Structure Process In Southeastern Archaeology:

Structure and Process in Southeastern Archaeology Roy S. Dickens Jr, H. Trawick Ward, 2002-05-14 Within the general structure and process theme of this compendium the authors have focused on either intrasite problems those dealing with the formation and structure of a site type of site or type of feature or intersite problems those dealing with behavioral organization and process as developed from comparative site data These papers from a broad range of specialists present a comprehensive study of southeastern archaeology Handbook of Landscape Archaeology Bruno David, Julian Thomas, 2016-06-03 Over 80 archaeologists from four continents create a benchmark volume of the ideas and practices of landscape archaeology covering the theoretical and the practical the research and conservation and encasing the term in a global framework Early and Middle Woodland Landscapes of the Southeast Alice P. Wright, Edward R. Henry, 2019-10-01 Fourteen in depth case studies incorporate empirical data with theoretical concepts such as ritual aggregation and place making highlighting the variability and common themes in the relationships between people landscapes and the built environment that characterize this period of North American native life in the Southeast Trends and Traditions in Southeastern Zooarchaeology Tanya M. Peres, 2014-02-25 While most works of southeastern archaeology focus on stone artifacts or ceramics this volume is the first to bring together past and current trends in zooarchaeological studies Faunal reports are often relegated to appendices and not synthesized with the rest of the archaeological data but Trends and Traditions in Southeastern Zooarchaeology calls attention to the diversity of information that faunal remains can reveal about rituals ideologies socio economic organization trade and past environments These essays by leading practitioners in this developing field highlight the differences between the archaeological focus on animals as the food source of their time and the belief among zooarchaeologists that animals represent a far more complex ecology With broad methodological and interpretive analysis of sites throughout the region the essays range in topic from the enduring symbolism of shells for more than 5 000 years to the domesticated dog cemeteries of Spirit Hill in Jackson County Alabama and to the subsistence strategies of Confederate soldiers at the Florence Stockade in South Carolina Ultimately challenging traditional concepts of the roles animals have played in the social and economic development of southeastern cultures this book is a groundbreaking and seminal archaeological study Archaeology of the Appalachian Highlands Lynne P. Sullivan, Susan C. Prezzano, 2001 This volume is a major synthesis of the archaeology of the Appalachian region and includes much material that was previously unpublished or underpublished The information and interpretations presented will be very useful for archaeologists working in eastern North American who are interested in this diverse region C Clifford Boyd Jr Radford University Archaeology of the Appalachian Highlands reveals that every part of Appalachia yields archaeological evidence significant to understanding the broad prehistoric sweep of the American Indians In this most welcome volume editors Lynn Sullivan and Susan Prezzano have assembled the most current interpretations of archaeological theory technology and cultural history as these occur in the highlands of eastern North America This volume to shatter myths about Appalachian and its past David S Brose Director Schiele Museum of Natural History Town Creek Indian Mound Joffre Lanning Coe, 2012-12-30 The temple mound and mortuary at Town Creek in Montgomery County is one of the few surviving earthen mounds built by prehistoric Native Americans in North Carolina It has been recognized as an important archaeological site for almost sixty years and as a state historic site has become a popular destination for the public This book is Joffre Coe's illustrated chronicle of the archaeological research conducted at Town Creek a project with which Coe has been intimately involved for more than fifty years since its inception as a WPA program in 1937 Written for visitors as well as for scholars Town Creek Indian Mound provides an overview of the site and the archaeological techniques pioneered there surveys the history of the excavations and features more than 200 photographs and maps The book carefully reconstructs the archaeological record including plant and animal remains pottery sherds stone tools and clay ornaments In a concluding interpretive section Coe reflects on what Town Creek and its artifacts tell us about this prehistoric Native American society Originally published in 1995 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value North American Projectile Points - Revised Wm Jack Hranicky Rpa, 2010-06 The Abandonment of Settlements and Regions Catherine M. Cameron, Steve A. Tomka, 1993-07-08 Groups of people abandoned sites in different ways and for different reasons And what they did when they left a settlement or area had a direct bearing on the kind and quality of cultural remains that entered the archaeological record for example whether buildings were dismantled or left standing or tools buried destroyed or removed from the site Contributors to this unique collection on site abandonment draw on ethnoarchaeological and archaeological data from North and South America Europe Africa and the Near East Surplus Christopher T. Morehart, Kristin De Lucia, 2015-09-26 The concept of surplus captures the politics of production and also conveys the active material means by which people develop the strategies to navigate everyday life Surplus The Politics of Production and the Strategies of Everyday Life examines how surpluses affected ancient economies governments and households in civilizations across Mesoamerica the Southwest United States the Andes Northern Europe West Africa Mesopotamia and eastern Asia A hallmark of archaeological research on sociopolitical complexity surplus is central to theories of political inequality and institutional finance This book investigates surplus as a macro scalar process on which states or other complex political formations depend and considers how past people differentially positioned based on age class gender ethnicity role and goal produced modified and mobilized their social and physical worlds Placing the concept of surplus at the forefront of archaeological discussions on production consumption power strategy and change this volume reaches beyond conventional ways of thinking about top down or bottom up models and offers a comparative framework to examine surplus generating new questions and methodologies to elucidate the social and political economies of the past Site Destruction in Georgia and the Carolinas David G. Anderson, Virginia Horak, 1993
