Habermas and Giddens on Praxis and Modernity Craig Browne, 2017-01-02 In Habermas and Giddens on Praxis and Modernity Craig Browne investigates how two of the most important and influential contemporary social theorists have sought to develop the modernist visions of the constitution of society through the autonomous actions of subjects Comparing Habermas s and Giddens s conceptions of the constitution of society interpretations of the social structural impediments to subjects autonomy and attempts to delineate potentials for progressive social change within contemporary society Browne draws on his own work which has extended aspects of the social theorists approach to modernity Despite the criticisms developed over the course of the book Habermas and Giddens are found to be two of the most important theorists of democratization and social democracy the dynamics of capitalist modernity and their paradoxes social practices and reflexivity and the foundations of social theory in the problem of the relationship of social action and social structure

Structure, Culture and Agency Tom Brock, Mark Carrigan, Graham Scambler, 2016-11-10 Professor Margaret Archer is a leading critical realist and major contemporary social theorist This edited collection seeks to celebrate the scope and accomplishments of her work distilling her theoretical and empirical contributions into four sections which capture the essence and trajectory of her research over almost four decades Long fascinated with the problem of structure and agency Archer s work has constituted a decade long engagement with this perennial issue of social thought However in spite of the deep interconnections that unify her body of work it is rarely treated as a coherent whole This is doubtless in part due to the unforgiving rigour of her arguments and prose but also a byproduct of sociology s ongoing compartmentalisation This edited collection seeks to address this relative neglect by collating a selection of papers spanning Archer s career which collectively elucidate both the development of her thought and the value that can be found in it as a systematic whole This book illustrates the empirical origins of her social ontology in her early work on the sociology of education as well as foregrounding the diverse range of influences that have conditioned her intellectual trajectory the systems theory of Walter Buckley the neo Weberian analysis of Lockwood the critical realist philosophy of Roy Bhaskar and more recently her engagement with American pragmatism and the Italian school of relational sociology What emerges is a series of important contributions to our understanding of the relationship between structure culture and agency Acting to introduce and guide readers through these contributions this book carries the potential to
