Technoromanticism Digital Narrative Holism And The Romance Of The Real:

Technoromanticism Richard Coyne,2001 The Virtual Community, revised edition Howard Rheingold,2000-10-23

Howard Rheingold tours the virtual community of online networking Howard Rheingold has been called the First Citizen of the Internet In this book he tours the virtual community of online networking He describes a community that is as real and as much a mixed bag as any physical community one where people talk argue seek information organize politically fall in love and dupe others At the same time that he tells moving stories about people who have received online emotional support during devastating illnesses he acknowledges a darker side to people s behavior in cyberspace Indeed contends Rheingold people relate to each other online much the same as they do in physical communities Originally published in 1993 The Virtual Community is more timely than ever This edition contains a new chapter in which the author revisits his ideas about online social communication now that so much more of the world s population is wired It also contains an extended bibliography

e-Religion Anastasia Karaflogka,2014-12-18 Religion has flourished in cyberspace bringing individuals together helping to consolidate fringe religions promoting activism and evangelism and providing sites for the promotion and examination of specific issues E Religion is one of the first systematic scholarly studies of religion on the Web Providing a clear outline of Web epistemology and theory the book outlines the key methodologies for the study of e religions The book will be invaluable to students of religion sociology and technology Aesthetic Computing Paul A. Fishwick,2006 The application of the theory and practice of art to computer science how aesthetics and art can play a role in computing disciplines Sounding New Media Frances Dyson,2009-09-04 Sounding New Media examines the long neglected role of sound and audio in the development of new media theory and practice including new technologies and performance art events with particular emphasis on sound embodiment art and technological interactions Frances Dyson takes an historical approach focusing on technologies that became available in the mid twentieth century electronics imaging and digital and computer processing and analyzing the work of such artists as John Cage Edgard Var se Antonin Artaud and Char Davies She utilizes sound s intangibility to study ideas about embodiment or its lack in art and technology as well as fears about technology and the so called post human Dyson argues that the concept of immersion has become a path leading away from aesthetic questions about meaning and toward questions about embodiment and the physical The result is an insightful journey through the new technologies derived from electronics imaging and digital and computer processing toward the creation of an aesthetic and philosophical framework for considering the least material element of an artwork sound Media Ecologies Matthew Fuller,2005 A dirty materialist ride through the media cultures of pirate radio photography the Internet media art cultural evolution and surveillance The Visual Mind II Michele Emmer,2005 This collection of essays by artists and mathematicians continues the discussion of the connections between art and mathematics begun in the widely read first volume of The Visual Mind in 1993 BOOK JACKET The Cultural Imaginary of the Internet M. Yar,2014-05-12

Contemporary culture offer contradictory views of the internet and new media technologies painting them in extremes of optimistic enthusiasm and pessimistic concern This book explores such representations uncovering the roots of our cultural responses to the internet centred upon a profoundly ambivalent reaction to technological modernity The Global Genome Eugene Thacker,2006-09-08 How global biotechnology is redefining life itself In the age of global biotechnology DNA can exist as biological material in a test tube as a sequence in a computer database and as economically valuable information in a patent In The Global Genome Eugene Thacker asks us to consider the relationship of these three entities and argues that by their existence and their interrelationships they are fundamentally redefining the notion of biological life itself Biological science and the biotech industry are increasingly organized at a global level in large part because of the use of the Internet in exchanging biological data International genome sequencing efforts genomic databases the development of World Intellectual Property policies and the borderless business of biotech are all evidence of the global intersections of biology and informatics of genetic codes and computer codes Thacker points out the internal tension in the very concept of biotechnology the products are more tech than bio but the technology itself is fully biological composed of the biomaterial labor of genes proteins cells and tissues Is biotechnology a technology at all he asks or is it a notion of life itself that is inseparable from its use in the biotech industry The three sections of the book cover the three primary activities of biotechnology today the encoding of biological materials into digital form as in bioinformatics and genomics its recoding in various ways including the biocolonialism of mapping genetically isolated ethnic populations and the newly pervasive concern over biological security and its decoding back into biological materiality as in tissue engineering and regenerative medicine Thacker moves easily from science to philosophy to political economics enlivening his account with ideas from such thinkers as Georges Bataille Georges Canguilhem Michel Foucault Antonio Negri and Paul Virilio The global genome says Thacker makes it impossible to consider biotechnology without the context of globalism Motherless Creations Wendy C. Nielsen,2022-05-30 This book explains the elimination of maternal characters in American British French and German literature before 1890 by examining motherless creations Pygmalion s statue Frankenstein s creature homunculi automata androids golems and steam men These beings typify what is now called artificial life living systems made through manufactured means Fantasies about creating life ex utero were built upon misconceptions about how life began sustaining pseudoscientific beliefs about the birthing body Physicians inventors and authors of literature imagined generating life without women to control the process of reproduction and generate perfect progeny Thus some speculative fiction before 1890 belongs to the literary genealogy of transhumanism the belief that technology will someday transform some humans into superior immortal beings Female motherless creations tend to operate as sexual companions Male ones often emerge as subaltern figures analogous to enslaved beings illustrating that reproductive rights inform readers sense of who counts as human in fictions of artificial life Cross-Cultural Competence Slawomir Magala,2005-11-16 Cross cultural management is a crucial challenge for the development of international business yet it is often badly understood and poorly implemented This book provides a fresh look at this complex topic with theory tool kits and applications Playing with the Past Erik Champion,2010-09-28 How can we increase awareness and understanding of other cultures using interactive digital visualizations of past civilizations In order to answer the above question this book first examines the needs and requirements of virtual travelers and virtual tourists Is there a market for virtual travel Erik Champion examines the overall success of current virtual environments especially the phenomenon of computer gaming Why are computer games and simulations so much more successful than other types of virtual environments Arguments that virtual environments are impeded by technological constraints or by a paucity of evaluation studies can only be partially correct for computer games and simulations are also virtual environments Many of the underlying issues are caused by a lack of engagement with the philosophical underpinnings of culture presence and inhabitation and there are few exemplars that engage the public with history and heritage using interactive media in a meaningful and relevant manner The intention of Playing With the Past is to help designers and critics understand the issues involved in creating virtual environments that promote and disseminate historical learning and cultural heritage through a close study of the interactive design principles at work behind both real and virtual places Topics discussed include the design of virtual environments and especially virtual heritage environments virtual place making cultural presence the pros and cons of game style interaction augmented reality projects and appropriate evaluation methods Virtual heritage environments discussed in the book include projects from Antarctica Australia Mexico Malta Egypt Babylon the Netherlands Cambodia and India History in Contemporary Art and Culture Paul O'Kane,2022-07-29 This unique book offers guidance for contemporary art practices in dialogue with history story memory and tradition Artist and lecturer Paul O Kane uses innovative and creative means informed by a storytelling tradition as well as academic research to make connections between contemporary art history and the past The aim of this book is to give readers a sense of the profundity of historical questions while making the challenge inviting welcoming and manageable It is designed to set out an expansive inclusive and diverse range of potential directions and speculations from which students can develop personal paths of enquiry This is achieved by writing and designing the text in an accessible way and providing a range of ways in A series of carefully chosen references examples key texts and possible essay questions are chosen and pitched at various levels and can be close read discussed digested and responded to either verbally or in the form of a presentation or essay Written primarily for a broad range of fine arts students this book encourages readers to reconsider their studies and art practices in light of a historical perspective enhanced by creative contributions from artists imaginative philosophers and influential cultural commentators Perception and Organization A. Styhre,2008-10-09 Drawing on a heterogeneous body of literature including art music and media theory as well as philosophical and historical studies of perception this book demonstrates that everyday work in organizations is strongly shaped by and embedded in human perception Diffractional Technospaces Federica

