Software Evolution And Reuse:

Experiences in Software Evolution and Reuse Svein Hallsteinsen, Maddali Paci, 2012-12-06 Implementing systematic reuse is risky not doing it is even more risky Trying systematic reuse unsuccessfully can cost precious time and resources and may make management sceptical of trying it again But if your competitors do it successfully and you do not you may lose market share and possibly an entire market W B Frakes and S Isoda 1994 Software companies today are faced with new and more challenging market pressures In response to this challenge they have to reduce the time to market with new or enhanced products increase the diversity of products available to the customers and enhance the standardisation and interoperability of the products At the same time many companies carry the burden of large legacy systems that have become too expensive to maintain and cannot sustain the demands of the marketing department for alterations leading to business opportunities being lost BEN95 However the systems are very valuable and cannot be simply replaced because of the costs that such an operation entails Simply replacing them may be too expensive because of the huge volumes of on line data that must be converted among other reasons experience the generalization and tailoring of experience the formalization of experience and the re use of experience

High Confidence Software Reuse in Large Systems Hong Mei, 2008-07-29 Software reuse depicts a great vision for the software industry It has been widely viewed as a promising way to improve both the productivity and quality of software development However despite of the successes we have achieved there are still many issues that have limited the promotion of software reuse in the real world Therefore software reuse has remained an important hotspot of research ICSR is the premier international conference in the field of software reuse It has been an important venue for presenting advances and improvements within the software reuse domain and a powerful driving force in promoting the interaction between researchers and practitioners The theme of ICSR 10 was High Confidence Software Reuse in Large Systems A high confidence system is one that behaves in a well understood and predictable fashion Today's trends towards widespread use of commercial off the shelf COTS technology increased integration continuous evolution and larger scale are yielding more complex software systems So the problem of how to build high confidence complex systems and how to reuse software with a high level of confidence has become a new attractive topic for research Furthermore high level software asset reuse has been a goal for the last 20 30 years and it can still be considered an unsolved question Components based development MDA MDE MDD extreme programming and other techniques or methods are promising approaches to software reuse that still need more research These proceedings report on the current state of the art in software reuse
