Observing Teacher Identities through Video Analysis Amy Vetter, Melissa Schieble, 2015-09-25 Teaching is often seen as an identity process with teachers constructing and enacting their identities through daily interactions with students parents and colleagues This volume explores how conducting video analysis helps teachers gain valuable perspectives on their own identities and improve classroom practice over time This form of interactional awareness fosters reflection and action on creating classroom conditions that encourage equitable learning The volume follows preservice English teachers as they examine video records of their practice during student teaching and how the evidence impacts their development as literacy teachers of diverse adolescents By applying an analytic framework to video analysis the authors demonstrate how novice teachers use positioning theory to transform their own identity performance in the classroom Education scholars teachers and professional developers will greatly benefit from this unique perspective on teacher identity work THE WRITER'S MONTHLY, 1921 Major versus Minor? - Languages and Literatures in a Globalized World Theo D'haen, Iannis Goerlandt, Roger D. Sell, 2015-09-15 Do the notions of World Lingua Franca and World Literature now need to be firmly relegated to an imperialist cum colonialist past Or can they be rehabilitated in a practical and equitable way that fully endorses a politics of recognition For scholars in the field of languages and literatures this is the central dilemma to be faced in a world that is increasingly globalized In this book the possible banes and benefits of globalization are illuminated from many different viewpoints by scholars based in Africa Asia Europe North America and Oceania Among their more particular topics of discussion are language spread language hegemony and language conservation literary canons literature and identity and literary anthologies and the bearing of the new communication technologies on languages and literatures alike Throughout the book however the most frequently explored opposition is between languages or literatures perceived as major and others perceived as minor two terms which are sometimes qualitative in connotation sometimes quantitative and sometimes both at once depending on who is using them and with reference to what Aids to Media Selection for Students and Teachers, 1972
