Fultz, 2003 In this innovative study Lucille P Fultz explores Toni Morrison's rich body of work uncovering the interplay between differences love and hate masculinity and femininity black and white past and present wealth and poverty that lie at the heart of these vibrant and complex narratives Much has already been made of Morrison's treatment of race but Playing with Difference demonstrates that throughout her work Morrison creates a sophisticated matrix of difference layering a multitude of other distinctions onto the racial one and observing how these potencies of difference play themselves out in her characters Fultz's holistic thematic approach to her subject enables her to move deftly among the novels and stories building a nuanced understanding of how markers of difference influence Morrison's narrative decisions She examines Morrison's facility with imagery and wordplay and discusses the ways in which Morrison contends with the expectations of gender and race that have stiffened into traditions or worse prejudices

Discussing the issues that unite and divide characters Fultz views each novel from The Bluest Eye 1970 to Paradise 1998 along with stories such as Recitatif as parts of an elaborate and dynamic whole Raleigh and the State of North Carolina Kate Boehm Jerome, 2011 Collects information about the land history and people of Raleigh and the state of North Carolina Australian national bibliography, 1961 Farmer Ned's Comics Barn Gerald Jablonski, 2017-02-01 Finally what the world has been waiting for a big oversized collection of Gerald Jablonski's psychedelically underground absurdly avant garde comics Jablonski has been comics best kept secret for decades telling the tales of imposter ants bear faced grumps and stoic farmers with pun laden word balloons that wildly snake around the page This book also includes a discussion with Gary Groth the artist's first interview in print Jablonski belongs in the ingeniously baffling auteur pantheon with John Cage James Joyce and Andy Warhol Yes you read that right Two Tales of Crow and Sparrow Alan Dundes, 1997-11-20 This provocative book by a leading folklorist offers a new analysis of caste in India focusing on the rationale underlying the customs surrounding untouchability Drawing on clues contained in two fascinating folktales Alan Dundes goes beyond Dumont's classic Homo Hierarchicus in deconstructing the pervasive pollution complex that prevents millions of individuals from entering temples or drawing water from community wells His graceful and erudite explanation of caste also illuminates the mysterious worship of the sacred cow as well as sati suttee or widow burning The author concludes by relating caste to the theory of marginal survival drawing on Gypsy concepts of pollution This controversial book offers a fresh perspective for anyone interested in India folklore and psychoanalytic anthropology a detailed case study documenting how folklore as a source of native categories and symbols can yield unique insights into the unconscious functioning of a culture through time In this comprehensive textbook renowned philosopher J N Mohanty examines the range of Indian philosophy from the Sutra period through the 17th century Navya Nyaya Classical Indian Philosophy is divided into three parts that cover epistemology metaphysics and the attempt to transcend the distinction between subject and object Mohanty focuses on the major concepts and problems dealt with in Indian philosophy including ethics social philosophy law and aesthetics Students of Indian philosophy at every level will find this a rich and rewarding text Primary Plans Elizabeth P. Bemis, 1911 Wooden Boats and Iron Men Trygvie Jensen, 2007 Neo-segregation Narratives Brian Norman, 2010-01-01 This study of what Brian Norman terms a neo segregation narrative tradition examines literary depictions of life under Jim Crow that were written well after the civil rights movement From Toni Morrison's first novel The Bluest Eye to bestselling black fiction of the 1980s to a string of recent work by black and nonblack authors and artists Jim Crow haunts the post civil rights imagination Norman traces a neo segregation narrative tradition one that developed in tandem with neo slave narratives by which writers return to a moment of stark de jure segregation to address contemporary concerns about national identity and the persistence of racial divides These writers upset dominant national narratives of achieved equality portraying what are often more elusive racial divisions in what some would call a postracial present Norman examines works by black writers such as

Lorraine Hansberry Toni Morrison Alice Walker David Bradley Wesley Brown Suzan Lori Parks and Colson Whitehead films by Spike Lee and other cultural works that engage in debates about gender Black Power blackface minstrelsy literary history and whiteness and ethnicity Norman also shows that multiethnic writers such as Sherman Alexie and Tom Spanbauer use Jim Crow as a reference point extending the tradition of William Faulkner's representations of the segregated South and John Howard Griffin's notorious account of crossing the color line from white to black in his 1961 work Black Like Me Give Me My Father's Body Kenn Harper, 2001-02-27 A searing true tale of extraordinary darkness Harper's critically acclaimed history is an absorbing and poignant portrait of the short strange and tragic life of the boy known as the New York Eskimo Two 16 page photo inserts and one 8 page insert A Northern Land Howard Paap, 2001 When Howard Paap married an Obijwe woman over 40 years ago he gained entry to a Native American world seldom entered by Caucasians In A Northern Land Paap writes about various aspects of the Obijwe culture from fishing to progressive dinners and shares his insights about the people he's met Most important of all he offers a different view of life than most of us have North Carolina Kate Boehm Jerome, 2011 Offers information about the land history and people of the state of North Carolina American Machinist, 1884
