Structuralism And The Logic Of Dissent:

Structuralism and the Logic of Dissent Eve Tavor Bannet, 1989-02-06 Structuralism and the Logic of Dissent is a fascinating and lucid exploration of the seminal writings of four eminent French structuralists that sheds new light on influential theoretical texts Eve Tavor Bannet discusses the work of Barthes Derrida Foucault and Lacan as coherent philosophical fictions showing their contradictory political social and pedagogical implications and their complex historicity

Picturing the Beast Steve Baker, 2001 Explores how human beings use animals and images of animals to define themselves and how those depictions interfere with our abilities to understand the true nature of animals

Interdisciplinary Barthes Diana Knight, 2020-02-07 Interdisciplinary Barthes addresses the enduring stimulus that Barthes offers to intellectually adventurous work across the human sciences It contextualises his creative engagements with ethnology historiography philosophy ethics music photography and literature and traces the distinctive ways which he unsettled disciplinary boundaries

Translation Revisited Mamadou Diawara, Elísio S. Macamo, Jean-Bernard Ouédraogo, 2019-01-17 How realistic is it to expect translation to render the world intelligible in a context shaped by different historical trajectories and experiences Can we rely on human universals to translate through the unique and specific webs of meaning that languages represent If knowledge production is a kind of translation then it is fair to assume that the possibility of translation has largely rested on the idea that Western experience is the repository of these human universals against the background of which different human experiences can be rendered intelligible The problem with this assumption however is that there are limits to Western claims to universalism mainly because these claims were at the service of the desire to justify imperial expansion This book addresses issues arising from these claims to universalism in the process of producing knowledge about diverse African social realities It shows that the idea of knowledge production as translation can be usefully deployed to inquire into how knowledge of Africa translates into an imperial attempt at changing local norms institutions and spiritual values Translation in this sense is the normalization of meanings issuing from a local historical experience claiming to be universal The task of producing knowledge of African social realities cannot be adequately addressed without a prior critical engagement with how translation has come to shape our ways of rendering Africa intelligible

Childhood And Society Lee, Nick, 2001-10-01 Childhood and Society charts the emergence of the conceptual and institutional divisions between adult human beings and child human beings over the course of the modern era

The Bakhtin Circle Today Myriam Díaz-Diocaretz, 1989

Conversations and Transformations Ananta Kumar Giri, 2002-01-01 In this intriguing new book Indian social theorist Ananta Kumar Giri issues a stirring call for scholars of contemporary social theory and practice to grapple with late modernity's most pressing social and political issues Giri counterposes Western thought with Indian social theory in a work that ranges across an array of Indian texts and ideas hitherto ignored by Western scholarship Included along with the mainstays of Indian intellectual thought like Gandhi and Sri

Aurobindo are lesser known Indian social theorists economists sociologists and essayists who argue for transcendence of self interest social responsibility and political renewal Thoughtfully argued and lucidly written this work offers the reader a genuine transdisciplinary learning experience going beyond European ethnocentrism to make social theory a truly global conversation

Body and Story Richard Terdiman,2006-12 In Body and Story Richard Terdiman explores the tension between what might seem to be two fundamentally different ways of understanding the world as physical reality and as representation in language In demonstrating the complicated relationship between these two modes of being he also presents a new bold approach to the problem of conflicts between irreconcilable but equally compelling theoretical ideas Enlightenment rationalism is most often understood as maintaining that words can meaningfully refer to and grasp things in the material world while Postmodernism famously argues that nothing exists outside of language Terdiman challenges this clean distinction finding the early seeds of Postmodern doubt in the Enlightenment and demonstrating the stubborn resistance of material reality particularly that of the body to language even today Building on readings of works by 18th century encyclopedist Denis Diderot and contemporary philosopher icon Jacques Derrida Terdiman argues that despite their genuine and profound opposition a constant negotiation or mutual interrogation has always been taking place between these two world views even as the balance at times shifts to one side or the other In analyzing these shifts he proposes a new model for understanding how seemingly unabridgeable theories legitimately coexist in our intellectual conception of the world and he suggests a new ethics for managing this coexistence

American Drama and the Postmodern ,

Situated Ethics in Educational Research Helen Simons,Robin Usher,2012-11-12 Ethics has traditionally been seen as a set of general principles which can be applied in a range of situations This book argues that in fact ethical principles must be shaped within different research practices and hence take on different significances according to varying research situations The book develops the notion of situated ethics and explores how ethical issues are practically handled by educational researchers in the field Contributors present theoretical models and practical examples of what situated ethics involves in conducting research on specific areas
