The Poetics of Empire James Grainger, 2000-03-01 First published in 1764 The Sugar Cane is a major work in the history of Anglophone Caribbean literature It is the only poem written in the Caribbean before the Twentieth Century to achieve a place in the Western canon Grainger sought to interpret his personal experience of the Caribbean through his wide and deep reading in literature from the Greeks to Milton Grainger wrote a West India Georgic challenging assumptions about poetic diction and the proper subject matter of poetry and boldly asserting the importance of the Caribbean to the Eighteenth Century British empire This is the first reliable text and critical study of the poem setting it within the context of Grainger s life and work

Beside the Bard George S. Christian, 2020-03-13 Beside the Bard argues that Scottish poetry in the age of Burns reclaims not a single past dominated and overwritten by the unitary national language of an elite ruling class but a past that conceptualizes the Scottish nation in terms of local self identification linguistic multiplicity cultural and religious difference and transnational political and cultural affiliations This fluid conception of the nation may accommodate a post Union British self identification but it also recognizes the instrumental and historically contingent nature of Britishness Whether male or female loyalist or radical literati or autodidacts poets such as Alexander Wilson Carolina Olyphant Robert Tannahill and John Lapraik among others adamantly refuse to imagine a single nation British or otherwise instead preferring an open polyvocal field on which they can stage new national and personal of the Scottish Enlightenment      The Oxford Handbook of Robert Burns Gerard Carruthers, 2024 Robert Burns 1759-96 was a producer of lyrical verse satirical poetry in English and Scots a song writer and song collector a writer of bawdy journals commonplace books and correspondence Sculpting his own image his untutored rusticity was a sincere persona as much as it was not entirely accurate Burns was an antiquarian national patriot pioneer of what today we would call folk culture and a man of the Enlightenment and Romanticism This handbook considers Burns's reception in his own time and beyond extending to his iconic status as a world writer      Haunted Spaces in Twenty-First Century British Nature Writing Anneke Lubkowitz, 2020-06-08 This study investigates the figure of haunting in the New Nature Writing It begins with a historical survey of nature writing and traces how it came to represent an ideal of natural space as empty of human history and social conflict Building on a theoretical framework which combines insights from ecocriticism and spatial theory the author explores the spatial dimensions of haunting and hauntology and shows how 21st century writers draw on a Gothic repertoire of seemingly supernatural occurrences and spectral imagery to portray natural space as disturbed uncanny and socially contested Iain Sinclair and Robert Macfarlane are revealed to apply psychogeography's interest in hidden histories and haunted places to spaces associated with wilderness and the countryside Kathleen Jamie's allusions to the Gothic are put in relation to her feminist re-writing of the outdoors and John Burnside's use of haunting is shown to dismantle fictions of the far north This book provides not only a discussion of a wide range of factual and fictional narratives of the present but also an analysis of the intertextual dialogue with the Romantic tradition which enfolds in these texts      Rewriting the Past in Scottish Literature, 1350-1550 Kate Ash-Irisarri, 2025-04 Considers how Anglo-Scottish conflict was memorialised reimagined and embedded by later writers The Anglo-Scottish Wars of Independence are often treated in historical and poetical works produced in Scotland between the fourteenth and sixteenth century from chronicles and hagiographical romances to advisory and commemorative poems Through an examination of such texts this book explores how late medieval writers drew on the memory of the wars to articulate a collective identity and how literary and historical frameworks were deeply influenced by shifting Anglo-Scottish relations It covers a range of topics how borders textual geographic and cultural became a focus for articulations of national memory the utilisation of origin myths and royal genealogy anxieties around failures of memory or deliberate acts of forgetting and the impact of the Battle of Flodden 1513 on writing about Scottish nationhood Dealing in particular with Bower's Scotichronicon Hary's Wallace The Complaynt of Scotland and Lyndsay's Dreme this study argues that these writers drew on understandings of the arts of memory to shape selective and collective recollections of the past as a response to contemporary concerns providing an emotive memorialisation of Scotland's history and Lyndsay's Dreme this study argues that these writers drew on understandings of the arts of memory to shape selective and collective recollections of the past as a response to contemporary concerns providing an emotive memorialisation of Scotland's history and Lyndsay's Dreme this study argues that these writers drew on understandings of the arts of memory to
