on factory automation resulted in numerous papers and publications summarized in a volume published in 1995: Technological Systems and Economic Performance: The Case of Factory Automation, ed. Bo Carlsson, Dordrecht.

Britain's Productivity Problem, 1948-1990 M. Bufton, 2004-06-30 This volume examines attempted changes to industrial relations in Britain during 1948-1990, designed to promote institutional reforms of management and trade unions. Specific focus is given to the Donovan Commission and other trade union reforms and incomes policies to connect pay more tightly with productivity. International

initiatives of the AACBP and EPA are also included

Technological Systems in the Bio Industries B.

Carlsson,2012-12-06 Technological Systems in the Bio Industries An International Study represents a comprehensive interdisciplinary and systematic effort to understand the nature and role of technological change in a rapidly evolving arena of economic activity that can be loosely referred to as the bio industries These include biomedical industries that deliver goods and services used in health care including those based on genetic engineering as well as applications of biotechnology in other industries such as agriculture food production and the forest industries This volume is the third in a continuing series of studies on technological systems it seeks to identify and address new sets of conceptual and methodological issues in analyzing innovation systems particularly as regards the delimitation of relevant systems The book makes an in depth comparison of the biomedical clusters in Sweden and Ohio It also sheds light on the emergence of new science based technological systems

Technical Change and Economic Growth George M. Korres,2016-12-05 Technological change is not only a determinant of growth but is also a pivotal factor in international competition and the modernization of an economy In one of the most in depth and detailed studies of its kind George Korres analyzes the macroeconomic and the microeconomic factors influencing the economics of innovation and the economic relations between technology innovation knowledge and productivity In particular this book examines both the theoretical framework and the applications for empirical results This second edition contributes updated figures and estimations for technical change from EU member states and features new subjects including growth models productivity models production function models and non parametric models In one of the most in depth and detailed studies of its kind this book captures all the existing contemporary techniques in the theoretical fields as well as the empirical applications of the models

Evolutionary Economics and Creative Destruction J. Stanley Metcalfe,2006 The central theme of this book is competition treated as an evolutionary process in which the focus is upon economic change and not economic equilibrium This theme is explored by linking together differences in economic behaviour with the role of markets as co ordinating institutions In this picture innovation plays a central role as a primary source of differential behaviour of firms and the purpose of the book is to identify the consequences of these differences for competition and competitive advantage

Public-Private Innovation Networks in Services Faiz Gallouj,Luis Rubalcaba,Paul Windrum,2013-01-01 For too long the prevalent view has been that the public and private sectors differ dramatically when it comes to innovation This book takes a radically different tack not as a rhetorical stance but as the basis for fruitful empirical analysis The studies here show that public service organizations and their leaders can be innovative in their own right The contributions made here provide insights that will productively inform future research and practice Ian Miles University of Manchester UK This book is devoted to the study of public private innovation networks in services ServPPINs These are a new type of innovation network which have rapidly developed in service economies ServPPINs are collaborations between public and private service organizations their objective being the development of new and improved services which encompass both technological and non technological innovations The book presents in depth empirical research from different service sectors across Europe in order to explore the nature of these public private collaborations It elucidates the processes of formation entrepreneurship and management the types of innovations ServPPINs generate and the nature of the public policies required to support them This multidisciplinary book will appeal to academics and students in economics management and the sociology of services and innovation Managers in the public and private service sector and public authorities will also find much to interest them Scientific, Health and Social Aspects of the Food Industry Benjamin

Valdez,2012-02-01 This book presents the wisdom knowledge and expertise of the food industry that ensures the supply of food to maintain the health comfort and wellbeing of humankind The global food industry has the largest market the world population of seven billion people The book pioneers life saving innovations and assists in the fight against world hunger and food shortages that threaten human essentials such as water and energy supply Floods droughts fires storms climate change global warming and greenhouse gas emissions can be devastating altering the environment and ultimately the production of foods Experts from industry and academia as well as food producers designers of food processing equipment and corrosion practitioners have written special chapters for this rich compendium based on their encyclopedic knowledge and practical experience This is a multi authored book The writers who come from diverse areas of food science and technology enrich this volume by presenting different approaches and orientations Inclusive Innovation Rajeswari S. Raina,Keshab

Das,2020-02-27 This book discusses the role of inclusive innovation for development in rural India It uses the evidence of innovation in the context of skewed or limited livelihood options and multiple knowledge systems to argue that if inclusive innovation is to happen the actors and the nature of the innovation system need reform The book presents cases of substantive technological changes and institutional reforms enabling inclusive innovation in rural manufacturing sustainable agriculture health services and the processes of technological learning in traditional informal networks as well as in formal modern commodity markets These cases offer lessons to enable learning and change within the state and formal science and technology S T organizations By focusing on these actors central to development economics and innovation systems framework the book bridges the widening conceptual gaps between these two parallel knowledge domains and offers options for action by several actors to enable inclusive innovation systems The content is thus of value to a wide audience consisting of researchers policy makers NGOs and industry observers Baltic Business and Socio-Economic Development 2007 Jost

W. Kramer,2010-01-01 Systems of Innovation Charles Edquist,2013-01-11 The systems of innovation approach is considered by many to be a useful analytical approach for better understanding innovation processes as well as the production and distribution of knowledge in the economy It is an appropriate framework for the empirical study of innovations in their contexts and is relevant for policy makers This text is the result of the work within an international interdisciplinary network or working seminar with the task of building a more solid and sophisticated conceptual and theoretical foundation for the continued study of innovations in a systemic context The book has three parts The first presents an overview and tries to work out some conceptual problems In the second the systems of innovation approach is related to innovation theory Part three is devoted to increasing understanding of the functioning and dynamics of systems of innovation There is also an introduction where the genesis and anatomy of different systems of innovation approaches are discussed and where the systems of innovation approach is characterized in nine dimensions

