The Regulation of International Trade, Volume 2 Petros C. Mavroidis, 2016-04-22 A detailed examination of WTO agreements regulating trade in goods discussing legal context policy background economic rationale and case law The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade GATT has extended its institutional arsenal since the Kennedy round in the early 1960s The current institutional design is the outcome of the Uruguay round and agreements reached in the ongoing Doha round begun in 2001 One of the institutional outgrowths of GATT is the World Trade Organization WTO created in 1995 In this book Petros Mavroidis offers a detailed examination of WTO agreements regulating trade in goods discussing legal context policy background economic rationale and case law Each chapter examines a given legal norm and its subsequent practice In particular he discusses agreements dealing with customs clearance contingent protection instruments which allow WTO members unilaterally to add to the negotiated amount of protection when a certain contingency for example dumping has occurred TBT Technical Barriers to Trade and SPS Sanitary and Phyto sanitary Measures agreements both of which deal with such domestic instruments as environmental health policy or consumer information the agreement on Trade Related Investment Measures TRIM sector specific agreements on agriculture and textiles plurilateral agreements binding a subset of WTO membership on government procurement and civil aviation and transparency in trade relations This book s companion volume examines the GATT regime for international trade

Trade Investment and the Environment Halina Ward, 2017-07-28 A discussion on the future of trade investment and the environment It sets out the trade investment and environment agenda in the run up to the Millennium Round of trade negotiations Topics covered include building markets for sustainable trade environmental regulation finance and transnational corporations environmental regulation and international investment and conflict resolution in the World Trade Organization The contributors include Renato Ruggiero WTO Director General Brian Wilson MP UK Trade Minister and John

Gummer MP former UK Secretary of State for the Environment Street Protests and Fantasy Parks David Cameron, Janice Gross Stein, Janice Stein, 2002 The speed and intensity of global integration in the last two decades have provoked serious debate about the human impact of globalization and deep concern about the capacity of the state to provide social justice Street Protests and Fantasy Parks focuses on two dimensions of globalization the cultural and social realities of global connection and the uneasily shifting role of the state While global processes are fusing societies and economies more deeply than ever before the editors argue that obituaries for the state are premature if not wholly inappropriate These essays examine a series of compelling case studies the entertainment industry citizenship social activism and wired communication to assess the choices states have and the consequences of those choices for culture and society Reclaiming the Future Jane Kelsey, 2015-12-21 Jane Kelsey's exploration of the effects of globalisation on the New Zealand economy was eye opening when published in 1999 She offered a trenchantly expressed response to the neoliberal slogan of the time There is no alternative Kelsey's analysis remains a critical yardstick for current policies and an alternative perspective on the development of global relationships The recent global financial meltdown and subsequent recession give new relevance to her questions about globalisation's consequences for sovereignty and democracy Kelsey continues to offer a bold voice of challenge and critique pointing the way for open eyed engagement with the economic realities of the future The End Of Globalization Alan Rugman, 2012-09-30 Professor Alan Rugman is one of the world's leading academics in the field of international business and strategy In The End of Globalization he argues that we are currently witnessing the end of globalization and draws on new research and analysis to argue that globalization never really happened anyway Like Bartlett and Ghoshal's Managing Across Borders this book is aimed at the market of practitioners and policy makers not academics and theoreticians showing them what the current state of the global economy means for them Global business is dominated by the 500 largest multinational enterprises MNEs out of a total of 30 000 MNEs altogether The 500 MNEs that are the engines of international business think regional and act local Using analysis drawn from world leading companies Professor Rugman looks in detail at the managerial implications of the end of globalization including in depth discussion of corporate strategies organizational structures and analytical methods The New Politics of American Trade I. M. Destler, Peter J. Balint, 1999 Imports pour into the United States up by 79 percent in six years The trade deficit more than doubles The House of Representatives solidly rejects a bill that would liberalize global and regional trade and endorses import quotas for a major manufactured product by a two to one margin Although at first glance these events of the 1990s might sound like past chapters of US trade politics in fact the political dynamics have changed in significant ways As the impact of globalization comes into focus politically important constituencies have begun to resist trade liberalization Labor and environmental groups in particular demanding that their concerns be addressed have succeeded in fracturing the long standing bipartisan protrade coalition in Congress and in the process have undercut US leadership in liberalizing global trade This new study reexamines the landscape of trade politics It shows how trade advocates and labor and environmental skeptics differ significantly in both their substantive views and their political and organizational cultures The authors demonstrate how this new challenge differs from that of traditional trade protectionism likening it instead to the debate a century ago over whether and how to regulate American capitalism for social purposes The analysis leads to a set of recommendations aimed at constructive compromise and a new political foundation for US trade policy leadership The Art of Experience

Dagmara Gizło, 2020-12-30 The Art of Experience provides an interdisciplinary analysis of selected plays from Ireland's premier female playwright Marina Carr Dagmara Gizło explores the transformative impact of a theatrical experience in which interdisciplinary boundaries must be crossed This book demonstrates that theatre is therapeutic and therapy is theatrical The role of emotions cognitions and empathy in the theatrical experience is investigated throughout Dagmara Gizło utilises the methodological tools stemming from modern empirically grounded psychology such as cognitive behavioural therapy or CBT to the study of theatre's transformative potential This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of theatre performance and literature and will be a fascinating read for those at the intersection of cognitive studies and the humanities