Timeto,2016-03-09 The entanglements of information and materiality in our media environment that new information and communication technologies make increasingly mobile and locative changes the mediations between space and society The fluidity and continual reworking of the boundaries of contemporary technospaces the sociotechnical environments in which humans and machines relate and intersect is key to the production and consumption of contemporary technologies Theoretical analyses of communication and space have tended to engage in the representation of such changes without interrogating the representational instruments used at a broader methodological level Articulating a non representational perspective on knowledge production and artistic practices combined with an analysis of space this book offers a new performative and relational re turn to representation in contemporary technospaces The radically materialist posthumanist and performative position from which this situated aesthetics of technospaces is elaborated aligns this book not only with non representational theory but also with the theories of material feminism feminist geography situated epistemologies science and technology studies actor network theory performance studies and new media studies The Boundaries of Freedom of Expression & Order in American Democracy Thomas R. Hensley,2001 On Monday May 4th 1970 members of the Ohio National Guard fired 61 rounds of bullets into the Kent State University students protesting about the invasion of Cambodia This work develops the ideas of the first symposium on American democracy established to commemorate the tragedy

Playing with the Past: Into the Future Erik Champion,2023-01-01 Since the turn of this century and even earlier a plethora of projects have arisen to promise us bold new interactive adventures and immersive travel into the past with digital environments using mixed virtual or augmented reality as well as computer games In Playing with the Past Into the Future Erik Champion surveys past attempts to communicate history and heritage through virtual environments and suggests new technology and creative ideas for more engaging and educational games and virtual learning environments This second edition builds on and updates the first edition with new game discussions surveys design frameworks and theories on how cultural heritage could be experienced in digital worlds via museums mobile phones or the Metaverse Recent games and learning environments are reviewed with provocative discussion of new and emerging promises and challenges

Primitive Jo Odgers,Flora Samuel,Adam Sharr,2006-09-27 This innovative illustrated edited edition brings together a collection of authors to chart the rise fall and possible futures of the word primitive Nobody's Business Brian M. Reed,2013-08-15 Since the turn of the new millennium English language verse has entered a new historical phase but explanations vary as to what has actually happened and why What might constitute a viable avant garde poetics in the aftermath of such momentous developments as 9 11 globalization and the financial crisis Much of this discussion has taken place in ephemeral venues such as blogs e zines public lectures and conferences Nobody's Business is the first book to treat the emergence of Flarf and Conceptual Poetry in a serious way In his engaging account Brian M Reed argues that these movements must be understood in relation to the proliferation of digital communications technologies and their integration into the corporate workplace Writers such as Andrea Brady Craig Dworkin Kenneth Goldsmith Danny Snelson and Rachel Zolf specifically target for criticism the institutions skill sets and values that make possible the smooth functioning of a postindustrial globalized economy Authorship comes in for particular scrutiny how does writing a poem differ in any meaningful way from other forms of content providing While often adept at using new technologies these writers nonetheless choose to explore anachronism ineptitude and error as aesthetic and political strategies The results can appear derivative tedious or vulgar they can also be stirring compelling and even sublime As Reed sees it this new generation of writers is carrying on the Duchampian practice of generating antiart that both challenges prevalent definitions of art and calls into question the legitimacy of the institutions that define it

Locative Media Rowan Wilken, Gerard Goggin, 2014-08-07 Not only is locative media one of the fastest growing areas in digital technology but questions of location and location awareness are increasingly central to our contemporary engagements with online and mobile media and indeed media and culture generally This volume is a comprehensive account of the various location based technologies services applications and cultures as media with an aim to identify inventory explore and critique their cultural economic political social and policy dimensions internationally In particular the collection is organized around the perception that the growth of locative media gives rise to a number of crucial questions concerning the areas of culture economy and policy
