Duffy, 2024-03-13 The Art of Translation in Seamus Heaney's Poetry is a critical study of the poet's later work While exploring his practice as a translator it also traces his increasing preoccupation with the possibilities and conditions of translation in the theological sense of being lifted up in spirit To the work of this philosophical poet who would be both earthed and heady this book brings the insights of ordinary language philosophy as practiced by Stanley Cavell It devotes separate chapters to Station Island and three later collections Seeing Things Electric Light and Human Chain The first of these addresses the most fundamental change in Heaney's life when he acknowledges the need and chance to re envisage his Irish Catholic upbringing it is also replete with both the activity and the trope of translation Published seven years later Seeing Things begins with a translation of Virgil's golden bough episode and ends with a similar crossing over into the underworld by Dante Heaney transforms both into poems about poetry In Electric Light Heaney returns to Virgil but now he concentrates not on the hero of the Aeneid but on Virgil's earlier efforts in pastoral a mode of writing that Heaney takes as a model for his own time and place of devastated order Heaney returns to the Aeneid in Human Chain but this time around he gives all his attention to the scene of the human souls in Elysium seeking rebirth and turns it into an image for the need and chance of pronouncing a final Yes to our world and our place in it Sunrises and Songs Amy A. McClure, Peggy Harrison, Sheryl Reed, 1990 This work explores the process that two elementary school teachers went through in order to teach poetry to 48 children in their multi age rural classroom Elementary English, 1973 SCC library has 1949 cur The Poet Steven Travers, 2013-02-01 Forget Ring Lardner Grantland Rice and Jerome Holtzman According to author Steven Travers Jim Murray of the Los Angeles Times was the greatest sports columnist who ever lived period Known for his highly descriptive metaphors and phrasing a strike zone the size of Hitler's heart so painfully honest he could spot George Washington two answers in a lie detector test the only pitcher I know who thinks of Homer as a Greek poet and not a lucky swing by a banjo hitter Murray was a poet Time magazine sent the Connecticut native to Hollywood in 1948 to cover the movies But it was at the Los Angeles Times 1961 1998 that Murray made his mark Like the city the paper was experiencing tremendous growth and he was given free rein to cover virtually any topic in his sports column Murray defended pitcher Don Drysdale against accusations of poor sportsmanship waxed rhapsodic about Willie Mays and praised light heavyweight champion Archie Moore as the Rembrandt of boxing But his influence was greatest when he spoke out against segregated college football in the South After being subjected to several of Murray's public scoldings the University of Alabama finally allowed Bear Bryant to erase the school's longstanding color line Steven Travers provides an in depth look at a man whose influence went far beyond the baseball diamond and the boxing ring Contemporary American Poetry Lloyd M. Davis, 1985 Lists over 5 200 titles of books published by American poets between 1973 and 1983 Poetry Los

Adventuring with Books National Council of Teachers of English, Patricia J. Cianciolo, 1977 The Voice of the Narrator in Children's Literature Charlott Otten, Gary D. Schmidt, 1989-06-26 As Otten and Schmidt note in their preface voice is a broad metaphor Thus the 41 essays in this collection provide varied approaches examining point of view focus selection of details tone and even illustrations as part of the narrative identity Eight genres including picture books fantasy realism and biography receive separate study in generally brief articles by writers and more substantial analyses by critics In her contribution Jill Paton Walsh describes contemporary criticism as an impenetrable thicket of technical terms In most cases the critics here avoid jargon They speak clearly offering practical criticism accessible to anyone seriously concerned about narrative technique in children's literature Choice Although children's literature is now a recognized branch of English and American literature much of the criticism of it has focused on teaching methodology history and basic exposition Since children's books are no less a part of the literary tradition than adult books there is room for new approaches to children's literature While the importance of the voice of the narrator is emerging in criticism of adult fiction poetry and nonfiction little has been written about this subject in children's literature Examining the voice of the narrator can identify hitherto unexplored and unrecognized aspects of children's literature The essays in this collection were contributed by noted authors and critics Their inquiry is divided into eight genres the illustrated book folk literature and myth fantasy realism poetry historical fiction biography and informational books and each genre is discussed in terms of the authorial voice and the critical voice Each of the essays works toward an understanding of how the voice of the narrator functions in a given work or in the larger corpus of an author's work The result is not only a greater understanding of how specific authors shape their material and how authors use voice for particular effects but also how the narrator differs functionally from one genre to the next This unique essay collection is particularly suited for use in children's literature courses Because the contributors are some of the most significant authors and critics in children's literature in English it should also be part of any academic library's holdings in the criticism of children's literature in particular and literary criticism in general Children's Literature Awards and Winners, 1994 A Celebration of Bees Barbara Juster Esbensen, 1975 One Little Room, an Everywhere Myra Cohn Livingston, 1975 An anthology of poems from many different countries and periods of time reflecting various aspects of love Bulletin of the Center for Children's Books University of Chicago. Center for Children's Books, 1972
