The Maori Heirs Of Tane:

The Maori David Lewis,1982 A history of the Maori people in New Zealand Show how all aspects of Maori life were interconnected Maori myths their songs and their art form an integral part of this book Illustrated by Werner Forman s photographs Taken from dust jacket The Great Sacred Forest of Tane Alan Clarke,2007 A comprehensive and unique natural history The Great Sacred Forest of Tane explains in stunning detail the origin and possible uses of New Zealand s native flora tracing its evolution back to before early human habitation As well as a botanical study of a variety of plants trees shrubs ferns herbs and fungi it is a fascinating commentary on the dietary economic medicinal and decorative uses of each This book weaves a compelling story of Maori mythology and genesis outlining the profound importance the natural environment has played in the progression of Aotearoa s cultural life and custom and indeed identity in the world The result of a life s labour of love The Great Sacred Forest of Tane will enthral and capture the mind of anyone interested in New Zealand s primordial past Colonialism and the Object Tim Barringer,Tom Flynn,2012-12-06 Drawing together an international group of scholars from a variety of disciplinary and cultural backgrounds Colonialism and the Object explores the impact of colonial contact with other cultures on the material culture of both the colonized and the imperial nation The book includes intensive case studies of objects from India Pakistan New Zealand China and Africa all of which were collected by or exhibited in the institutions of the British Empire and key chapters address issues of radical identity across cultural barriers and the hybrid styles of objects which can emerge when cultures meet Colonialism and the Object is essential reading for all those interested in post colonial theory museum studies material culture and design history The Truth Seeker Lucy White,2003-07 Still Being Punished Rachael Selby,1999 This book records the stories of five Maori men and women They are not their life stories and they haven t told them over and over again They ve snuck bits of these stories in to conversations they ve had with families and friends over the years They ve tentatively tested some of the contents on friends or acquaintances and in some cases they ve been disbelieved which is why they are important and must be told This book allows them to tell their stories The stories collected here are told by Maori men and women who were physically disciplined at school for speaking the Maori language Their stories are of the on going effects of institutional violence meted out at the intersection of body language and society While the author has highlighted the lessons to be learnt by rangatahi the messages are by no means confined to them This book contains valuable lessons for social workers educators medical personnel politicians in fact any person who has the privilege of reading it Jill Bevan Brown Social Work Review December 1999 Asia/Pacific as Space of Cultural Production Rob Wilson,Arif Dirlik,1995 Although the Asia Pacific region occupies a prominent place in geopolitical thinking little is available to readers concerning the resistant communities and cultures of Pacific and Asian peoples This book fills that gap by documenting the efforts of diverse indigenous cultures to claim and reimagine Asia Pacific as a space for their own cultural production by presenting essays poems and memoirs by prominent

Asia Pacific writers that resist appropriation by transnational capitalism through the articulation of autonomous local identities and counter histories of place and community In addition cultural critics spanning several locations and disciplines deconstruct representations particularly those on film and in novels that perpetuate Asia Pacific as a realm of EuroAmerican fantasy This collection offers a new perception of the Asia Pacific region by presenting the Pacific not as a paradise or vast emptiness but as a place where living struggling peoples have constructed contemporary identities out of a long history of hegemony and resistance back cover

Semiotics and Hermeneutics of the Everyday Gregory Paschalidis, Lia Yoka, 2015-06-18 The linchpin of the momentous paradigm shift that produced the new hermeneutics of everyday life was a focus on people as active agents in various cultural contexts uses and practices the merging of the conventional distinctions between the private and the public the local and the global the material and the symbolic and the bridging of the agency structure divide marking grand historical and cultural narratives In their place a wealth of new kinds of narratives were produced out what

New Zealand Lizards David G. Chapple, 2016-10-05 This edited volume is a timely and comprehensive summary of the New Zealand lizard fauna Nestled in the south west Pacific New Zealand is a large archipelago that displays the faunal signatures of both its Gondwanan origins and more recent oceanic island influences New Zealand was one of the last countries on Earth to be discovered and likewise the full extent of the faunal diversity present within the archipelago is only just starting to be appreciated This is no better exemplified than in lizards where just 30 species 20 skinks 10 geckos were recognized in the 1950s but now 104 are formally or informally recognized 61 skinks 43 geckos Thus New Zealand contains one of the most diverse lizard faunas of any cool temperate region on Earth This book brings together the world's leading experts in the field to produce an authoritative overview of the history taxonomy biogeography ecology life history physiology and conservation of New Zealand lizards

