Teilhard In The Ecological Age:

Teilhard in the Ecological Age Thomas Berry, 1982 A Theology for the Earth Anne Marie Dalton, 1999 While many feel that something must be done few perceive the state of the ecological crisis as a profound religious problem While Thomas Berry sought to fire the imagination and motivate his listener to action Bernard Lonergan was absorbed by the growing gulf between traditional Christian theology and its relevance to modern problems This book brings together the work of these dynamic thinkers and examines their mutual contribution to theology for our time and for our planet Published in English

This Sacred Earth Roger S. Gottlieb, 1996 This is the first comprehensive survey of the critical connections between religion nature and the environment It includes writings from sacred texts and a broad spectrum of new eco theological selections Historical and contemporary selections from key authors and a multicultural range of sources make This Sacred Earth an invaluable teaching resource and a unique introduction to the theory and practice of religious environmentalism

Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa Pantheism and Ecology Luca Valera, 2023-11-14 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the relationship between pantheism and ecology particularly considering different cultural approaches and diverse religious theological and philosophical traditions Environmental ethics arises from the dangerousness and harmfulness of human beings with respect to nonhuman species and more generally with respect to the environment A common starting point for environmental ethics standpoints is that human beings are responsible for damaging nature The famous four laws of ecology drafted by Barry Commoner precisely express this guilt on the part of human beings who very often voluntarily violate the behavioral indications that emerge from nature itself These aspects concern environmental ethics outlooks Eco theology then takes a further step not only do we damage the ecosystem but also as many authors suggest when we humans destroy the natural world we are wounding God Such an idea implies a possible coincidence of God with the natural world or the ecosystem From this assumption different questions may emerge what is the kind of coincidence between God and the natural world Are God and the ecosystem coextensive If so are we re sacralizing the natural world and grounding intrinsic values in theological postulates and statements These questions lead us to reconsider the cosmological assumptions that ground our environmental judgements from theology to different religious traditions and cultures to philosophical worldviews In particular we will focus on the cosmological assumptions of pantheism considering its differences with panentheism discussing the symmetrical or asymmetrical relationships between God and the finite ways in which God manifests Godself In this regard the book is divided into three main parts in the first part the question of pantheism is approached from different traditions and with a special focus on the main thinkers in the history of thought from Greek Stoicism to the present day In the second part some current ecological concerns are considered in relation to pantheistic cosmology the authors will deepen issues from the discussion of the different pan conceptions to the problem of evil to Anthropocene Finally in the third part the different chapters will focus on ethical issues in the field of the current environmental crisis with a huge connection with the pantheistic cosmologies This book is oriented to a wide public interested in environmental issues and looking for an approach from different cultures and traditions Evidently due to its academic nature this book is also intended to be a great support for researchers interested in eco theology and more specifically in the relationship between pantheism and ecology It is not in this sense a classic book on environmental ethics but a book that delves into the fundamentals of environmental philosophy privileging the Ibero American approach

Redeeming the Time Stephen Bede Scharper, 1998-06-01 This is an examination of environmental theology from 4 major viewpoints Scharper explores the viewpoints of process theology the new cosmology of Thomas Berry ecofeminism and liberation theologians
