Behind the Screens Jocalyn Lawler, 2006 Behind the Screens sheds light on the fundamental aspects of basic nursing that have previously been hidden or taken for granted. The essence of these practices has not been regarded as formal knowledge partly because there has been no formal language to describe them. Experienced and beginning practitioners will identify with many aspects of this discussion. Professor Jocalyn Lawler argues that the body is a problem in our society and she examines the intellectual background to the problem. She describes the pattern of relationships between the theoretical concepts of the body, body care, privacy, dirty work, women's work, and sexuality. The invisibility of nursing is linked with these concepts and with the lack of an academic discourse on the body as a whole. Drawing on the words of nurses themselves, Lawler describes how they deal with the problem of the body. From the interviews she articulates the complexity and sophistication at the heart of the way nurses manage the bodies of others. And she coins a term, somology, that provides nursing with a language to describe the crucial social components of skilled nursing care. Readable and important, Behind the Screens adds to knowledge about knowledge and to knowledge about nursing. The work was first published in 1991. It has since been translated into Norwegian as Bak skjerm Brettene sykepleie og kroppslige problemer and French as La Face Cachée des Soins Soins au corps intime et pratique.

Negotiating Boundaries? Identities, Sexualities, Diversities Clare Beckett, Marie Macey, Owen Heathcote, 2009-05-05 Negotiating Boundaries Identities Sexualities Diversities is a collection of essays by contributors from and/or on societies across the world: Bosnia Herzegovina, Croatia, France, Iran, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Poland, South and West Africa, the UK, and the USA. They are from a range of academic disciplines: English Literature, Islamic and Middle Eastern Studies, Literary and Cultural Studies, Modern Languages, Religious Studies, Social Anthropology, Social Policy, Sociology, and Theology. This level of diversity has resulted in the most wide-ranging volume ever published in the social sciences and humanities around the concept of Boundaries. The book is at the cutting edge of intellectual thinking on personal and social boundaries applied to such areas as Art, Genocidal Rape, Identities, God/Godde, Lesbianism, Literature, Men in Women's Professions, Muslim women in Muslim and non-Muslim countries, Nationalism and Symbolism, Poetry, Religion, Sexual Harassment, Sexuality, Women in Science, Transgenderism, Virginity Testing, and War. This range of contributors, locations, and topics could have resulted in an incoherent volume with appeal to only a somewhat esoteric readership. However, the skilful use of the concept of Boundaries not only gives this book structured coherence but makes it important reading for a wide range of academics, theorists, and researchers in a diversity of disciplines. This is a lively, engaged, nuanced portrayal of the struggles around identity, inequality, and domination. Ambitious in its scope, international, interdisciplinary, and multi-dimensional in its social focus, Identities Sexualities Diversities offers a powerful picture of struggle and the pursuit of change through the conceptual lens of boundaries. This collection explores the diverse ways boundaries operate, bringing new insights and questions to an established debate. It also importantly explores how boundaries can provide bridges. Thus, through its interweaving of theory and empirical analysis and through its stories of bodies texts work sexual expression self presentation and changing values Identities Sexualities Diversities offers a text that is reflexive analytically thoughtful and significantly hopeful Davina Cooper Professor of Law and Political Theory Director of AHRC Research Centre for Law Gender and Sexuality Kent Law School University of Kent This is a fascinating collection of papers that provides new and important insights into the variety and natures of boundaries around ethnicity identity and sexuality Using the complex concept of boundaries the writers explore identities sexualities and diversities through boundary crossings contested boundaries oppressive boundaries and creative resistant boundaries This provides a wonderful coherent engagement with some of the key struggles at the present time over contested territory at personal and global levels The range of articles ensures that these debates are contextualised in particular societies and cultures providing a rich source of theoretical material that helps our understandings of these complex and crucial issues The theoretical rigour and fascinating insights presented in this edited book deserves a wide readership from those involved in the social sciences women s studies the humanities and all those interested in transgressing conventional boundaries of scholarship Sheila Scraton Pro Vice Chancellor Director of University Research Professor of Leisure and Feminist Studies Leeds Metropolitan University

Fringe to Famous Tony Moore, Mark Gibson, Chris McAuliffe, Maura Edmond, 2024-01-25 Fringe to Famous examines exchange between small scenes of cultural production and mainstream institutions and markets Drawing on Australian examples in music streetwear comedy screen and digital games it argues that there has been much greater crossover between the two than is generally recognized The book resists a tendency to represent fringe and mainstream as abstract opposites bringing a focus instead to concrete historical formations It offers an alternative both to romantic celebrations of a pure fringe discredited now by half a century of critical responses to the counterculture and to an increasingly hardened anti romantic reaction Drawing on extensive original interviews Fringe to Famous offers an overview of transformations in Australian culture since the 1980s concluding with suggestions for cultural policy after the creative
