Sorrows Company Great Writers On Loss And Grief:

Sorrow's Company Dewitt Henry, 2001-09-16 In this volume DeWitt Henry has collected some of the finest contemporary writing about loss and the grieving process essays that explore emotional trauma in finely crafted prose Debra Spark recounts her sister's death and reflects on all of the ideas that have helped her come to terms with grief William Gibson writes eloquently of his mother's passing with a new understanding of the cycles of life Andre Dubus describes the terrible loss of mobility he suffered in a freak accident and what his pain and disability taught him about the human will Transported back to her native Antigua and to all the complexities of a difficult childhood Jamaica Kincaid confronts her brother's ostracism and death from AIDS All of the pieces reflect in some aspect the tenacity the strength to go forward and to love that has informed these life journeys and the resolve that what matters is not what becomes of us but what we become This collection offers a unique perspective on loss a depth of insight and compassion that only such masterful writers could summon

Lost Bodies Laura E. Tanner, 2018-07-05 If the dying body makes us flinch and look away struggling not to see what we have seen the lost body disappears from cultural view buried along with the sensory traces of its corporeal presence from the Introduction American popular culture conducts a passionate love affair with the healthy fit preferably beautiful body and in recent years theories of embodiment have assumed importance in various scholarly disciplines But what of the dying or dead body Why do we avert our gaze speak of it only as absence This thoughtful and beautifully written book illustrated with photographs by Shellburne Thurber and other remarkable images finds a place for the dying and lost body in the material intellectual and imaginary spaces of contemporary American culture Laura E Tanner focuses her keen attention on photographs of AIDS patients and abandoned living spaces newspaper accounts of September 11 literary works by Don DeLillo Donald Hall Sharon Olds Marilynne Robinson and others and material objects including the AIDS Quilt She analyzes the way in which these representations of the body reflect current cultural assumptions revealing how Americans read imagine and view the dynamics of illness and loss The disavowal of bodily dimensions of death and grief she asserts deepens rather than mitigates the isolation of the dying and the bereaved Lost Bodies will speak to anyone imperiled by the threat of loss

Representations of Death in Nineteenth-Century US Writing and Culture Ms Lucy Frank, 2013-04-28 From the famous deathbed scene of Harriet Beecher Stowe's Little Eva to Mark Twain's parodically morbid poetess Emmeline Grangerford a preoccupation with human finitude informs the texture of nineteenth century US writing This collection traces the vicissitudes of this cultural preoccupation with the subject of death and examines how mortality served paradoxically as a site on which identity and subjectivity were productively rethought Contributors from North America and the United Kingdom representing the fields of literature theatre history and American studies analyze the sexual social and epistemological boundaries implicit in nineteenth century America's obsession with death while also seeking to give a voice to the strategies by which these boundaries were interrogated and displaced Topics include race and gender based investigations into the textual representation of death imaginative constructions and re constructions of social practice with regard to loss and memorialisation and literary re conceptualisations of death forced by personal and national trauma

Grief and Sorrow in the Roman World Anthony Smart,2024-12-26 Engaging with the long history of emotions this book provides a new narrative of how grief was defined experienced and used in Ancient Rome From studies of tears and weeping to Roman funerary monuments and inscriptions the role of female grief in navigating political conflict and letters of consolation Grief and Sorrow in the Roman World explores the language of grief and individuality of sorrow in Rome and asks how and why they shaped their emotions in this way Revisiting familiar sources such as Livy and Plutarch it offers new interpretations to place the Roman emotional framework against our own Can we recognise our own notions of grief in the Ancient World Do we feel pain in the same way as our Roman ancestors did Exploring these questions and more Anthony Smart challenges existing perceptions of grief and sorrow in the Roman world and places emotions at the centre of this rich culture
