

Chapter 2: Methods of Studying Sociology

Components of a Scientific Theory

1. Concepts and Variables

- A concept is an abstract system
- Helps us to perceive a phenomenon in a particular way. These are tools that helps is to share meaning
- Degree or value of a concept is called variables. Ex.: Dollar (concept), level of income (variable)

2. Proposition and Hypotheses

- Proposition is a statement about the nature of some phenomena
- When the proposition is formulated in a way that can be tested, is called a hypothesis
- Ex: Students' hard work and their academic success
- Ex: Hours of study and GPA

- Operationalization: Measuring a concept or variable

- Think about a 10-point scale you see at the doctor's office
- Quantify the concept
- Makes an abstract variable measurable
- Observable
- Permits another researcher to replicate the study

Standards of Scientific Inquiry

1. Objectivity: Bias-free. I will do the research objectively
 2. Replication: Someone else can duplicate the study. The research should be replicable.
 3. Precision of measurement: The result should be precise, valid, and reliable.
- Does it mean that we cannot study abstract concepts, like pain/happiness?

Tourism and the Millennium Development Goals Jarkko Saarinen, Christian M. Rogerson, Haretsebe Manwa, 2013-10-31 In 2000 United Nations adopted the Millennium Development Goals UN MDGs committing the member nations to a new global partnership to reduce extreme poverty and setting out a series of specific targets with a deadline of 2015 Related to the UN MDGs tourism is increasingly seen as a promising tool for poverty reduction ensuring environmental sustainability and developing a global partnership for development for example Thus the industry has become an important policy tool for community and regional development in many developing countries and the expectations for tourism and its social and economic outcomes have evolved to a high level However there are still many challenges to overcome in the relationship between tourism industry development and poverty reduction This book aims to discuss the promises challenges and outcomes of tourism in development with a specific aim of drawing together research related to tourism and UN MDGs The papers discuss what lessons can be learnt and conclusions drawn from the utilisation of tourism for development and poverty reduction What emerges from this collection is a set of interesting results and notions which both support and challenge the connections between tourism and development and the new role of tourism in global development This book is an extended version of a special issue published in Current Issues in Tourism Social Network Analysis Christina Prell, 2011-10-26

Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, 2002 The Critical Turn in Tourism Studies

Irena Ateljevic, Annette Pritchard, Nigel Morgan, 2007-03-15 New approaches to tourism study demonstrate a notable critical turn a shift in thought that emphasises interpretative and critical modes of tourism inquiry The chapters in this volume reflect this emerging critical school of tourism studies and represent a coordinated effort of tourism scholars whose work engages innovative research methodologies Since such work has been dispersed across a variety of tourism related and other research fields this book responds to a pressing need to consolidate recent advances in a single text Adopting a broad definition of criticality the contributors seek to find fresh ways of theorising tourism by locating the phenomenon in its wider political economic cultural and social contexts The collection addresses the power relations underpinning the production of academic knowledge presents a range of qualitative data collection methods which confront the field's dominant post positivist approaches foregrounds the emotional dynamics of research relations and explores the personal the political and the situated nature of research journeys The book has been divided into two parts with the essays in the first part establishing a context specific framework for engaging philosophical and theoretical debates in contemporary tourism enquiry The second set of essays then present discuss and critique specific methodologies research techniques methods of interpretation and writing strategies all of which are in some sense illustrative of critical tourism research Contributors range from postgraduate students to established academics and are drawn from both the geopolitical margins and the powerbases of the tourism academy Their various relationships with the English speaking academy thus range from relative outsider to well positioned insider and as a result their essays are reflective of a range of locations within the complexly spun web of academic power relations and social divisions
