"Irony, Satire, Parody and the Grotesque in the Music of Shostakovich " Esti Sheinberg, 2017-07-05 The music of Shostakovich has been at the centre of interest of both the general public and dedicated scholars throughout the last twenty years Most of the relevant literature however is of a biographical nature The focus of this book is musical irony It offers new methodologies for the semiotic analysis of music and inspects the ironical messages in Shostakovich s music independently of political and biographical bias Its approach to music is interdisciplinary comparing musical devices with the artistic principles and literary analyses of satire irony parody and the grotesque Each one of these is firstly inspected and defined as a separate subject independent of music The results of these inspections are subsequently applied to music firstly music in general and then more specifically to the music of Shostakovich The composer s cultural and historical milieu are taken into account and where relevant inspected and analysed separately before their application to the music The Seagull Anatoly

Cuba under Castro in an attempt to better understand the origins and development of the new man The book's fundamental concerns are how these communist revolutions strove to create a new morally and psychologically superior human being and how this task paralleled efforts to create a superior society To these ends it addresses a number of questions What are the intellectual roots of the new man concept How was this idealistic and utopian goal linked to specific political and economic programs How do the policies of these particular regimes based as they are on universal communist ideology reflect national and cultural traditions Cheng begins by exploring the origins of the idea of human perfectibility during the Enlightenment His discussion moves to other European intellectual movements and then to the creation of the Soviet Man the first communist new man in world history Subsequent chapters examine China's experiment with human nature starting with the nationalistic debate about a new national character at the turn of the twentieth century and Cuban perceptions of the new man and his role in propelling the revolution from a nationalist to a socialist and finally a communist movement The last chapter considers the global influence of the Soviet Chinese and Cuban experiments Creating the New Man contributes greatly to our understanding of how three very different countries and their leaders carried out problematic and controversial visions and programs It will be of special interest to students and scholars of world history and intellectual social and revolutionary history and also development studies and philosophy

Enduring the Revolution Charles J. Alber, 2001-12-30 An anarchist by temperament the beautiful and talented Ding Ling attempted to find her way in the world alone She had a few female friends and a few significant male others but she rebelled against her family Most importantly she rebelled against the Chinese Communist Party to which she desperately hoped to belong The first part of a comprehensive biography of the major 20th century Chinese author Ding Ling this work draws not only on her memoirs

but on numerous secondary sources many of which have become available only in the last two decades Though born into a wealthy family Jiang Bingzi was raised by her mother after the untimely death of her father She went to school in the May 4 era when protest was in the air the radical ideas of Mao were already in print and her idol Lu Xun was making his literary mark In her late teens she renounced her engagement changed her name and fled to Shanghai where she embraced the anarchist movement The loss of her brother and lifelong friend Wang Jianhong and the loss of her significant other Hu Yepin all threw her into various states of depression not to mention her own abduction by the Guomindang Nevertheless Ding Ling wrote her way out of despair and into the public limelight Her first collection of short stories In the Darkness made her famous because of its profound grasp of feminine psychology and its daring treatment of human sexuality But when Ding Ling attempted to dispel the darkness in Yan an she like everyone else was told by Mao in his famous Talks to focus on the light Ding Ling made all the necessary adjustments literary and political She survived the rectification campaign and mastered proletarian fiction Mao loved her novel The Sun Shines on the Sanggan so much that he ranked her third among contemporaries Soon she was traveling to Eastern Europe and to Moscow where she consulted with Soviet notables With the founding of the People's Republic it appeared her star was on the rise This study of Ding Ling and China's literary environment in the first half of the 20th century will be useful to scholars and students of contemporary Chinese history literature and women's studies

Witnesses to Interwar Subcarpathian Rus' Patricia A. Krafcik, 2024-06-10 In the midst of a contentious atmosphere of the interwar period the far eastern province of Subcarpathian Rus attracted the personal curiosity and professional attention of Russian ethnographer and theoretician Petr Bogatyrev and Czech journalist writer Ivan Olbracht Both traveled extensively in the region and immersed themselves deeply in the life and culture of the local residents Carpatho Rusyns and Hasidic Jews Witnesses to Interwar Subcarpathian Rus: The Sojourns of Petr Bogatyrev and Ivan Olbracht explores for the first time in English the legacy they bequeathed in their respective work Bogatyrev as an apolitical ethnographic collector and theoretician and Olbracht as a passionately committed Communist whose reports and brilliant stories from the region including Nikola uhaj Brigand and The Sorrowful Eyes of Hannah Karadjic capture a glimpse of a world destined to change radically as a result of the ravages of war

How Life Writes the Book Thomas Lahusen, 2019-05-15 A gripping unsettling and highly original book that turns the making of a Soviet socialist realist classic Azhaev's Far from Moscow into a detective story and sheds as strange and ambiguous a light on the Stalin era from gulag to Writers Union as one could hope for Lahusen is a disarmingly low key scholarly virtuoso who performs simultaneously as an archive based historian an interpreter of texts including Azhaev's own self organized archive and a gently relentless biographer whose stalking of his prey is reminiscent of Nabokov The final chilling paragraph typically economical and understated is a reminder that the author investigator too is a collaborator in the multiple reworkings of Azhaev's text and of his life that How Life Writes the Book has so finely analyzed Sheila Fitzpatrick University of Chicago This is a wonderfully original work a history of a book a literary analysis of an age a montage of a life Lahusen writes with a postmodern sensibility but without the postmodernist jargon Yuri Slezkine University of California Berkeley Thomas Lahusen has written an imaginative and archivally grounded book that presents the most fascinating picture to date of the literary process that produced canonical works of Socialist Realism and the people who wrote them How Life Writes the Book is alternately chilling and funny as it demonstrates the interpenetration of literary institutions massive construction projects and the Soviet system of prison camps and slave labor With this study as with his earlier Intimacy and Terror Lahusen continues his own project of revolutionizing our understanding of the Soviet subject and Soviet subjectivity Eric Naiman University of California Berkeley Lahusen's case study marks a new genre of inquiry into the very nature of socialist realism a genre which became possible after archives and memory in Russia regained their voice It shows how life is transformed into Soviet myth Hans G nther editor of The Culture of the Stalin Period Russia and Eastern Europe, 1789-1985 Raymond Pearson, 1989

Russian Poet/Soviet Jew Maxim Shrayer, 2000 Based in part on archival materials Russian Poet Soviet Jew examines the short and brilliant career of Eduard Bagritskii 1895 1934 a major Russian poet of Jewish origin Shrayer provides a short biography an examination of the problems of Jewish identity and Jewish self hatred and interviews with contemporary leaders of Russian ultra nationalism to explore Bagritskii's Russian Jewish dual identity The book also includes the first English language translations of Bagritskii's major works along with rare archival photographs documenting the trajectory of his life and career America Through Russian Eyes, 1874-1926 Olga Peters Hasty, Susanne Fusso, Susanne Grace Fusso, 1988-01-01 Gathers travel accounts by Russian writers visiting the U S around the turn of the century and offers background information on each other
