|                                                  |   |
|--------------------------------------------------|---|
| My mistress' eyes are nothing like the sun;      | A |
| Coral is far more red than her lips' red;        | B |
| If snow be white, why then her breasts are dun;  | A |
| If hairs be wires, black wires grow on her head. | B |

|                                                 |   |
|-------------------------------------------------|---|
| I have seen roses damask'd, red and white,      | C |
| But no such roses see I in her cheeks;          | D |
| And in some perfumes is there more delight      | C |
| Than in the breath that from my mistress reeks. | D |

|                                                    |   |
|----------------------------------------------------|---|
| I love to hear her speak, yet well I know          | E |
| That music hath a far more pleasing sound;         | F |
| I grant I never saw a goddess go;                  | E |
| My mistress, when she walks, treads on the ground: | F |
