The Social Topography of a Rural Community Steve Hindle,2023-05-11 The Social Topography of a Rural Community is a micro history of an exceptionally well documented seventeenth century English village Chilvers Coton in north eastern Warwickshire Drawing on a rich archive of sources including an occupational census detailed estate maps account books private journals and hundreds of deeds and wills and employing a novel micro spatial methodology it reconstructs the life experience of some 780 inhabitants spread across 176 households This offers a unique opportunity to visualize members of an English rural community as they responded to and in turn initiated changes in social and economic activity making their own history on their own terms In so doing the book brings to the fore the social economic and spatial lives of people who have been marginalized from conventional historical discourse and offers an unusual level of detail relating to the spatial and demographic details of local life Each of the substantive chapters focuses on the contributions and experiences of a particular household in the parish the mill the vicarage the alehouse the blacksmith s forge the hovels of the labourers and coalminers the cottages of the nail smiths and ribbon weavers the farms of the yeomen and craftsmen and the manor house of Arbury Hall itself locating them precisely on specific sites in the landscape and the built environment and sketching the evolving taskscapes in which the inhabitants dwelled A novel contribution to spatial history as well as early modern material social and economic history more generally this study represents a highly original analysis of the significance of place space and flow in the history of English rural communities

The Ashgate Research Companion to Modern Imperial Histories

John Marriott, 2016-03-23 Written by leading scholars this collection provides a comprehensive and authoritative overview of modern empires Spanning the era of modern imperial history from the early sixteenth century to the present it challenges both the rather insular focuses on specific experiences and gives due attention to imperial formations outside the West including the Russian Japanese Mughal Ottoman and Chinese The companion is divided into three broad sections Part I Times surveys the three main eras of modern imperialism The first was that dominated by the settlement impulse with migrants many voluntarily and many more by force making new lives in the colonies This impulse gave way most especially in the nineteenth century to a period of busy and rapid expansion which was less likely to promote new settlement and in which colonists more frequently saw their sojourn in colonial lands as temporary and related to the business mostly of governance and trade Lastly in the twentieth century in particular empires began to fail and to fall Part II Spaces studies the principal imperial formations of the modern world Each chapter charts the experience of a specific empire while at the same time placing it within the complex patterns of wider imperial constellations The individual chapters thus survey the broad dynamics of change within the empires themselves and their relationships with other imperial formations and reflect critically on the ways in which these topics have been approached in the literature In Part III Themes scholars think critically about some of the key features of imperial expansion and decline These chapters are brief and many are provocative They reflect the current state of the field and suggest new lines of inquiry which may follow from more comparative perspectives on empire The broad range of themes captures the vitality and diversity of contemporary scholarship on questions of empire and colonialism encompassing political economic and cultural processes central to the formation and maintenance of empires as well as institutions ideologies and social categories that shaped the lives both of those implementing and those experiencing the force of empire In these pages the reader will find the slave and the criminal the merchant and the maid the scientist and the artist alongside the structures which sustained their lives and their livelihoods Overall the companion emphasises the diversity of imperial experience and process Comprehensive in its scope it draws attention to the particularities of individual empires rather than over generalising as if all empires at all times and in all places behaved in a similar manner It is this contingent and historical specificity that enables us to explore in expansive ways precisely what constituted the modern empire      The Encyclopædia Britannica Hugh Chisholm, 1910
