Dress Cultures in Zambia Karen Tranberg Hansen, 2023-04-27 Drawing on half a century of research in Zambia and regional scholarship Karen Tranberg Hansen offers a vibrant history of changing dress practices from the late colonial period to the present day Exploring how the dressed body serves as the point of contact between personal local and global experiences she argues that dress is just as central to political power as it is to personal style Questioning the idea that the West led fashion trends elsewhere Hansen demonstrates how local dress conventions appropriated western dress influences as Zambian and shows how Zambia contributed to global fashions such as the colourful Chitenge fabric that spread across colonial trading networks Brought to life with colour illustrations and personal anecdotes this book spotlights dress not only as an important medium through which Zambian identities are negotiated but also as a key reflector and driver of history

Winning Our Freedoms Together Nicholas Grant, 2017-10-18 In this transnational account of black protest Nicholas Grant examines how African Americans engaged with supported and were inspired by the South African anti apartheid movement Bringing black activism into conversation with the foreign policy of both the U S and South African governments this study questions the dominant perception that U S centered anticommunism decimated black international activism Instead by tracing the considerable amount of time money and effort the state invested into responding to black international criticism Grant outlines the extent to which the U S and South African governments were forced to reshape and occasionally reconsider their racial policies in the Cold War world This study shows how African Americans and black South Africans navigated transnationally organized state repression in ways that challenged white supremacy on both sides of the Atlantic The political and cultural ties that they forged during the 1940s and 1950s are testament to the insistence of black activists in both countries that the struggle against apartheid and Jim Crow were intimately interconnected

Sounds and the City Brett Lashua, Stephen Wagg, Karl Spracklen, M. Selim Yavuz, 2018-10-24 This book draws from a rich history of scholarship about the relations between music and cities and the global flows between music and urban experience The contributions in this collection comment on the global city as a nexus of moving people changing places and shifting social relations asking what popular music can tell us about cities and vice versa Since the publication of the first Sounds and the City volume various movements changes and shifts have amplified debates about globalization From the waves of people migrating to Europe from the Syrian civil war and other conflict zones to the 2016 Brexit vote to leave the European Union and American presidential election of Donald Trump These and other events appear to have exposed an anti globalist retreat toward isolationism and a backlash against multiculturalism that has been termed post globalization Amidst this what of popular music Does music offer renewed spaces and avenues for public protest for collective action and resistance What can the diverse histories hybridities and legacies of popular music tell us about the ever changing relations of people and cities

Inyathi Ibuzwa Kwabaphambili Babalwa Magoqwana, Siphokazi Magadla, Athambile Masola, 2024-10-21 This book seeks to create a systematic eclectic historical picture of the present and past women intellectuals activists artists and cultural custodians Using the concept of ukufukama incubate we connect intergenerational knowledge transfer of our elders to the current struggles faced by the younger generation of women We bring together different authors who engage the biographical and intellectual contributions of different African women and their imagination of the democratic South Africa Writing about the various feminist intellectual traditions between the 19th and 21st centuries this book systematically pulls together oral and creative texts to recover the memories of Nosuthu Jotelo Sarah Baartman Nontsizi Mqgwetho Phyllis Ntantala Brigalia Bam Umntwana uMagogo Miriam Makeba Sibongile Khumalo Lebo Mathosa Thandiswa Mazwai Celeste Ntuli Nkosazana Dlamini Zuma Neo Mathabe among the lives and works covered here This range of voices shows that intellectual work is varied and has the ability to sit alongside each other It importantly shows that scholarship emerges through community and conversation which is to say feminist histories are created and recreated through conversations that care about women s voices stories and being in the world Ultimately we think of the women featured in this book as forming a lineage a tradition of black women s survival wisdom which facilitated change and enduring radical transformation that demands theorisation and celebration
