archaic world picture of a flat earth with the cupola of the celestial vault onto which the celestial bodies are attached One of the subjects treated in that context is the riddle of the tilted celestial axis This part also contains an extensive chapter on archaic astronomical instruments Part Two shows how Anaximander 610 547 B C blew up this archaic world picture and replaced it by a new one that is essentially still ours He taught that the celestial bodies orbit at different distances and that the earth floats unsupported in space This makes him the founding father of cosmology Part Three discusses topics that completed the new picture described by Anaximander Special attention is paid to the confrontation between Anaxagoras and Aristotle on the question whether the earth is flat or spherical and on the battle between Aristotle and Heraclides Ponticus on the question whether the universe is finite or infinite

Total Solar Eclipses and How to Observe Them Martin Mobberley, 2007-08-03 To children the world is full of magical events and the line between make believe and reality is happily distinctly blurred However as we all age and have to be realistic earn money become serious and responsible adults yawn and accept that life is short and no one is immortal those magical events fade and die We accept that the worlds of make believe are simply a product of the vivid imaginations of great story tellers and that we are all very similar human beings just slipping away at the tedious day job and hoping for a win on the lottery However there are still a few events which are truly magical and for me total solar eclipses TSEs are about as magical an event as you can ever experience Our Earth and Sun are by a ludicrously lucky coincidence or some would argue by a cosmic architect almost the same apparent size in the sky Thus seventy times a century the Moon's shadow passes over a narrow band on the Earth's surface and for those on the track with clear skies a truly awe inspiring sight can be seen But be warned eclipse chasing is an addictive drug Once you have seen totality you will crave more of the same The sight of an eclipsed Sun is the stuff of science fiction but for the cost of a plane ticket or an organized holiday it can be yours albeit for a few fleeting minutes