Historical Dictionary of New Zealand Janine Hayward, Richard Shaw, 2016-10-20 Diverse elements have created New Zealand's distinctive political and social culture First is New Zealand's journey as a colony and the various impacts this had on settler and Maori society The second theme is the quest for what one prominent historian has labelled national obsessions equality and security both individual and collective The third and more recent theme is New Zealand's emergence as a nation with a unique identity New Zealand's small geographic size and relative isolation from other societies the dominant influence of British culture the resurgence of Maori language and culture the endemic instability of an economy based on a narrow range of pastoral products and the dominance of the state in the lives of its people all help to explain much of the present day New Zealand psyche This third edition of Historical Dictionary of New Zealand contains a chronology an introduction appendix and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 800 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about New Zealand

The Maori of Aotearoa-New Zealand Robert Macdonald, 1990 A reappraisal of the Maori in New Zealand as the country commemorates the

150th anniversary of the Treaty of Waitangi It outlines Maori history and the forces that have shaped their contemporary situation This Horrid Practice Paul Moon,2008-08-04 Though stronger evidence of this horrid practice prevailing among the inhabitants of this coast will scarcely be required we have still stronger to give Captain James Cook This Horrid Practice uncovers an unexplored taboo of New Zealand history the widespread practice of cannibalism in pre European Maori society Until now many historians have tried to avoid it and many Maori have considered it a subject best kept quiet about in public Paul Moon brings together an impressive array of sources from a variety of disciplines to produce this frequently contentious but always stimulating exploration of how and why Maori ate other human beings and why the practice shuddered to a halt just a few decades after the arrival of Europeans in New Zealand The book includes a comprehensive survey of cannibalism practices among traditional Maori carefully assessing the evidence and concluding it was widespread Other chapters look at how explorers and missionaries saw the practice the role of missionaries and Christianity in its end and in the final chapter why there has been so much denial on the subject and why some academics still deny that it ever happened This Horrid Practice promises to be one of the leading works of New Zealand history published in 2008 It is a highly original work that every New Zealand history enthusiast will want to own and read The Maori of New Zealand Robert Macdonald,1985

Museums and the Interpretation of Visual Culture Eilean Hooper-Greenhill,2020-11-25 This is a multi disciplinary study that adopts an innovative and original approach to a highly topical question that of meaning making in museums focusing its attention on pedagogy and visual culture This work explores such questions as How and why is it that museums select and arrange artefacts shape knowledge construct a view How do museums produce values How do active audiences make meaning from what they experience in museums This stimulating book provokes debate and discussion on these topics and puts forward the idea of a new museum the post museum which will challenge the familiar modernist museum A must for students and professionals in the field The Journal of the Polynesian Society Polynesian Society (N.Z.),1984 Vols for 1892 1941 contain the transactions and proceedings of the society With Compass, Chain & Courage Doris Gray-Woods,2009 A brilliant book rich in history about the beginnings of surveying in Australia and New Zealand It documents the difficulties dilemmas and changes in surveying throughout the 1800s through the story of two remarkable brothers James and Horatio Warner The New Zealand Official Year-book New Zealand. Department of Statistics,1988 Minority Rights Group Report ,1986 Historical & Political Dictionary of New Zealand Keith Jackson,Alan McRobie,2008 This new retitled and expanded New Zealand edition is a substantially revised edition of the Historical Dictionary of New Zealand published in the United States in 2005 It describes the many changes of the past decade while building on the solid foundations of the earlier editions that examined the country s long and lively history It covers a wide range of topics from relations between the Pakeha and the Maori to the country s recent economic changes and environmental policies The introduction provides a good starting point and the chronology traces New Zealand s history from the earliest settlers to the present The dictionary includes hundreds of entries on important people places events and institutions as well as significant political economic social and cultural aspects and a bibliography for further reading The Farthest Corner Harry Morton,Carol Morton Johnston,1988 Exploring Maori Values John Patterson,1992 This book offers Pakeha New Zealanders an insight into M ori thought and values and the basis for the sort of understanding and partnership that should exist between Pakeha and Maori It also presents a new perspective from which long held Pakeha values can be reassessed John Patterson attempts as an investigative philosopher to come to grips with personal embedded limitations that inform any look into one world view from the perspective of another He demonstrates a high degree of empathy with and respect for M ori and the book offers a practical model for engagement with this culture and for greater mutual understanding
