The Quest for Mark's Sources Thomas P. Nelligan,2015-07-07 The question of the relationship between the Gospel of Mark and letters of Paul has been ever present in New Testament scholarship but has never been fully explored This monograph seeks to probe further into this question through an examination of the literary relationship between sections of Mark and 1 Corinthians Nelligan explores the context of these texts in Greco Roman and Jewish literature adopting the view that New Testament authors use imitation with a sophisticated use of literary sources as a major technique in their composition He proposes a new set of criteria for judging literary dependence that builds upon and advances those already promoted by biblical scholars Sections of Mark and 1 Corinthians are then compared and analyzed including the Eucharist accounts given in both texts By analyzing and comparing sections of Mark and 1 Corinthians most notably the account of the Eucharist in both texts Nelligan argues Mark used 1 Corinthians as a literary source and that this was done using well established literary techniques used in the wider Greco Roman and Jewish literary world

Exploring the Spirituality of the Gospels Patrick J. Hartin,2011-05-01 Within each of the four gospels there is a foundational spirit a spirituality of the gospels That is to say each gospel contains rich images and values central to the Vision of the person of Jesus and to the path toward spiritual transformation in his image In this volume Patrick Hartin first looks at each gospel and asks such questions as Who is Jesus and What transformation does this encounter with Jesus invite Hartin then follows with examples of people who have appropriated the transformative power of these particular spiritualities from Saint Antony and

Dorothy Day to Saint Augustine and Archbishop Romero Hartin s twofold approach gives us a deeper appreciation for the spiritual dimension of the gospels and helps us to be transformed in Christ by their message and Vision      Mark Twain