Handbook of Innovation Systems and Developing Countries Bengt-Åke Lundvall, K.J. Joseph, Cristina Chaminade, Jan Vang, 2011-01-01 The innovation systems IS approach emerged as a theoretical framework in the industrialized world in the mid 1990s to explain innovation and growth in the developed world This Handbook is the first attempt to adapt the IS approach to developing countries from a theoretical and empirical viewpoint The Handbook brings eminent scholars in economics innovation and development studies together with promising young researchers to review the literature and push theoretical boundaries They critically review the IS approach and its adequacy for developing countries discuss the relationship between IS and development and address the question of how it should be adapted to the realities of developing nations Spanning national sectoral and regional innovation systems across Asia Latin America and Africa and written by the world's leading scholars within the field this comprehensive Handbook will strongly appeal to academics researchers and students with an interest in innovation and technology in developing countries

Competitiveness, Localised Learning and Regional Development Heikki Eskelinen, Ingjaldur Hannibalsson, Anders Malmberg, Peter Maskell, Eirik Vatne, 2002-03-11 Drawing on a rich literature and case study material from selected industries and elaborating on key concepts such as firms and competencies industries and industrial systems and competitiveness and prosperity this book sets out to answer three broad research questions What is competition about in today's economy Why do geographical areas local milieus cities regions countries specialize in particular types of economic activity and why do patterns of specialization once in place tend to be so tremendously durable How can high cost regions in general and small industrialized countries in particular sustain competitiveness and prosperity in an increasingly globally integrated world economy This book points the way out of a dilemma created by recent industrial theory and policy is it possible for countries which are not destined to be leading high tech powers to take advantage of the current conjuncture of increasingly open markets

Global Innovation in Emerging Economies Prasada Reddy, 2011 This title examines the dynamics of the globalisation processes and the emergence of new locations for innovation and its implications

Long Term Economic Development Andreas Pyka, Esben Sloth Andersen, 2013-06-22 The book gives an overview of important research topics recently addressed in evolutionary Neo Schumpeterian Economics The list of research questions and applications of Neo Schumpeterian reasoning impressively demonstrates the rich possibilities ranging from theoretical issues addressing human behaviour to applied areas like the emergence of biotechnology in developing countries the role of innovation on financial markets and the R D strategies of multinational enterprises The chapters in this book bring together a rich set of new analytical and empirical methodologies which allow for new relevant and rigorous insights in innovation processes which are responsible for economic development and structural change Competitiveness Strategy in Developing Countries Ganeshan Wignaraja, 2003-10-04 Globalization and structural adjustment offer many opportunities for export orientated industrialization in developing economies As a group competitiveness in the developing countries has improved but while East Asian economies have had rapid export growth and technological upgrades South Asian and African economies have lagged behind Old structures institutions behavioural patterns and public policies are ill adapted to deal with the challenges posed by technological change and economic liberalization Consequently there is an urgent need for change in government and private sector attitudes and strategies This volume seeks to generalise the lessons across developing country and enterprise cases and sheds light on which trade and industrial strategies and instruments work best and which do not work in relation to manufacturing competitiveness The Economics of Persistent Innovation: An Evolutionary

View Christian Bas, William Latham, 2009-06-04 William Latham Christian Le Bas Persistence of firm innovative behavior became an important topic in applied industrial organization with the publication of the seminal empirical work of P Geroski and his colleagues 1997 Evidence that firms innovate persistently has led previous studies to focus on the determinants of innovation persistence and on its heterogeneity across industries technologies and countries The aims of this book are 1 to illumine the scale and scope of the phenomenon of persistence in innovation and 2 to account for the principal factors that explain why some firms innovates persistently and others do not Because this book deals intensively and extensively with the subject of firm innovation persistence which is not as yet a well known term we need to provide a nontrivial definition of it that encompasses the full range topics we want to address and aids our understanding of how they are related to each other We begin with a careful identification of innovation Our first definition is drawn from K Pavitt 2003 innovation processes involve the exploration and exploitation of opportunities for a new or improved product process or service based either on an advance in technical practice or a change in market demand or a combination of the two While this definition is clear and conforms well to both our empirical and theoretical perspectives some elaboration may help to clarify the concept

Innovation Governance in an Open Economy Annika Rickne, Staffan Laestadius, Henry Etzkowitz, 2012-05-04 In an increasingly globalised world paradoxically regional innovation clusters have moved to the forefront of attention as a strategy for economic and social development Transcending international success cases like Silicon Valley and Route 128 as sources of lessons successful high tech clusters in niche areas have had a significant impact on peripheral regions Are these successful innovation clusters born or made If they are subject to planning and direction what is the shape that it takes top down bottom up or lateral Knowledge Commercialization and Valorization in Regional Economic Development Tüzün Baycan, 2013-01-01 The commercialization of academic knowledge is increasingly seen as a potential economic development model particularly for improving the capabilities and economic performance of regions This insightful volume investigates the emerging factors in knowledge commercialization from an international perspective and highlights research agendas and challenges to be met across academia industry and government The expert contributors focus specifically on the new role of universities in regional economic development through knowledge commercialization as well as university industry interaction and the factors that influence knowledge and technology transfer They explore knowledge commercialization in the US knowledge valorization in Europe and technology transfer dynamics in China A forum for discussion of whether why and how commercialization and valorization of knowledge can lead to higher levels of innovation and economic development from an international perspective is also provided This thought provoking book will prove a stimulating read for academics students and researchers with an interest in regional economics regional studies and knowledge management
