Soviet Union The Muslim World:

The Soviet Union and the Muslim World Ivar Spector,1958 The Soviet Union and the Muslim World Ivar Spector,1967 Moscow and the Middle East Robert Owen Freedman,1991-01-25 Professor Freedman provides an exhaustive account of Soviet policy in the Middle East from the invasion of Afghanistan in December 1979 to withdrawal from the country ten years later The Soviet Union Paul Dibb,1988-07-28 Now updated to the Gorbachev era this book is an examination of the state of the Soviet Union today One of its main aims is to highlight the weaknesses of this faltering empire

Islamic Peoples Of The Soviet Union Shirin Akiner,2013-09-05 First published in 1987 The aim of this historical and statistical handbook is to answer three basic questions about the Islamic peoples of the USSR who they are where they are and how many of them there are It is convenient to speak of them as Soviet Muslims grouping them all together under a single collective heading but they are in fact quite disparate For this reason it was decided to treat each ethnic group individually here Soviet Union Paul Dibb,1986-06-18 The Soviet Union and Egypt, 1945-1955 Rami Ginat,2022-12-28 The Soviet Union and Egypt first published in 1993 sheds new light on Soviet policy towards the Middle East after 1945 It seeks to uncover and analyse the events leading to the eventual domination of Egypt and other Arab countries by the Soviet Union Soviet penetration into the region can only be understood by tracing the roots and motives of Soviet policy after the Second World War The strengthening of Soviet influence resulted from a process of gradual political and ideological development in Egypt Special attention is drawn to domestic and foreign developments in both countries and the book makes extensive use of recently declassified documents and primary sources Studying Islam in the Soviet Union Michael Kemper,2009 Annotation Our image of Islam in the Soviet Union has changed a lot in the last three decades During the Cold War period Western observers were mainly driven by the question whether Islam and above all the Sufi brotherhoods with their male disciples could become a political and military threat to Moscow s rule in Central Asia and the Caucasus Russian scholars by contrast regarded Sufism as a threat because the Sufi shrines attracted a mainly female audience these women would transmit the superstitions of Islam to their children and contribute to the dominance of Muslim traditionalism a kind of Soviet subculture that seemed to be resistant against atheist education As shown in the lecture Western and Soviet researchers made the same methodological mistakes and today we often repeat these mistakes when stereotyping Islamic fundamentalism This title can be previewed in Google Books <http://books.google.com/books/vdISBN9789056295653> The Islamic Threat to the Soviet State (Routledge Revivals) Alexandre Bennigsen,Marie Broxup,2014-06-03 First published in 1983 this book traces the historical and cultural development of the Soviet Muslim population Going back to the Mongol Empire and the Russian conquest of Muslim lands under the Tsars it demonstrates how the present Soviet Islamic culture has emerged It also examines how Soviet Muslims interact with the Muslim world abroad and how Soviet Muftis have been used as ambassadors of the USSR in Muslim countries Radical Islam in the Former Soviet Union Galina M. Yemelianova, 2009-12-16 This is the first comprehensive and comparative examination of Islamic radicalisation in the Muslim regions of the former Soviet Union since the end of Communism. Since the 1990s the ex-Soviet Muslim Volga, Urals, Caucasus and Central Asia have been among the most volatile and dynamic zones of Islamic radicalisation in the Islamic East. Although partially driven by a wider Islamic resurgence which began in the late 1970s in the Middle East, the book argues that radicalisation is a post-Soviet phenomenon triggered by the collapse of Communism and the break up of the de facto unitary Soviet empire. The book considers the considerable differences in perceptions and manifestations of radical Islam in the republics as well as the level of its doctrinal and political impact. It demonstrates how the particular histories of the regions' Muslim peoples, especially the length and depth of their Islamisation, have influenced the nature and scope of their radicalisation. Other significant factors include the mobilising power of the global jihadist network and most significantly the level of social and economic hardship. Based on extensive empirical research including interviews with leading members of the political and religious elite, the Islamist opposition as well as ordinary Muslims, the book reveals how unofficial radical Islam has turned into a potent ideology of social mobilisation. It identifies the different dynamics at work and how these relate to each other, assesses the level of foreign involvement and evaluates the implications of the rise of Islamic radicalism for particular post-Soviet states, post-Soviet Eurasia and the wider international community.

