Esotericism, Mysticism, and the Politics of Transcendence in Modern Asia Soumen Mukherjee, Toshio Akai, 2025-07-15 This invaluable anthology examines histories of esotericism mysticism and occultism in modern Asia understood here as the period roughly stretching from the late nineteenth through the twentieth century and paving eventually the way for the so called New Age The idea of histories in plural has to do with the complexities of their lineages the many pathways through which their affinities encounters and entanglements flowed and or developed during the period under review The contributors hail from different disciplines history literature and religious studies for instance and in what accounts for a cutting edge of the book provide truly multidisciplinary insights on the subject in one single volume Their select case studies illuminate key aspects of contemporaneous socio religious processes They explicate how aspects of mysticism esotericism and occultism were closely tied to wider socio political and intellectual processes of the period that were at once transregional even global and frequently transcultural and or cosmopolitan in character Postgraduate students research scholars and academics in general working in the fields of religious studies and or Asian religions in modern times will find this collection to be of great interest Who Owns Religion? Laurie L. Patton, 2019-11-27 Who Owns Religion focuses on a period the late 1980s through the 1990s when scholars of religion were accused of scandalizing or denigrating the very communities they had imagined themselves honoring through their work While controversies involving scholarly claims about religion are nothing new this period saw an increase in vitriol that remains with us today Authors of seemingly arcane studies on subjects like the origins of the idea of Mother Earth or the sexual dynamics of mysticism have been targets of hate mail and book banning campaigns As a result scholars of religion have struggled to describe their own work to their various publics and even to themselves Taking the reader through several compelling case studies Patton identifies two trends of the 80s and 90s that fueled that rise the growth of multicultural identity politics which enabled a form of volatile public debate she terms eruptive public space and the advent of the internet which offered new ways for religious groups to read scholarship and respond publicly These controversies she shows were also fundamentally about something new the very rights of secular Western scholarship to interpret religions at all Patton s book holds out hope that scholars can find a space for their work between the university and the communities they study Scholars of religion she argues have multiple masters and must move between them while writing histories and speaking about realities that not everyone may be interested in hearing A Scent of Sandalwood Aziz Esmail, 2014-06-03 The Ginans are religious lyrics which have long been a central part of the religious life of the Indian Mizari Ismaili community known as Khojas and continue to form their living poetic tradition Aziz Esmail s translation is suggestive of the depth of religious thought feeling and imagination out of which this poetry was born and the lyrical beauty of the form in which this experience found a voice The poetry of the Ginans illustrates an historically and culturally specific conception of the world and of the norms peculiar to that culture as well as a religious perception that forms a significant part of the religious experience of mankind This volume will appeal both to specialists and more general readers including Indologists scholars of Islam in the Subcontinent students of Comparative Religion Comparative Literature and those with an interest in mystical or devotional poetry     The ^Alsmailis in the Middle Ages Shafique N. Songs of Wisdom and Circles of Dance Tazim R.
