Whetten, 1976 Political Economy of Soviet Military Power Leo Cooper, 1989-06-18 A study of the political economy of Soviet military power examining Soviet Russian ideology and tradition theory and practice of the military doctrine the domestic aspect and new economic realism technology and efficiency and Perestroika and Glasnost from 1985 1987 Dedovshchina in the Post-Soviet Military. Hazing of Russian Army Conscripts in a Comparative Perspective Françoise Daucé, Elisabeth Sieca-Kozłowski, 2012-02-13 In contemporary armies violence among soldiers seems to be a universal phenomenon found in both professional and drafted armies However the comparison of violent practices in various armies around the world allows us to identify specific features linked to those countries sociological political or anthropological contexts Hazing for example seems to be more violent in the armies of transitional societies Russia Eastern Europe Latin America where social tensions encountered by citizens in their daily lives are carried over to and sometimes intensified in the military The comparison of Russian dedovshchina with the situation in other countries makes it possible to identify universal transitional and national characteristics of military violence Contents Konstantin Bannikov on the consequences of the spread throughout society of archaic violence produced by the Russian army Anna Colin Lebedev on the perception of military violence in Russian society Anton Oleynik on informal relationships among prisoners and conscripts Kirill Podrabinek on the reasons of the prevalence of dedovshchina in the post Soviet context Igor Obraztsov on the historical roots of dedovshchina Vadim Mikhailin on the role of language in the military milieu Julie Elkner on the Committee of Soldiers Mothers Bakit Katchekekeyev on hazing in the Kyrgyz army Irakli Sesiashevili on hazing in the Georgian army Hana Cervinkova on hazing in the Czech army James Wither on bullying in the British army Eduardo Paes Machado Joris Van Bladel on dedovshchina and the all volunteer force Soviet Military Power and Performance John Erikson, Edgar Feuchtwanger, 1979-06-17 The Diffusion of Military Power Michael C. Horowitz, 2010-07-01 The Diffusion of Military Power examines how the financial and organizational challenges of adopting new methods of fighting wars can influence the international balance of power Michael Horowitz argues that a state or actor wishing to adopt a military innovation must possess both the financial resources to buy or build the technology and the internal organizational capacity to accommodate any necessary changes in recruiting training or operations How countries react to new innovations and to other actors that do or don't adopt them has profound implications for the global order and the likelihood of war Horowitz looks at some of the most important military innovations throughout history including the advent of the all big gun steel battleship the development of aircraft carriers and nuclear weapons and the use of suicide terror by nonstate actors He shows how expensive innovations can favor wealthier more powerful countries but also how those same states often stumble when facing organizationally complicated innovations Innovations requiring major upheavals in doctrine and organization can disadvantage the wealthiest states due to their bureaucratic inflexibility and weight the balance of power toward smaller and more nimble actors making conflict more likely This book provides vital insights into military innovations and their impact on U S foreign policy warfare and the distribution of power in the international system

The Evolution Of U.s. Army Nuclear Doctrine, 1945-1980 John P Rose,2019-07-09 The development of U S Army nuclear doctrine policies plans procedures tactics and techniques since World War II its impact on Army forces and its role in future wars is the subject of this policy oriented analysis The definition of Army nuclear doctrine advanced by the author clearly implies a distinction between policy for the employment of nuclear weapons as determined by the president and the role adduced by the Army Dr Rose suggests that developments both nuclear and conventional in U S Army tactical doctrine have been more responsive to political preferences held by national authorities than to the real nature of the potential threat and rigors of the nuclear battlefield Further he argues that the type of war preparations favored by U S political authorities over the last fifteen years and the type of war for which the Soviet Union is preparing differ markedly making the U S Army poorly prepared for a major war