The USSR and the Muslim World Yaacov Ro'i, 2015-07-16 The large and rapidly increasing Muslim population of the USSR put an immense strain on the Soviet political system dominated as it is by Russians. The problems were not confined to internal tensions between ethnic groups but extend also to relations with neighbouring Muslim states as the invasion of Afghanistan graphically illustrated. This volume, first published in 1984, addresses this field of unique importance. Topics covered encompass the living standards of the Soviet Muslim population, the religious revival, relations with the Arab world, the Soviet experience of guerrilla warfare in Afghanistan and many more. In short, it provides coverage of the sociological, political, cultural, economic, ideological and international dimensions of Soviet Muslim relations. Domestic Determinants of Soviet Foreign Policy towards South Asia and the Middle East Hafeez Malik, 1990-06-18 A collective endeavour of scholars highlighting some of the significant domestic determinants of Soviet foreign policy. There is a general consensus that policy makers are influenced by Islam, the Soviet Central Asian nationalities, oil and geography. The Islamic Threat to the Soviet State (Routledge Revivals) Alexandre Bennigsen, Marie Broxup, 2014-06-03 First published in 1983, this book traces the historical and cultural development of the Soviet Muslim population. Going back to the Mongol Empire and the Russian conquest of Muslim lands under the Tsars, it demonstrates how the present Soviet Islamic culture has emerged. It also examines how Soviet Muslims interact with the Muslim world abroad and how Soviet Muftis have been used as ambassadors of the USSR in Muslim countries.

Islamic Education in the Soviet Union and Its Successor States Michael Kemper, Raoul Motika, 2009-09-11 This book provides a comparative history of Islamic education in the Soviet Union and the post Soviet countries Case studies on Ukraine Azerbaijan Kazakhstan Uzbekistan and Tajikistan and on two regions of the Russian Federation Tatarstan and Daghestan highlight the importance which Muslim communities in all parts of the Soviet Union attached to their formal and informal institutions of Islamic instruction New light is shed on the continuity of pre revolutionary educational traditions including Jadidist ethics and teaching methods throughout the New Economic Policy period 1921 1928 on Muslim efforts to maintain their religious schools under Stalinist repression and on the complete institutional breakdown of the Islamic educational sector by the late 1930s A second focus of the book is on the remarkable boom of Islamic education in the post Soviet republics after 1991 Contrary to general assumptions on the overwhelming influence of foreign missionary activities on this revival this study stresses the primary role of the Soviet Islamic institutions which were developed during and after the Second World War and of the persisting regional and even international networks of Islamic teachers and muftis Throughout the book special attention is paid to the specific regional traditions of Islamic learning and to the teachers affiliations with Islamic legal schools and Sufi brotherhoods The book thus testifies to the astounding dynamics of Islamic education under rapidly changing and oftentimes extremely harsh political conditions

The Dark Side of the Crescent Moon Georgy Gounev, 2014-09-08 The Dark Side of the Crescent Moon constitutes a historical and political analysis of the growth of radical Islam throughout the world It shows how the spread of radical Islam in Europe drove the United States and Russia to become allies of necessity in order to confront a shared danger Georgy Gounev provides readers with a detailed assessment of the people countries and global movements that factor into Islam's mounting threat From the evolution and history of radical Islam to the role of the United

Malik, 2000-07-14 This is a collective endeavour to highlight the role of Islam in the emerging pattern of relations between Russia and the United States It highlights particularly the role that the two autonomous republics within the Russian Federation Tatarstan and Bashkortostan play in Eurasia Some analysts have described them as the soft underbelly of the Russian Federation Future trends are also indicated which delineate the dilemmas of the Russian state for its territorial integrity and national self determination of Tatarstan and Bashkortostan within the Russian Federation This book also analyses Russian US relations with Turkey Iran Afghanistan and Pakistan These states indeed play according to these analyses a crucial role in Eurasia and also compete against each other
